THROUGH MY WINDOW

READ AND PLEASE THINK

All of us, who love the out-of-doors, lost a true friend last month with the untimely death of Rachel Carson. She was a many-talented woman.

A gifted writer, she gave us such beautiful books as "The Sea Around Us," and she was also a competent, highly-respected scientist.

After four years of research, she wrote "Silent Spring" — since 1952 over 500,000 copies have been sold.

The book focused national attention on this mis-management, the mis-use, the contamination of our environment.

Now that all types of yard and garden pesticides are being readied for action, perhaps we should take a closer look at Miss Carson's book. First of all, don't be afraid of it.

Although her theme is the disastrous results of the continuing and indiscriminate use of insecticides and herbicides, she doe not write over the average layman's head. In fact, her sole purpose is to alert us to the danger of our actions.

THE BOOK is not a blanket indictment condemning all chemicals — that, of course, would be foolhardy because they play an important part in today's life.

The sad fact is, however, that in our frantic haste to eliminate or control, we are rushing into crash programs with absolutely no idea at all of what their true end results will be.

For example, right here in Michigan, there was the Japanese Beetle incident. The alarm was sounded, we were soon to be over-run by the pests and so in rushed the state with aid.

Aerial spraying was the "only" solution and because the budget was in strained circumstances a cheap poison was used. Unfortunately, Aldrin is also one of the deadliest.

The tragic results of this pell mell dash to do something is told on pages 87 to 91. It even turns out that Aldrin is decidedly not the most effective method of control and, in the long run, it probably isn't even the cheapest.

☆

IN THE Eastern States, where the Japanese Beetle posed a menace, they have found natural controls very successful. A parasitic wasp from the Orient, and a bacterial disease which works on the grub — these are but two, there are many others listed on pages 96 to 99.

The book also contains many well-grounded warnings about the careless use of such common things as DDT and Malathion. It is so easy to forget that these products, which are handled every day by the home gardener, can be extremely dangerous and should be used with extreme care and caution.

But I have neither the time nor space for a detailed discussion of "Silent Spring." It is available at the local library and I only wish it could be required reading for everyone.

A quick glance at a few chapter titles gives an insight into the book's contents. "A Fable for Tomorrow," a not too far-fetched account of what results continued mismanagement of our environment can produce.

A few other headings, which are self-explanatory — "Surface Waters and Underground Seas." "And No Birds Sing," "Indiscriminately From The Skies." "The Human Price" and "Nature Fights Back."

☆

THERE IS also an interesting explanation of why the almost limitless use of poisons is backfiring. Instead of eradicating pests, such as flies and mosquitoes, they are now more numerous than ever and almost immune to our present insecticides.

There is also the account of the county which sprayed its roadsides to kill the ragweed only to wake up the next year to find it had more ragweed than ever.

But the book does end on a note of hope. There are biological ways of controlling noxious weeds and insects without destroying that which is beneficial, too.

Rachel Carson's final plea is for us to wake up and start safeguarding ourselves.

We drove 3,243 miles to make a point about our Super Turbine transmission

You can do it on the way to the grocery store

Would we drive a Buick with a Super Turbine transmission* all the way from Pasadena to New York City just to win Class C in the Mobil Economy Run?

Of course. And just in case anyone failed to get the message, we did it twice again. And won Class D and Class G. Inall, Buick entered 4 classes, and won 3—more than any other make of car. (Remember when people used to think Buicks used a lot of gas?) Did we make our point about the Super Turbine transmission? You bet.

Obviously you aren't planning to drive 3,243 miles to prove your new Buick is economical. And you can't expect to get as many miles per gallon as the experts in the Economy Run. Still, it is nice to know you can win the economy run around town. And the good looks prize at the same time. See your Buick dealer about it. No doubt he'll think of a number of other reasons to drive a Buick.

Queen Cindy Werth and King Charles Roumell Reign at Clinton J-Hop

CLINTON — Friday evening at the Clinton High School, 200 guests attended the annual J-Hop. The dance theme "Three Coins In A Fountain", was a classical Italian theme.

Entering through a simulated wine cellar, guests were seated under a red and white canopy at tables covered with red-checkered tablecloths and lighted by candles held by colored wax-covered bottles.

Sidewalks leading to the flower-banked fountain with bubbles wafted into the air.

Painted murals of scenic mountains provided the background. The theme was in gold Roman letters on the stage curtains.

Marv Osburn's orchestra of Ypsilanti played in a garden setting in the center of the dance floor, featuring a ceiling of balloons.

Cindy Werth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hadley Werth, and Charles Roumell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Roumell, were crowned queen and king by Richard Wegner.

In Michigan... after a swim, beer is a natural
On a hot summer day, a dip in a cool stream can be wonderfully refreshing. Equally refreshing when you're relaxing afterwards with friends is a hearty glass of beer. There's hardly another beverage around that suits what you do for fun as much as beer. Camping, hiking, or just lounging on a lawn chair—beer brings to each just the right touch of extra good living.
Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.
In Michigan...beer goes with fun, with relaxation

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

When the FBI cracks a big case, J. Edgar Hoover doesn't go around telling all the fine details of how it was done.

So it is with the Consumers Power Industrial Development team, which is closing one case after another these days — and not talking.

Consumers' Horace L. Brewer was in town Tuesday evening as speaker at Rotary's Michigan Week gathering, which had Exchange and Kiwanis members as guests.

Everyone figured Mr. Brewer was going to unwrap the secrecy that shrouded the details of General Motors selecting Tecumseh for a new Fisher Body plant.

Consumers Industrial Development played a key role in the selection of our town, pointing out all sorts of possibilities, with GM brass making the final decision.

Well, like J. Edgar Hoover, Horace wasn't talking. At least, not about the GM deal.

A friendly, soft-spoken fellow with a deep tan, Horace was delighted to tell about the tremendous assets of our state and tick off the many benefits we can look for in the future.

But he stealthfully side-stepped getting down to hard-core facts on Fisher Body.

There's an excellent reason. The Consumers fellows have won the confidence of industrial concerns the length and breadth of the nation. Their knowledge about business competitors probably could shake commerce around these precincts for years to come — if they ever started talking.

They haven't yet, don't intend to and for this we can all be thankful, because when it comes to cases, we all, as Michigan residents, have a stake in the future and we don't want the boat rocked.

Horace would say that GM looked at more than 25 sites, and that officials of the giant auto manufacturer dubbed Tecumseh as a "clean-looking community."

He noted that 15,000 organized development units, representing every state, are actively trying to lure industries to settle within their boundaries.

Foreign nations are also getting into the act with southern Italy making pitches to American firms via commerce publications distributed in the States.

If his Tecumseh audience thought Horace might let slip some top secret information, they were out of luck.

When the Consumers president and board chairman try to pry loose choice details that Horace and his team are working on, they get a smile and a cheery, "sorry, that's restricted" look.

The speaker said the future is star-studded with "no limits on the desire of United States people for goods."

This will mean more and more industries settling and expanding in the Water Wonderland.

What better news could there be during Michigan Week?

Sharp Curve in Rogers Hwy. Being Eliminated

Preliminary action to upgrade Rogers Hwy. within the city limits was started by Council Monday night.

City Manager Cal Zorn was authorized to buy two and one-half acres of land from James Beardsley, city attorney.

The acquired land will allow the city to eliminate the sharp curve just south of E. Chicago Blvd. at the Robert Bonner residence.

Proposed sale is for $1,200.

Jackson Builder Hopes to Construct Eight Apartments

Paul Clauda, owner of Clauda Plumbing and Heating, requested Council to change the zoning on a pargel of land just west of the 400 block on N. Evans St.

Proposed zoning would switch the section from Residential B to Multiple Family. A public hearing was scheduled for June 15.

If the zoning is approved, the land will probably be sold to Frank Rickter of Jackson for construction of eight apartments along Evans Creek.

Items to be included in the check are brakes, front and rear lights, steering, tires, exhaust system, glass, windshield wipers, rear view mirror, horn and seat belts.

Safety Check lane will be open in the first block on S. Pearl St. for two hours after the parade. Friday and Saturday hours will be from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

A program will be held at the reviewing stand immediately following the parade.

51 Meters 'Get Sack'

A step towards providing some free off-street parking was taken Monday night when Council authorized the bagging of 51 meters.

Pat Meadows, local bank president who has led a merchants' drive to retire meter revenue bonds and acquire free parking, sought the Council decision.

Some meters will be bagged in all four lots during a trial period.

Councilmen set the trial period to determine if the free parking greatly affected their revenue.

2 Plants May Have Adrian Telephones

Both Stauffer Chemical Co. and the new General Motors Fisher Body plant could land in the Adrian telephone exchange.

At present, the GM site and much of Stauffer's land is in the Tecumseh exchange.

Ronald Kinsman, Adrian district manager, said that a commercial survey was made last week in the Gady Rd.-Sutton Rd. area.

Approximately 20 customers, all now on the Tecumseh exchange, were asked if they wished to stay this way or switch to Adrian. Only one said he would prefer to be transferred into the Adrian exchange, Mr. Kinsman said.

In the case of Stauffer Chemical, he stated that officials of the new industry expressed a desire to have their phones in the Adrian exchange.

No contact has been made with Fisher Body as yet.

Mr. Kinsman pointed out that General Telephone will need to find the full requirements of General Motors before coming up with recommendations.

Tecumseh presently has no toll equipment, Mr. Kinsman said, all long distance calls from here through the Adrian office. Clinton, Britton and Tipton also must direct their toll calls through Adrian.

Any action in changing exchange boundries must be approved by the Michigan Public Services Commission.

Action by Nurses Helps Save Life of Infant Boy

Kept alive by mouth-to-mouth resusitation, the baby boy, Trenton Withrow is now doing well at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Withrow, Tecumseh-Clinton Rd.

Registered nurses Jane Peterson and Ethel Wellnitz, performed the emergency treatment when the baby's mother arrived at Herrick Memorial Hospital with the baby who had stopped breathing. The baby was ill with pneumonia.

They continued the artificial breathing until the resucitator was put into use.

The little boy and his sister, Trenda, were born at Bixby Hospital March 16. They weighed about seven pounds each at birth.

William Haselwood Named TP President

William E. Haselwood, 55, is the new president of Tecumseh Products Co.

He replaces Joseph E. Layton, who died suddenly of a heart attack May 2.

Official announcement of the new president — third in the history of the 30-year-old firm— was made at a dinner last week in Tecumseh Country Club by R. W. Herrick, chairman of the board.

Mr. Layton was president for 10 years, before that Mr. Herrick filled the role from the time the company was founded in 1934.

☆

MR. HASELWOOD has long been affiliated with Tecumseh Products, having been a corporate vice-president and general manager of the Taylor Products Division in Elkhart, Ind. at the time of his appointment.

A 1929 electrical engineering graduate of the University of Illinois, Mr. Haselwood spent 10 years with the Chicago Telephone Supply Co. as assistant chief engineer in charge of the development laboratory and mechanical products.

He joined Taylor Products in 1941, was a development engineer and also did sales work. In 1945, he was named a Taylor vice-president.

When Tecumseh Products purchased Taylor in 1956, Mr. Haselwood was named Works Manager of the division. He became a Tecumseh vice-president four years ago.

As Tecumseh president, he will be a member of the board.

MR. HASELWOOD and his wife, Ruth, plan to move here from Elkart in the future. They are parents of four children:

Few Decisions, Much Discussion at School Board

By JIM LINCOLN

Few decisions, but much discussion, dominated the Tecumseh School Board meeting Monday night.

The board approved an easement for the city to install a sanitary sewer across school property, providing the school could build over it, if necessary, in the future.

The board also approved a teacher's contract and voted to discontinue providing water to a home adjacent to the Macon school.

The old Macon school board approved the water service many years ago, but recently the house was sold with a new owner now occupying the dwelling.

A contract for Christine Lonski was approved. Graduating in June from Eastern Michigan University, Miss Lonski will teach English in the high school.

☆

DISCUSSION included:

► Possibility of employing three more elementary teachers to relieve the heavy classroom loads in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

► School hours for 1964-'65.

► Leasing or purchasing buses.

► Surplus of over $500,000 in the Lenawee County treasury and the report of the County Tax Allocation Board.

► Physical education in the grades.

Schools May Get $24,000 More

Although some doubt may remain until after the school's June 8 election, the Tecumseh schools apparently will be allowed differential millage and receive about $24,000.

The County Tax Allocation Board has approved differential millage for the local schools.

Milton Porter, county superintendent and member of the board, says the schools will receive it, whether voters approved or turn down changing the district from Class Four to Class Three on June 8.

Differential millage is allowed for the city since it does not pay a township tax. Since all townships are taking one mill for operation and the city is not, the mill not taken by the city is given to the schools.

It has no effect on the total tax paid by property owners.

Mrs. Hart Auxiliary President

Mrs. Neville Hart was elected president o fthe Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary May 12 in Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian Church.

Other officers elected were:

First vice-president — Mrs. James Osburn

Second vice-president — Mrs. Robert Laidlaw

Secretary — Mrs. William Adams

Treasurer — Mrs. Ray Sluyter

Assistant treasurer — Mrs. Harold Easton

Corresponding secretary — Mrs. Albert Caesar

Custodian — Mrs. Wilbur Andrews

Following the meeting, Mrs. Hart remarked, "It was gratifying to see such a good turn-out." About 25 were in attendance.

A special meeting when members will vote on the proposed changes to the constitution and by-laws will be held Tuesday, June 9.

Coffee and cookies were served by Mrs. Ralph Dabe and Mrs. John Pobuda.

Behind Page One

Rain ruined the artwork of Lynn Gomez and Tim Rinehart on the window of Tecumseh Recreation. This was part of art students' efforts to help promote Vehicle Safety Check. Wonder if anyone took a picture of the boys' drawings before they disappeared?

Judd Arnett of Free Press did a work of art himself, in telling of intense rivalry between Adrian and Tecumseh in Monday's column. Judd's words were high praise for both towns.

Elly Peterson is coming to Tecumseh Thursday. She's aiming for GOP nomination as candidate for United States senator.

The kids in River Acres lost a pal and playmate Saturday when "Daffy", springer spaniel belonging to Hugh Walters died of a heart attack. For the past 10 years the dog had spent many hours with the kids, always taking an active part in their games.

He's gone, says Hugh, but the memory of those happy days with "Daffy" will always be remembered — just ask any youngster in the block.

Mrs. Orville Bishop, Bill Holmes, Mrs. Gale Fisher and a lot of other folks said they were delighted with the Long & Short approach to the Adrian-Tecumseh industrial tug-o-war. Mrs. George Halberstadt thought it should be run again. Apparently, many people have been chafing under the bit for many weeks after reading stories in various dailies.

Over in Clinton, Editor Hollis H. Farley took off on a recent article in the Michigan Chamber of Commerce magazine, "Challenge," which talked about the state's largest Small Business Administration loan — $330,000 — which financed the Faraday deal here. "The article casually refers to the fact that the $30,000 was put up by a 'local bank'," said Mr. Farley. "It all depends how you define the word 'local'. But it would have been nice to have had the Clinton State Savings Bank receive credit for this action."

From the Lapeer County Press offering last week of columnist Anzio Jackson: "I had the turkey dinner for $1.25 and sat with a Baptist and some Congregationalists. They said the Episcopalians were great on turkey, but for a real feed you could get corned beef and cabbage at the Catholic Church in Tecumseh most any Thursday, and the Baptist sort of apologized for the quality of his church's last Swiss steak dinner, but everybody chimed in that it had been fine, just fine, even if there had been too many carrots in the gravy."

Wonder if he could mean our town?

Hunting for honey-hearted handymen! A redwood cover for a trash container for use in front of Herrick Memorial Hospital has been designed by LeRoy Betzoldt.

R. S. Moore and Son Lumber donated the materials to be used for the cover — NOW the committee is on the lookout for a gift of labor to build it.

The design is simple with straight lines.

Along with the other two donations, the gift of labor would be considered a significant financial contribution to the project and would be entered in the Landscaping memorial gift book.

Interested? Call Mrs. Neville Hart or Mrs. R. G. B. Marsh or other committee members.

Julie Parrish did a fine job in her lead role on the "Gun Smoke" show Saturday. Then, sort of as frosting on the cake, 10 minutes into the next program, Julie appeared in a hair spray commercial. She'll be returning to Tecumseh next week for a visit, if you'd like to get her autograph.

Gov. George Romney was going to be in Tecumseh Thursday for the Safety Check parade, spliced in between ground-breaking at Stauffer Chemical Co. and Adrian's party that evening. But the schedule was too tight and he couldn't add the stop in Tecumseh. However, Gov. Romney has been invited to be around for the General Motors turf turning in July.

Fig Newton Pup Wins Blue Ribbon

Assistant Tecumseh football coach Fig Newton is treading Cloud Nine.

His six-months-old Brittany "Brightfeather Penbrooke," captured blue ribbon honors in the setter female puppy class at the Ingham County Kennel Club show in Lansing Saturday.

Fig is being taught the art of dog handling by Paul Vollmer of Macon, one of the top men in the state.

TEEN TALK

By JANICE WHELAN

The main event at the May Art Club meeting was the election of new officers.

Ruth Niedermier was elected president.

Others chosen:

Vice-president — Tim Rhinehart,

Secretary — Diane McNicol,

Treasurer — Karen Creger,

Historian — Linda Greene.

It was decided that at the final meeting, May 29, a party would be held in honor of the seniors.

The Latin club met May 5, to elect new officers for next year.

President — Jerry Hale.
Vice-president — Jeff Long.
Scribe — Maryanne Allen.
Treasurer — Joe Poley.
Reporter — Debbi Purkey.

Refreshments were served consisting of Lemonade and cookies.

Student Council elections for president were held May 15.

On Wednesday, nominating speeches, seconding speeches, and acceptance speeches were given for and by each candidate in an assembly for next years junior, seniors and sophomores.

The two candidates were Don Baird, from the class of '65, and Tim Dickinson from the class of '66.

Tom Elliott delivered the nominating speech for Don and Debbi Crawford gave the seconding speech.

Bob Titley nominated Tim and Mary Anne Allen seconded.

After each group of speeches the respective classes were given about three minutes for a rally for their candidate.

After the assembly campaigning for the candidates was officially underway with posters in the halls and songs over the public address.

The election was held on Friday and seventh hour after all the votes had been tabulated the new president of the Student Council was announced to be Tim Dickinson.

Both candidates and their supporters are to be commended on their well-conducted campaigns. Don Baird will serve the council as vice president.

The National Honor Society met May 12 to elect new officers. They are:

President — Jeff Osburn.
Vice-president — David Porteous.
Secretary — Sharley Wegner.
Treasurer — Frank Choske.

John Pobuda then talked to the Society on the importance of choosing the right school and making use of the guidance office.

The seniors safely returned from their annual trip May 8, all bright-eyed and bushy-tailed at 5:30 a.m.

Some immediately went to bed and collapsed. Others were still too "wound-up" to rest.

They arrived in New York that first night at about 11:30 p.m. We had until 1 a.m., so trying to be dignified in wrinkled culottes, skirts and slacks, took walks down Broadway.

Despite Mr. Hart's warnings it was hard not to look up once in awhile.

One senior commented, "Nothing different from Holloway — except Holloway has more lights."

During the stay in New York seniors spent the nights in the Taft Hotel and ate at Hector's cafeteria, both supposed to be "typically New York," which meant the Tecumsehites learned "push and shove — but get on an elevator" and yogurt for breakfast, creamed herring for lunch."

High points of New York were subway rides to and from the World's Fair, the Fair, Radio City Music Hall, taxi cab rides to the Empire State Building or Central Park, John Oberlin with a British Accent, and a tour of the UN and lower Manhattan.

When seniors arrived in the Albert Pick Motor Lodge at Washington D.C. about 11 p.m., Tuesday evening, they found it to be quite a switch from the Taft, and Sholl's cafeteria was quite a change from Hector's.

Washington consisted of constant tours. Most memorable for those who walked both ways would probably be the Washington Monument.

Washington didn't seem so far from home, when the first morning the Tecumseh High students met at Sholls, there were Britton High School seniors.

On the return Thursday, they went via Gettysburg and then straight to Tecumseh, only stopping at midnight to separate the boys from the girls on separate buses and then for breaks along the way.

Very few actually slept on the way home.

After a sunshiny cloudless week, the travelers arrived in pouring rain and a dark, deserted school at 5:30 in the morning.

One regret was that Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Croll could not accompany the group.

Seniors extend apreciation to the kind, understanding and patient chaperones, Lee Ann Minton, Mr. and Mrs. James McDowell, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brazee and Teen Tour guides.

BAREFOOT MUSIC REHEARSAL — The students wear shoes, but directed by Frances Moran they practiced for a program, "Music To Go Barefoot By," to be presented Thursday, at 8 p.m. in the Tecumseh High School gym. Legion To Sell Poppies

"Dimes and dollars given on Poppy Day go a long way in providing rehabilitation to servicemen, women and their families," said Mrs. John Zarnoch, president of the American Legion Auxiliary Monday.

Contributions given here Friday and Saturday, May 22 and 23 are used solely for this work.

Auxiliary members donate services in administration of the program. They are assisted by members of the Underwood-Orr Post.

As usual, 7,200 poppies have been ordered from the disabled veterans.

About 30 volunteers will be selling in two-hour shifts from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. both days.

Last year, the workers raised $444.85 for personal needs, equipment and articles not provided by hospitals for veterans, aid to needy families and children in particular.

These are supplied by the Post and Auxiliary through rehabilitation and child welfare programs.

Alumni Banquet Is June 6

Pre-banquet coffee hour will be a feature of the annual Tecumseh High School Alumni festivities to be held Saturday, June 6.

Dancing and swimming will be held after the banquet.

The dinner will be held at Recreation Field. In case of rain, the group will move to the high school cafeteria.

Deadline for payment of advance registration is Monday, June 1. Tickets will not be sold at the banquet.

A Night Out for Mothers

Young Mothers Club members hosted their mothers Wednesday evening at the Bostonian Dining Room with places set for 40.

The tables were decorated with spring flowers and favors [illegible]

Lutheran Women Start Drive To Collect Soap

LCW of Gloria Dei Lutheran Church is starting a "soap drive".

Lutheran World Relief needs soap — tons of it — for overseas shipment.

In motels and hotels and in homes here soap, barely used, is thrown out daily. Soap is a rare and expensive item in many parts of the world.

Millions of people simply can't find it or afford to buy it.

LCW will collect, pack and send "soap chips" to Lutheran World Relief. Containers will be available in the Sunday School buildings for children that may want to help fill them.

Persons interested in joining the effort may leave donations of soap at The Herald office.

☆

A NEEDY family in Hungary is seeking help to clothe their seven children so the LCW is sending a gift of money to this family.

Mrs. William Ferow, Mrs. Laszlo Gero and Mrs. Fred Weseloh also attended this meeting.

Dessert and coffee were served by Mrs. Roy Willmow, Mrs. Frank Turlokowski, Mrs. Raymond Bolz and Mrs. Irvin Sieler.

THS Thinclads Swamp Airport

Coach Tom Fagan's thinclads swamped Airport here last Thursday, 74-35, to cinch a tie for first place in the final Huron League standings.

The win boosted Tecumseh's record to 6-1.

The Indians, top favorites along with Grosse Ile and Milan in Wednesday's league meet at Eastern Michigan University, won 12 of 13 firsts against Airport, who failed to win a single dual meet this season.

Saturday, Tecumseh placed qualifiers in six events for the Class B meet at Michigan State.

IN THE regional meet and qualifying for the state were:

Shot put — John Lindstrom, 2nd, 45'6".

220 — Tim Collins, 3rd, 23.2.

880 — Dave Lemerand, 3rd, 2:10.6.

120-yard low hurdles — Steve Derby, 1st, 15.2.

180-yard low hurdles — Derby, 1st, 20.2.

Mile relay — Lemerand, Jim Brown, Anders Edin, Jay Osburn(1st, 3:34.9 (school record).

880 relay — Collins, Osburn, Edin, Derby, 3rd, 1:35.0.

Coach Fagan is expected to juggle some of the lineups in the relay teams to give the Indians better speed and chance to win in the state meet.

Jim Clause Shoots 37 in League

Tecumseh Products Golf League finished its fourth week of play with Jim Clause of the Hollar team shooting 37 with an eagle on No. 5 green to tie the Walker and Beevers low round of the year score.

Standings in the league are:

Team	Points Won	Points Lost
Beevers	8	0
Hollar	6	2
Walker	5	3
Baker	4	4
Gollar	4	4
Crist	4	4
Hamilton	3	5
Gillies	2	6
Reum	2	6
Smith	2	6

Jayvees Split in Two Contests

Terry Alcock and Nick Hebert each had two base hits as the Tecumseh High Junior varsity stopped Milan, 11-7, May 15.

Cecil Stanley rapped out a double and Stan Lewis was the winning hurler.

The day before, the Jayvees were white-washed by Monroe Catholic Central, 12-0.

Lone bright spot for Tecumseh was a double by Garry Rutledge.

Tecumseh's Norm Tucker Spring Practice Standout

AMES, Ia. — When spring football started at Iowa State in mid-April, one of Coach Clay Stapleton's problems was at the end spots — but a former Tecumseh high gridder eased that situation from the start.

Husky Norman Tucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Tucker, 8510 Macon-Clinton Rd., moved into the freshman-dominated unit line the opening night of drills and no one got him out of action all spring.

Playing behind senior Ernie Kun, Tucker gave the Cyclones a solid one-two punch at left end, good enough that Coach Stapleton did little worrying about the spot all six weeks of drills.

☆

TUCKER NOT only has the size and agility for the job — he's 6-1 and 198 pounds — but he has the physical and mental toughness to look for the action where it is the briskest.

"Norman is a good blocker, works to become a better player every day," said Bob Ward, former Maryland All-American who coaches the Cyclone ends. "He's my kind of player."

That's about as high praise as a player gets any place — for Coach Ward was a tough All-American guard for two years despite only weighing 188 pounds!

Rugged? Spirit Is Displayed

By CHUCK ALLEN

Last Wednesday most of the Tecumseh-Clinton Maroon members displayed their rugged, and maybe somewhat idiotic, spirit by playing in the worst kind of weather imaginable for the game of golf.

The wind was so strong that you had to hit the ball twice to get it off the tee.

Add this to a rain cold enough to freeze the grippers on your shorts and you have very miserable golfing.

A few members played it smart and somehow obtained substitutes to play in their places.

Consequently our sub list has dwindled drastically since most of them have given up the game forever.

The only good thing to come of the round was that most of the members raised their handicaps and obtained a legitimate excuse to go home with a red nose.

The standings to date:

Bill Johnson and Dale Garrison	50
Bob French and Vern Manwaring	48
Jack Ruffner and Mike Buku	47½
Lamont Hunt and Teke Mattes	46½
Doug Hall and Chuck Allen	44
Charles Parker and George Lancaster	44
Bob Wojtowixz and Walt Johnston	43½
Lee Phibbs and Charles Studnicka	43½
Pat Hollar and Jerry Manchester	42
Bill Brown and Fay Crane	41
Lee Marsh and Larry Yoakum	41
Allen Mowery and Don Nestor	40½
Dick Meyers and Jerry Creger	37½
Bob Beevers and Doc Morden	36
Bob Rang and Dick Pierce	35
Floyd Busz and Doug Turnball	33
Bill Walker and Eldon Walker	32
Gabe French Jr. and Gabe French Sr.	31½
Mickey O'Neill and Karl Roberts	30½
Hal Weakly and Gene Mackey	28

Today, like every other day, we are catering to the most important people in the community — you, our customers. The customers in our busy lobby are cashing pay checks, making loan payments, getting travelers checks, bank drafts, making deposits in savings accounts, arranging financing on a new home or home improvement loan, making a loan for a new or used car, or perhaps using their safe deposit box for important papers. Our customers come and go all day, every day from Monday through Saturday. We are happy to serve each and every one of them. Remember, we offer complete banking services.

Going Back to 1860

TIPTON — The Irish Hills area has been a tourist and vacation spot for years.

Tecumsehites of the "Gay 90" era can well remember when it used to be "The Thing" to take the train from Toledo, Adrian and other points south and east for an outing.

They would stop at Tipton, Pentecost or Onsted and be met by horse-drawn taxi service.

The Irish Hills are still here, the lakes still beautiful, the swimming and boating still fine, but there are additions to broaden the vacation pleasures.

One of the most impressive is Frontier City, owned and operated by Ivan Hunt, whose family have been Tipton residents for generations.

☆

FRONTIER CITY is a "theme park" designed to bring back the atmosphere of the frontier era of the 1860 to 1890's.

As one leaves the gate house, progress is lost.

The only means of transportation in evidence are horse-drawn vehicles, men and women on horseback and even equipment drawn by the old, faithful oxen.

The blacksmith shop is on the main four corners with the smithy tending the forge fire, fashioning items from iron and steel on the anvil.

Horses tied at the hitching rail await his experienced hand to have their hooves trimmed and shod.

The Long Horn Saloon, the old General Stove, the Band and even the town "pokey" are on the south side of Main Street.

The Rock Shop, Chuck Wagon Inn and the Museum await the visitor.

☆

MIDWAY BETWEEN the saloon and the livery stable is "boot hill," into which go the old prospectors, who have tried their luck in the gold mine.

Towering above the graves on Boot Hill, outside the stockade at Fort Dodge, is an observation tower and giant slide.

The small fry enjoy themselves by the hour at the slide.

The livery stable is home base for folks in need of a "rig," horse and buggy, rental units of 100 years ago.

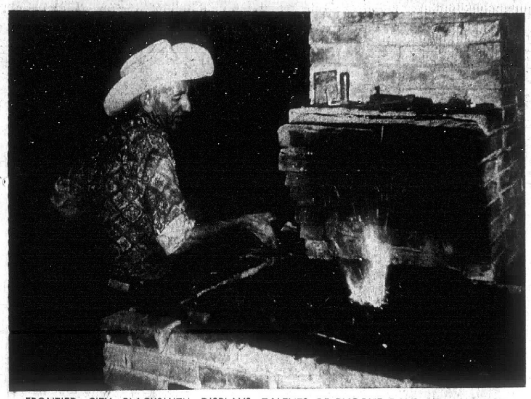
Kiddies can go into "Old McDonald's Farm" and feed and cuddle the baby farm animals.

The deer will eat right out of their hand, just like Bambi.

Even the rides, a stage coach that gets held up in the woods, real steamboat ride and a mule train, are the same as the kids enjoyed years ago.

Parents can take a picnic dinner, turn the kids loose and enjoy themselves in the wholesome atmosphere of yesteryear at Frontier City.

The park opens Saturday.



FRONTIER CITY BLACKSMITH DISPLAYS TALENTS OF BYGONE DAYS AT HIS FORGE

Tipton School Notes

FIRST GRADE

In Science, we saw an interesting film of "The Monarch Butterfly" and used the library for further information.

We made pictures of the development of the butterfly from the caterpilllar stage to chrysalis stage, to a full-grown butterfly.

Russell Stevens caught a butterfly and brought it to school for us to see.

Deborah Wimple surprised us with a treat May 14 on her seventh birthday.

We are proud of Cory Cox, a first grader won the transistor radio for selling the most subscriptions to The Tecumseh Herald in the Tipton PTA contest.

We are preparing a play "The Warm Coat" and plan to invite first grade mothers and also second and third graders to see it. In the show are Marsha Bales, Kimberly Howard, Randy Stein, James VanValkenburg, Roxanna Cook, Phillip Carter, Russel Church and James Karle.

Phillip Carter and his family went up north this last weekend.

√

SECOND GRADE

Marc LaFerriere had a birthday party for us on May 14. He is eight years old now.

We have a new bulletin board called "The Sun's Family" with all the planets on our board.

Gordon Whelan brought a moth.

We are learning about the life cycle of the butterfly and frog. Several children are making pictures for our board we have in Science.

Lynn Sedelbauer brought a lot of frog eggs. They hatched in our room. Lynn has about 20 tadpoles left.

THIRD GRADE

We are making flowers to decorate the gym and our room. We have learned that our state tree is white pine, our state bird is the Robin, and the state flower is apple blossom. We have had a turtle, a cocoon and six butterflies. We take turns watering our tree. It is sprouting leaves.

Candy Jackson

√

FOURTH GRADE

In art we are making some pictures of different flowers for our bulletin board.

We have enjoyed May Baskets for Mrs. Young and Mrs. McMichael this month.

We have been writing stories on Vehicle Safety.

Cynthia Freeman has brought some tadpoles, which we are watching grow.

We are making flowers to help decorate for the PTA Banquet Saturday night.

Diane Allen

√

FIFTH GRADE

The fifth grade room has been decorated with spring flowers.

In our Social Studies we have been working on the southern states.

Captain—Claudia Vollmer

First lieutenant — Linda Young

Second lieutenant—Dona Bowser

The boys also elected new officers.

Captain — Joe VanValkenburg

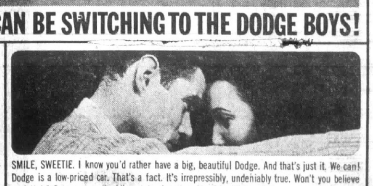
SMILE!

YOU, TOO, CAN BE SWITCHING TO THE DODGE BOYS!

You can't help but smile—all the way to the bank. The Dodge Boys sure know how to save you the money.



SMILE, SWEETIE. I know you'd rather have a big, beautiful Dodge. And that's just it. We can! Dodge is a low-priced car. That's a fact. It's irrepressibly, undeniably true. Won't you believe me? Huh? Come on, smile. Like, pretend you're one of the Dodge Girls.

I'M SMILING! But think of those car buyers who never heard of the Dodge Boys!

ARE SMILING WITH SUCCESS, AND THAT MEANS SAVINGS FOR YOU!

HEAT AFFECTS FERTILITY. As cows come into heat, isolate them in a shaded or cool area during the summer months. Hot weather at breeding time lowers fertility. The idea is to keep the animals' body temperature as low as possible. It helps to breed only in the early morning or evening. Another thing you can do is feed only the coolest rations by limiting roughage intake as much as you can.

IF HERBICIDES FAIL TO KILL WEEDS where you used pre-emergence chemicals, don't wait too long to cultivate. However, some chemicals, like atrazine or amiben take longer to work, especially if moisture is short. You'll benefit from the chemical on later weeds. If a more soluble herbicide like Randox or 2, 4-D was used, and weeds are growing two weeks after application, figure the chemical won't work.

SWINE PERFORMANCE and cleaning efficiency on slatted floors depends upon slat width. In Illinois research, pigs gained much slower on 1¼-inch slats spaced 1 inch apart than those on the same slats spaced ½ inch apart. The 1-inch spacing was more harmful as the pigs grew older. For farrowing stalls, spacings of ½ to 1 inch were adequate. Slats spaced 3/8 inch or 7/16 inch were best for little pigs, but cleaning efficiency was reduced.

BALER CARE. Don't let a faulty twine tier cost you money. If it misses 5% and you put up 10,000 bales, that amounts to 500 bales. At a value of $20 a ton, you would lose $250. Although you can rebale, it takes time and reduces the quality of the hay.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

There are many people in this country today who regard the war on poverty as the federal government's private war.

In reality, the war against poverty is being fought not only by the federal government, but by the states, by cities, by private organizations and, perhaps most importantly, by individuals.

Nor is it a war that has begun during the past few months. On the contrary, it has been going on now in this country for nearly two centuries. All of American history represents a war on poverty.

One of the keystones of the American ideal is the concept of enough for all — not the same for all — but enough for all.

That is what we set out to accomplish, and America today is closer to that goal than any nation on earth.

THE MOST effective way to stamp out poverty is to push the nation's economy to the limits of its potential.

☆

This can be done by producing products that the American people want — as we are doing in Michigan — by adopting federal legislation, which will eliminate the power conflict between business and labor.

This can be done by removing insofar as possible the governmental controls and restraints which stifle the expansion and free operation of business.

Secondly, the states must assume greater initiative in the war against poverty. They must move to coordinate the many conflicting programs now in existence on a federal, state and local level, determine where the needs are greatest and initiate workable programs to meet those needs.

Thirdly, local communities must stop running to the federal government for help, because the campaign against poverty can be waged most effectively by those who are closest to the problem.

Fourth, individual Americans — through organizations already in existence or through new groups — must assume a greater share of responsibility for the poor.

☆

THEY MUST help revitalize church efforts in the field, they must strengthen the operation of private charities, they must convince more of their neighbors that no man is an island, that poverty must be a burden to every man's conscience.

Fifth, the victims of poverty themselves must be inspired to self-improvement.

I know that the word "initiative" rings with a terrible irony for those who must live in the midst of squalor, but I also know that without faith in their own ability to improve their lives, the poor can never emerge from their plight.

Mrs. Herb Morden, Mrs. Dean Thomas Receive Awards

A Swiss steak banquet was served to the mothers and daughters May 8 by the men of the Macon Methodist Church. The dining room tables were attractively decorated with colored swans swimming among colorful pond lilies. The pastel candles were circled with matching flowers. Mrs. Ray Williams gave the invocation. Mrs. Arthur Miller of Saline was toastmistress, introducing Gay and Gilda Wedmeyer, who gave a "Toast To The mothers".

Mrs. Willard Wedmever responded with a "Toast To The Daughters. Mrs. Miller used rhymes to introduce the guests and also read several appropriate poems. Among them were "Pretty Please," "Wherever Children Are," and "Girls to Little Ladies Grow".

Mrs. Carl Thomas was the organist for the group, singing. Mrs. Guy Zelluff and committee arranged the program. Gifts were presented to Mrs. William Rousseau of Dearborn for coming the greatest distance. Mrs. Herbert Morden and Mrs. Dean Thomas were presented with a gift for bringing their four daughters. Mrs. Robert Kollar had the youngest daughter present. About 135 attended. Mrs. Charles Gorton, Sr., pronounced the benediction.

News from the Tecumseh Library

New fiction at the Public Library:

Kinsmen of the Grail by Dorothy Roberts. Set in twelfth-century Wales, this is the story of the quest for the Holy Grail by Sir Perceval and Sir Gawin. The story is derived not from Thomas Malory but from the 12th century legend of Perceval. The story moves fast and smoothly, with much rousing action.

The Unicorn by Iris Murdoch. The style of this odd story is sensitive and graceful, with particular beauty in the descriptions of houses and landscapes. The characters are curious but credible. Marian Taylor undertakes a mysterious assignment as governess at a weird, remote seacoast castle with odd inmates.

Red Mougtain by David Lavender. A rich colorful novel that conveys the rowdy excitement, the buoyant and uncritical optimism of the boom days in Colorado, and the gray despair that came with the collapse.

The Corridor by Edmund Fuller. The mother of three children of a happy marriage has an unwanted fourth pregnancy. Something goes so seriously wrong that she nearly dies. In the ensuing days and nights her husband waits or walks the hospital corridor, reviewing their marriage.

I Loved Tiberius by Elisabeth Dored. This is the story of Julia, daughter of Augustus and stepsister of Tiberius, of her adolescence, marriage and misfortune against the background of Imperial Rome which was civilized in certain aspects and barbarous in others.

Rags Of Glory by Stuart Cloete. A lusty story full of violence, bloodshed, battle scenes, passionate love and beautiful women. It is a long novel about the Boer War in South Africa told by a consumate storyteller.

Occasion For Loving by Nadine Gordimer. The social taboos against fraternization of Negroes and whites in South Africa and the psychological tensions which result from crossing the color bar are set down in penetrating fashion.

Textures Of Life by Hortense Calisher. A story of a difficult, rebellious, but highly sympathetic young couple who build their marriage in a bare, uncluttered domestic world. Running parallel to their story is the wiser, more serene marriage of the boy's father and the girl's mother, drawn together by loneliness and mutual need after their children's wedding.

America, America by Elia Kazan. The saga of Stavros, a Greek boy from Anatolia where in 1896 the Turks slaughter and humiliate at any excuse. Stavros and his Armenian friend and idol, Vartan, dream of going to America and freedom. Vartan is butchered by the Turks, but at last Stavros achieves his goal.

A New Lease on Life by Simenon. A psychological novel about a man haunted by overwhelming guilt, written by the great French novelist.

David French, son of Marion French, 710 N. Evans St., and Mrs. Donald Deshler of Adrian, will graduate May 21 from Sand Creek High School. He will go on active duty with the Navy in July.

GOING TO BOYS STATE — This summer, these 21 juniors from Tecumseh High School will be attending the American Legion Boys State on the campus of Michigan State University for one week in June.

90 Attend Grace Bible Banquet

Ninty mothers and daughters attended the banquet at the Grace Bible Church May 11 when the Womens Christian Service Circle were hostesses.

The tables were decorated with spring flowers and vines referring to the words of Christ, "I am the vine, ye are the branches".

The theme of gardening was further presented with favors of little wheelbarrows filled with nutmeats and mints.

A large sprinkling can filled with spring flowers and vines centered the buffet table arranged in the new library of the church with dinner tables in each new Sunday School room.

☆

MRS. JAMES R. FEIGHT was chairman of the decorations with Mrs. Donna Allen assisting.

Mrs. Donald P. Murphy was in charge of the dinner, assisted by Mrs. George W. Tilton and with the young teens serving. Mrs. Gene Fisher delivered the invocation.

Mrs. David Holly, program chairman, introduced Linda Tilton, Susan McKee and Mary Ann Fisher who read scriptures, "Consider the Lilies", "Parable of the sower" and "Fruit of the spirit."

Tribute to the mothers was given by Beverly Edwards and her mother Mrs. Dorman Edwards gave the tribute to the daughters.

Mrs. Robert Roe favored the theme further with her solo, "In the Garden".

☆

HIGHLIGHT OF THE evening was a message by Mrs. L. P. Buroker, speaking of the "Garden of Eden," and the "first mother, Eve." She referred to the problems and errors of the first mother, the same of today's and the salvation that is available through Christ, the Saviour.

Gifts were presented to Mrs. Charles Merritt and Mrs. D. E. Gary, the oldest mothers present, and to the youngest mothers present, Mrs. Larry McVay, Mrs. Wendell Howell and Mrs. Ronald Roe.

Gifts to the mothers with the most daughters present were to Robert Roe, Mrs. Gordon McKee and Mrs. George Tilton.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

OPERATION PEEPING TOM or SPYING MARDA

My role in the caper was that of chief stake-out-man. The observation post was as near perfect as possible — from my bed, out the window, over the feeding-station and across the lawn to the creek-end of the fence.

The view was unobstructed.

The distance, approximately twenty-five feet, easily allowed both naked eye and field-glass sightings.

So closely did we keep the surveilance that honestly, I almost felt like a master spy.

It was the noise which alerted us to the fact that something was "going on."

Brrrrr — well, imagine a pneumatic hammer — you know, the bone-shaking thing they use 'to break up concrete — cut the racket just a few decibles and you have a little idea of what we heard.

Sometimes a sound is hard to locate, but this one was as easy as could be — we simply looked out and there it was.

☆

PERCHED ATOP the end post of the fence, the one nearest the creek, is a covered bird-feeder.

A big, handsome flicker was standing on the roof and yes, he was responsible for all the commotion. It was absolutely amazing to see how lightning fast his long, stout bill and large head moved.

Up and down, up and down, up and down, he banged into the feeder's roof. The motion was so fast it was only a blur. And noisy — wow.

After a bit of drilling the bird stopped, he lifted his head, straightened up, looked around then opened his bill and hollered.

The "Audubon Bird Guide" describes this call as "a series of identical notes — wicker, wicker, wicker."

It should also be added that the flicker's voices is loud and raucous, with only a little strain on the imagination it could be called a shrill, hysterical laugh.

We found, as the days of spying wore on, that this performance was to be repeated over and over again.

Instead of a resonant hollow limb, a tin roof or TV antenna, the flicker was using our bird feeder as a sounding board.

☆

THE DRUMMING and screaming were to proclaim territorial rights and advertise for a mate. Needless to say, after several weeks of this treatment, the roof of the poor feeder is well pock-marked. Oh, well, it was in a good cause.

Being able to watch the flickers at such close range was really quite a thrill. They are impressive characters. Big, round, the personification of power.

We again marvelled at their coloring, a beautiful blending of browns, tans and black worked into an intricate pattern of bars and stripes.

A bold, black V splashes across the front of their breast and a brilliant red-crescent nestles on the back of their tannish-blue heads.

Oh, by the way, when the birds scream, these scarlet feathers bristle up — they put heart and soul into their displays.

Another thing we could not help but notice was the birds' extraordinary feet. They are huge, typical wood-pecker feet, but of course they must support a "lot of bird".

THEY SAY advertising pays and sure enough, it was not long before there were three flickers in the neighborhood.

For a few days, while the triangle was being straightened out, there was great activity. As the birds flew back and forth they flashed their dazzling yellow undercoating which gives rise to the name some people use, yellow-shafted flicker.

Eventually the third party left and the courting ritual started in earnest. Watching birds of this size rub bills is an experience not soon to be forgotten.

Gradually the drumming has decreased and I suspect, and hope, that the birds are occupied with nest chiseling-out.

So it is that we may soon have more flicker business to report, but for now, we must end the first phase of Operation Peeping Tom or Spying Marda.

NEXT WEEK
What A May

Every 5th Man Over 65 Has Had Military Service

President Lyndon B. Johnson has proclaimed May as Senior Citizens Month. For the Veterans Administration, every month is Senior Citizens Month. The VA has a direct, daily, personal relationship with thousands upon thousands of Senior Citizens.

"Every fifth man in the United States who is 65 years old or older is also a veteran. The State of Michigan alone has 92,000 veterans whose median age is 69-plus," said Mr. Robert M. FitzGerald, regional office manager.

One third of all VA hospital beds are occupied by veterans 65 and over. The VA nationally has 168 hospitals, and 67 major outpatient clinics.

The VA, in addition, has 18 domiciliaries operated for 16,800 members, most of them in older age brackets.

☆

"THE STATE of Michigan has five VA hospitals with a bed capacity of 3,862," Mr. FitzGerald stated.

This nationwide hospital complex uniquely lends itself to research for the aging since most VA hospitals are closely affiliated with medical schools and research centers. The VA has also developed Half Way Houses where newly discharged patients including the aging can gain confidence to face the world and foster homes where veterans can be exposed to normal living.

Better than eight out of every 10 persons throughout the nation receiving a veterans pension is age 65 or older. Michigan has approximately 40,000 veterans in this category.

Each day some 1,000 Americans join the ranks of our Senior Citizens. By 1970, twenty million men and women will be over age 65.

If saving $6 per acre of corn doesn't interest you...

how about $8?

If you plant corn on corn, it takes 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen to decay the old stalks and still supply sufficient nitrogen for high yields.

Supply this nitrogen with Anhydrous Ammonia made by The Dow Chemical Company, and you'll save from $6 to $8 per acre over any other form of nitrogen.

Why?

Because Dow Anhydrous Ammonia is 82% nitrogen. The most concentrated and economical form you can buy.

You'll increase profits, too, by applying it with a tillage practice.

You get increased quality. Higher protein content of feed grains.

And time saved since Dow Anhydrous Ammonia is long-lasting and can be applied when your work load is light.

Stop skimping on nitrogen. Feed your crop what it takes for maximum yields. Dow Anhydrous Ammonia. The price is right. See us today.

JUNIOR'S PRAYER

I wish I were a Senior,
And with the seniors stand.
A fountain pen behind my ear,
A notebook in my hand.

And never do a thing.

Needed Missionaries

BRITTON — Special meetings last week at the Britton Bethel Baptist Church featuring the Rev. Hank Scheltema, missionary pilot to the upper Amazon regions of South America, were interesting and informative.

He spoke of the great need for young people to study for mission service in this unexplored area.

He showed a film depicting his missionary work along the Amazon and how it is being greatly assisted by the amphibious airplane.

☆

THOUSANDS OF Indians in this region have never heard the Gospel, many have never seen a white man, he pointed out.

Many of the villages along the river are asking for missionaries but there are none available.

If the mission need in this area is not met in the near future, the communists may take over as they recently tried to do in Brazil, the guest told his audiences.

The Rev. Mr. Scheltema hopes to return to Brazil in August with a new Cessna 180 equipped with floats.

His present plane is a 1948 model.

One missionary with an amphibious airplane can do the work of 10 missionaries traveling by boat or other means, he stated.

There are no roads in this area.

The Howders plan to leave for Kogoshima, Japan in November where they will serve their first term as missionaries.

Boys are to leave from the school in uniform at 5 p.m. Friday with a sack lunch, warm clothing and their bedding.

On Sunday, the parents are invited to a potluck dinner at the camp. After the closing ceremonies, the boys will return home with their parents.

☆

PLANS FOR THE summer trip were also discussed. Boys will leave June 14 for a week's junket to various points of interest, including Chicago, the Wisconsin Dells, Upper Peninsula, Tahquamenon Falls and Kinchloe Air Force base at Sault Ste. Marie.

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

Some fellow once noted, "It's the little things that count."

So true.

That's what makes this scribbler such a booster of Elly Peterson, who hopes to be the Republican candidate for United States senator to oppose Philip Hart.

A woman running for public office has two strikes against her — and often three.

Only a few, like Martha Griffiths, Margaret Chase Smith and Clair Booth Luce, have broken through the sound barrier.

Others, who venture into the treacherous political arena, usually end up tongue-tied or fall back in desperation on feminine charms, which are as much at home there as a sack of empty beer bottles on the church lawn.

If folks get to know Elly, they will be quickly impressed with the fact that here is a well-organized, deep thinking and head-swinging gal.

There is one item in Elly's past — before she dreamed of being a candidate — that helps point up the sort of person she is. It helped convince me that Elly has the makeup for public office.

That's the buildup, here's the incident.

As you may recall, last year Clinton had a big 125th anniversary celebration. They selected a queen and someone had the bright idea of asking the governor to crown her.

A letter was dispatched to Lansing, requesting the presence of George Romney. He couldn't make the date, so he designated Mrs. Peterson, then Michigan GOP vice-chairman, to represent him.

Elly arrived at the appointed hour, but lo and behold, the plans had been changed and the queen would ride onto the field, where the big celebration show was being staged, already crowned.

To this day, it isn't clear where the signals got crossed.

Now, the normal reaction to such a situation might be one of justifiable anger, wonderment and a desire to turn around and go home. At least a question: "Why didn't you call and tell me?"

After all, when a person drives 75 miles to be a guest,

Guest Given Hatchet

"Tecumseh is just right," said Otto Gabier, president pro-tem of Mesick, during a banquet in his honor which climaxed a whirlwind day as guest of the city during Michigan Week's Mayor Exchange Day.

"It's small enough to remain enthusiastic and large enough to be extremely progressive," he added.

Coming from the small community, northwest of Cadillac, population 300, Mr. Gabier and his wife were hosted by Tecumseh Mayor Harold Easton and his wife, Clara.

Following coffee at city hall early in the day, the mayor and his party toured the city, then met at Don's Beef Buffet for luncheon.

Excitement reigned as they witnessed a Meyer Aircraft towed into the downtown area.

☆

LATER IN the afternoon the men toured Tecumseh Products and the women went to Hidden Lake Gardens.

They attended ground-breaking ceremonies of Stauffer Chemical Co., then returned to Tecumseh for the huge Safety Check parade.

Mr. Gabier crowned "Mr. Safety" Marvin Nelson and also winners of the Jaycee Auxiliary baby contest.

Julie Parrish, Tecumseh's Joyce Wilbar, Hollywood starlet in both movies and television, officially opened the Safety Check with a ribbon-cutting ceremony after the parade.

She also crowned "Safety Queen" Letty Ringman.

☆

DURING THE evening banquet, toastmaster Tom Riordan, following invocation by councilman Bob Bonner, introduced guests, then presented witty Don Wolfe, assistant managing editor of the Toledo Blade.

Mr. Wolfe gave a humorous resume of past experiences, commenting that he considers Mayor Exchange Day to be an excellent idea.

He added that he would like to see Ohio copy the effort.

☆

MAYOR EASTON presented Mr. Gabier with a gold-plated hatchet for his den, from the people of Tecumseh.

President Gabier told the gathering about Mesick, saying the village has two big projects under way — establishing a trailer camp for vacationers and a bird sanctuary.

DISC BRAKES — Paul Glasgow and Del Manchester of ACA in Clinton examine and measure a disc brake, which their firm will soon be building for Budd Wheel Corp. The brakes come in sets of two and are used on front wheels, could be the coming thing with most cars.

New Clinton Firm Gets Order from Budd

CLINTON — There's an interesting industrial development taking place at the old Clinton Engines plant.

It could mean a gentle boom for the Automotive Corporation of America, a division recently established here by Clinton Engines.

ACA has just landed a contract to make 800 sets of disc brakes for Budd Wheel Corp. of Detroit, with a 30,000 order to follow after the initial delivery.

Now tooling for the job, production at ACA will be started about Sept. 1, states Paul Glasgow, ACA's new general manager.

This will mean jobs for between 140 and 150 people, working two shifts.

"Prospects look good," smiles Mr. Glasgow, who comes here from Gravely Tractor Co., of Charleston, W. Va., where he was director of manufacturing for a year.

During the seven years previous to that he was works manager for Jacobsen Mfg., of Wisconsin, which makes power mowers and chain saws.

☆

DISC BRAKES come in sets of two, only being used on the front wheels. There is a good chance that they'll become standard equipment with many models of cars.

Studebaker has used them in aluminum, but they were not entirely satisfactory. Budd's order calls for cast iron.

ACA has been running three shifts with a total payroll of 70 in past months, primarily on the tooling and assembly of anti-personnel land mines for Viet Nam.

There are no explosives involved in this operation. These are added later by the government.

The land mine order of 500,000 will probably be filled this summer.

In addition to Mr. Glasgow, key men in the ACA operation include H. L. Tooman, tool engineer, and Del Manchester, tool and die man.

☆

MR. GLASGOW temporarily is staying at the Tecumseh Motel and hopes to obtain a house in town so that his wife and five children might join him.

The Glasgow lineup includes:

► Dennis, 20, a University of Wisconsin mechanical engineering student.

► Twins—Cathy and Corrine, 16, with Corrine being Wisconsin junior tennis and junior table tennis champion, also fleet track star, having recently won the 440 and 660 dashes in an Iowa-Wisconsin-Illinois AAU Tri-State meet and soon to run in an AAU event in Pittsburgh.

► Cynthia, 13

► Corliss, 8

Mr. Glasgow, 51, has a fascinating military service record, rising to major in the OSS during World War II.

He spent three years in the European Theatre on top secret operations, including raids into enemy territory. During one he suffered a near-fatal knife wound.

Parade Honors Veterans

Thirty-three units will make up the annual Tecumseh Memorial Day parade, announces Richard L. Beasley, who'll serve as marshal of the event.

Mr. Beasley invites youngsters with decorated bikes and others interested in being part of the parade to report to the forming area along N. Maumee St. by 9:30 a.m.

A salute by the American Legion firing squad at the city hall veterans' monument, with members of both Legion and VFW Auxiliaries placing wreaths, will start at 9:45 a.m.

The parade steps out following this at 10 a.m., heading west on Chicago Blvd., to Union St., then turning north to Brookside Cemetery.

Speaker this year at the Brookside Cemetery memorial program will be the Rev. Donald Porteous, minister of the Methodist Church. The Rev. Blair Bashore of the Baptist Church, will offer the invocation and benediction, with music provided by the Tecumseh High School band.

Bill Vollmer and Don Johnson will play Taps.

☆

DURING THIS ceremony, wreaths will be placed at four places in honor of war dead:

► Monument — Civil War

► Evans Creek — Navy

► Shaft — Spanish American War

► Boulder — War Wars I & II

An airplane flower drop will be made by Frank Bisher.

Immediately following the memorial service, the VFW will have a barbecue behind their Post Home. Reservations will not be necessary.

Mail Being Picked Up

All mail deposited Memorial Day in the two boxes in the business district and the two boxes in front of the Post Office before 4 p.m. will be dispatched, states Postmaster Jack Metcalf.

All incoming Special Delivery mail will be delivered.

PRAISES AMOS ANDERSON — In his talk at Stauffer groundbreaking, Gov. George Romney spoke in glowing terms of Amos Anderson and his accomplishment. In the foreground are two of the silver-plated shovels used by dignitaries to turn the turf.

Governor Lauds Amos Anderson

Words of praise were heaped upon Amos Anderson by Gov. George Romney at the Stauffer Chemical plant groundbreaking last week.

The chief executive singled out the young chemist — a man with a dream — for making his hopes come true and in the process giving Michigan another fine industry.

He recounted how Mr. Anderson had started a small firm at Weston, then later sold it to the Stauffer Co. When the parent company decided to expand the Anderson Division, officials were persuaded by Mr. Anderson to do it in Lenawee County.

The result will eventually be a $20 million complex, with three divisions headquartered south of Tecumseh, nestled about a giant silicone research center.

The governor also lauded the community attitude towards industries and added that he hoped this spirit would carry on into daily operations.

Hans Stauffer, president of the company, added warm words of praise to area people who helped to make possible Stauffer's eventual settling in Raisin Township.

Many months of negotiations were needed—first to learn that there was ample water, then that Stauffer would be able to get rid of its wastes without pollution of the River Raisin.

A great deal of team work between Raisin Township, Adrian and Tecumseh officials was required to clinch the deal.

Mr. Stauffer mentioned this in his ground-breaking speech.

☆

A BATTERY of 10 key figures — including Tecumseh Mayor Harold Easton — were given places of honor at the ground-breaking and a silver-plated shovel designated for each to turn the first pieces of earth.

Following the ceremony at the site, a banquet was staged on the Adrian College campus before a sell-out crowd of 500.

Unfortunately, the governor, who was to deliver the main address, was forced to return to Lansing before the dinner.

But there was still a gala and festive air at the party, which was a welcome by Adrian to Stauffer officials.

Mr. Stauffer was visibly affected. He told the audience, "We're here and we expect to remain for a long time to come."

Five from Tecumseh attended the Regional Senior Citizens get-together at Jackson May 20, bringing home an attendance ribbon.

They were Mrs. Clara Miller, Mrs. Bryce Miller, Mrs. Grace Decker, Lester Rogers and Don Moffatt.

The 300 attending were welcomed by Jackson Mayor Bernie Maglera.

A fashion show of "What To Wear at the Fair" was presented by the Ann Arbor Senior Players featuring some "real antiques."

The Jackson Senior Chorus presented selections and led in group singing. A highlight of the afternoon program was a solo "Annie Laurie" by Ellamay Draper of Jackson.

Workers were volunteers of Underwood-Orr Post and Auxiliary with some junior members helping.

Burglars Loot Three Showrooms

Three auto dealer showrooms were burglarized over the weekend.

At 6:25 a.m. Friday morning Tecumseh police discovered Tecumseh Motors, Bailey Motor Sales and Wilson Motor Sales had all been broken and entered.

Cash and other items were missing from all three buildings.

Behind Page One

For being one of the top 200 Ford agencies in the United States, based on April and May sales, George Underwood of Clinton was shipped an extra Mustang, an exact replica of the Indianapolis 500 pace car.

Contributions this week to the Herrick Memorial Hospital Landscaping Fund are from:

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Golat in memory of Richard Drouillard, a Korean pink weeping cherry tree.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sherman and the Tecumseh Office Supply in memory of Joseph E. Layton.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Baaske in memory of Robert J. McCoy.

Duane DeLoach, publisher of the Blissfield Advance, has been named the new president of the Wayne State University Press Club.

When Tecumseh's mayor exchange group showed up in Mesick, the Wexford County town, meeting the entire party was United Savings Bank president, Pat Meadows, who happened to be on a fishing trip in the northlands. For a moment, Mesick officials may have gotten the impression Tecumseh was so organized the city had sent an advance man to make sure everything was in order before the main party arrived.

A fuss was avoided at Stauffer ground-breaking when the Detroit publicity man for Adrian Area Industrial Development Committee showed up carrying a sign, "Adrian City Limits" and was about to spike it in at entrance to site. A Stauffer engineer told him to knock-off the comedy.

Entire ceremony for Stauffer was beautifully handled. Tecumseh was represented in official lineup by Mayor Harold Easton, who had an opportunity to have a brief chat with Governor Romney.

Ina Duley Ogden, composer of lyrics for the hymn, "Brighten The Corner Where You Are," died May 18 at the age of 92 in her home in Toledo. Mrs. Ogden wore a silver pencil and silver chain around her neck so she could jot down a thought when it popped into her mind. Another familiar hymn to her credit is "You Must Open The Door."

"The Mayor" was an English assignment turned in by Joe Bagby, a seventh grader at St. Elizabeth. It read: "There now lives a man we all know. He has done much for the city of Tecumseh. Besides that, he owns a gas station. This man is the mayor of Tecumseh, Harold Easton. If ever there's a bicyclist who's having trouble, Mr. Easton is always there to lend a helping hand. And when it comes to a quick change from being a grease monkey to his white collar job of being mayor, he always comes through shining. This man seems to be the greatest citizen of the city of Tecumseh."

They Like Mesick

"What can they possibly do to entertain us all day?" was the thought that went through City Clerk Naomi Sallows' mind as the visiting mayor's party entered the village of Mesick last week.

This was the first time in six years of planning for mayor exchange day that Mrs. Sallows had been in the exchange party.

Before the day was over, the nine Tecumsehites were aglow with the hospitality extended to them by the public-spirited citizens of the village, located at the junction of M37 and 115 on Manistee Lake in Wexford County.

Besides Mrs. Sallows and Mayor and Mrs. Harold Easton, Councilmen Ray Puffer, and Robert Bonner and City Manager Cal Zorn and their wives were in the party.

KING CROWNED BY MESICK MAN — Otto Gabier, president pro-tem of Mesick placed the crown of royalty on the little head of Michael Slusher, winner of the baby contest for boys. Mrs. Dwight Helms, chairman for the sponsoring Jaycee Auxiliary, is holding Michael. Mr. Gabier was presented the elaborate Indian headdress and an engraved Indian hatchet as gifts of Tecumseh. Nancy Beevers was the little queen in the baby contest.

THEY WERE taken to each business place and introduced to the merchants before luncheon in the new Anderson Drive-in restaurant.

A home-owned super market and a grocery and dry-goods store are the newest of the stores, which make up a business section about as large as that in Britton.

Mesick also has a bank, a branch of one in Cadillac.

Tours were made of the two tree plantations where all kinds of pines are grown.

They saw packing and sorting and were told that many are sold as seedlings. At the peak of the season about 40 are employed.

Known as the Mushroom Capital during the season Mesick is invaded by, as many as 10,000 people in search of the delicate plants.

☆

A PARK BOARD has been incorporated to make improvements in the area to encourage the tourist trade.

Land has been leased from Consumers Power Co. along Manistee Lake and a park to accommodate 125 trailers has been developed with service areas including showers and laundry facilities. A nominal fee is charged. Water, sewer and lights are available.

A picnic area with tables and grills has been established through volunteer labor and gifts.

Plans for a camping area are presently underway.

The Tecumseh group also toured a wild life area on Manistee Lake which is being developed. At present 12 goslings were swimming around the lake.

☆

DINNER, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce was served in the new Sandy's restaurant, which features a stainless steel kitchen.

Among the gifts presented to Mayor Easton were mushrooms, honey, frozen trout and two blue spruce from Hilton's Evergreens.

Mayor and Mrs. Ron Zimmerman of Mesick were hosts for the day. Mrs. Zimmerman is a librarian in the high school and her husband is a pharmacist in the town's only drug store.

He was unable to come to Tecumseh due to ill health.

MEYERS AIRCRAFT 200S — In conjunction with the Michigan Week Industrial Display held at the Adrian Federal Savings and Loan Building, Meyers Aircraft consented to having this $29,000 four-seater plane towed down Evans street to the display next to Easton's. Joe LeFevre made a special hitch. Seven police and sheriff cars were used to stop the traffic for 15 minutes to bring it downtown. Charlie Butler and Ray Betzoldt are pictured here.

LONG & SHORT

one could feel slightly offended at such a turn of events.

Not Elly.

She just grinned as if nothing at all unusual had happened. Somone suggested Mrs. Peterson ride with the queen in the convertible as it arrived in the splash of floodlights. Elly readily agreed.

This was the way it ended, with apparently everyone happy. It could have been a trifle warm had Ellie reacted the way 98% of us would have under like circumstances.

This indicated to me that Elly Peterson is considerate, quick-thinking and even-tempered — all wonderful traits for home, office—and the Senate.

There is another incident which greatly impressed me.

Back in 1962, GOP leaders from several counties attended a pow-wow in Jackson to help organize the campaign of soon-to-be governor Romney. This writer tagged along to see how the pros operate.

With about 75 people in the session, Elly popped up on the program as a representative of the State Central Committee. As soon as she began to talk, mapping ideas and plans, beating the drums for Mr. Romney, it became evident that here was a woman well suited for public office herself.

When Republicans finally got around, two years later, to tap Elly for a spot in the senatorial primary, there was quick applause from this corner.

Elly's work as Michigan GOP vice-chairman was so outstanding and her organizational talents so highly-regarded, she recently was promoted to the vice-chairman post on a national level.

Her skill to get things organized, as exemplified in the Romney run, is already evident in the preliminary preparations in her own go for the senate nomination.

She is presently making a circuit of every county in Michigan, getting committees and establishing a torrid summer schedule when she'll hit the campaign trail in earnest, returning to all 88 for speeches, coffee hours and hand shaking.

Most women, for some reason, just aren't temperamentally equipped for political office. But like Mrs. Griffith, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Luce, Mrs. Peterson just seems to be different.

Now all we have to do is get her elected.

Burn $29,000 Church Mortgage

The Tecumseh Friends church burned a $29,164.67 mortgage including interest, Sunday.

Five years ago, approval was given for an extensive remodeling program.

This included extending the west end, adding a baleony, new lighting, carpeting, pews, platform and pulpit, clergy pew and various other changes.

At this time, the committee borrowed $15,000 at 4% interest.

Like most remodeling, the expenses were more than anticipated. This necessitated the borrowing of $12,000 more, making a total of $27,000.

☆

THE COMMITTEE, under the leadership of the Rev. Paul Brantingham, was really three committees in one.

They were the trustees, buildings and grounds and the finance — a true representation of the congregation.

Members of the committees were:

Finance — Mabel Lockwood, chairman and acting chairman of the combined committees; Amos Wilson, Ashley Chase, Walter Weimer, Naomi Sallows, Ralph Comfort, Raynor Van Valkenburgh and John Zeigler.

House and Grounds — Clare Martin, Ronald Van Valkenburgh and Jenny Slater.

Trustees — Ralph Comfort, Marvin Johnson, Raynor Van Valkenburgh and Melvin Muhn.

☆

THE OFFERINGS received on the third Sunday of every month, was used exclusively for debt repayment. The entire loan, with the exception of two gifts, was paid in this manner.

Mrs. Naomi Sallows reported on the loan and the manner of raising the money to meet their obligations.

Ralph Comfort sang "Bless This House."

Marvin Johnson, clerk of the meeting, led the congregation in prayer.

Ashley Chase and Amos Wilson had charge of the burning of the mortgage, while the congregation sang the doxology.

The service closed with prayer by the Rev. Mr. Brantingham.

Moose Dinner Served Pythians

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

'Tis said that Memorial Day was born of woman's compassion.

Four young southern women one spring day, shortly after the close of the Civil War, took bouquets of flowers to place on the graves of their soldier relatives and friends in a cemetery near Columbus, Miss.

Gazing compassionately on the bare graves of about a fourth of the Union dead, along with several hundred of their own Confederate heroes, one of them suggested that they place a flower on each.

For the first time every man's grave — Confederate and Union alike — received tribute from the gentle southern ladies.

The solemn and lovely ceremony was established as an annual custom and spread quickly to other communities throughout the nation.

Now on May 30 all the country's dead are honored, both military and civilian.

Tecumseh's annual cemetery ceremony and parade rank among the most moving in the nation.

Mobile X-Ray Unit Coming June 5 & 8

Residents of Tecumseh 20 years old and over will be given the opportunity to have a chest x-ray June 5 and June 8 when the Michigan Department of Health mobile X-ray visits Lenawee County.

This announcement was made today by Dr. Eleanor Skufis, Director of the Lenawee County Health Department.

"A chest X-ray," Dr. Skufis said, "will protect the life of the individual, his family and his friends by detecting unsuspected tuberculosis, heart disease, cancer, and other chest abnormalities."

The truth about TB is that it is still a problem. Tuberculosis causes more deaths in Michigan than all other communicable diseases combined.

Last year TB took the lives of 330 residents in Michigan. Most TB cases are in advanced stages when first discovered.

☆

"TB USUALLY can be treated successfully if it is found early," Dr. Skufis added. "And in its early stages, TB often shows no outward symptoms, so one way to find the disease early is with the Tuberculin Skin Test and Chest X-ray."

Older persons, particularly older men, need chest X-rays every year to check on tuberculosis, and other chest diseases as well.

The Lenawee County Chest X-ray is designed especially to provide an easy way for adults to have a routine check-up for tuberculosis, lung cancer, and some heart conditions.

Tuberculin Skin Tests are offered to persons under 30 years and those persons reacting to the test may then have a chest X-ray at the mobile unit during the time of the Community Survey.

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary will assist with the TB tests in Tecumseh.

Review Differences with Class 3 and 4 School Classification

By JIM LINCOLN

A review of differences between a Class Four and a Class Three school district appear minor in nature, but in effect allow a school board under a Class Three title greater authority and responsibility.

One of three issues on the June 8 school ballot includes changing the Tecumseh School District from a Class Four to Class Three.

Many aspects of operation and control will not be altered, some will.

Savings will be realized in bookkeeping and paper work procedures. These are prime reasons the local board is asking the electorate to approve the change.

AN OBJECTIVE comparison of notable differences are:

PICKING OFFICERS

► Fourth Class — board elects president, secretary and treasure

► Third Class — board elects president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, but secretary and treasurer need not be a member of the board.

ELECTIONS

► Fourth Class — special elections may be called by board resolution or by written request of not less than 25 school electors

► Third Class — elections may be called by board resolution or by written request of not less than 10% of the registered qualified electors.

VOTING REGISTRATION

► Fourth Class — must keep own registration records for elections.

► Third Class — may use city registration records and thereby eliminate some duplication of records.

CHANGING GRADES

► Fourth Class — by a majority vote of electors, the board may establish a high school or send students to a high school in another district

► Third Class — the board shall have the power to establish grades, school departments as deemed necessary and may establish, equip and maintain agricultural, trade and other vocation schools.

LIBRARY

► Fourth Class — by majority vote of electors, the board may establish a school library

► Third Class — board may establish and maintain a library and appoint board for control and direction.

TRANSPORTATION

► Fourth Class — may provide transportation of pupils when authorized by a majority vote

► Third Class — may by board resolution provide for the transportation of pupils, when and where deemed necessary.

SUPERINTENDENT

► Fourth Class — may employ superintendent with contract term not to exceed three years

Third Class — contract term may not exceed five years.

BONDING

► Fourth Class — may, by majority vote, borrow money and issue bonds to pay for sites, purchase buses or refunding bonded indebtedness.

► Third Class — board may borrow as deemed necessary to purchase sites, buildings, playgrounds, athletic fields, agricultural farms, erect and equip and make improvements. No loan for more than 30 years and not to exceed 2% of assessed valuation of the district unless by a vote of school tax electors.

The Kohn car was traveling east on Chicago Blvd. when Mr. Locke attempted to cross the intersection on N. Pearl St.

Traveling south, he struck the left side of the Kohn car, which veered into a street pole on the corner and also a parked 1963 Chevrolet owned by Douglas Dunn, 210 W. Pottawatamie St.

The Kohn car was damaged on the left side and the right rear side. A rear window was also broken.

The Locke car was damaged on the front, right and fender.

The mishap occurred Friday on N. Pearl St.

The right front fender of a 1960 Chevrolet pickup driven by Arnett N. Willis, 20, Salyerville, Ky., was damaged when it was struck by a 1960 Plymouth driven by Robert Eugene Spence, 26, Britton.

Both cars were traveling east on E. Chicago Blvd. Friday at 6:30 a.m. when the Spence car sideswiped the pickup.

The left side of the Spence car was damaged.

Mr. Spence was ticketed for improper passing.

Friday at 9:35 p.m. a 1957 Ford driven by Jay Howell, 76, of Murphy Rd. struck a stop sign on Macon Rd. by the Airport Bowl.

He received a ticket for violation of the basic speed law. The car was not damaged.

Sunday at 10:05 p.m. a 1962 Ford pickup driven by Joe O'Pravil Jr., 49, struck the left rear fender of a parked 1950 Dodge pickup owned by Floyd F. Bohannon, 30, 208 N. Maumee St.

The Bohannon truck was parked on the east side of N. Maumee St.

Mr. O'Pravil was cited for failure to have car under control and leaving the scene of a property damage accident.

Story Hour will be held in the basement meeting room every Wednesday at 1:30 p.m., beginning June 10. All children in the area are welcome.

Donations To Help 6 Patients

Money collected will be used to aid the six muscular dystrophy patients in Lenawee County.

Memoriam

IN LOVING MEMORY of our dear sweet husband, father and grandfather, G. A. Abner, who passed away six years ago, May 26, 1958.
The one we loved was called away.
God took him home, it was his will
But in our hearts' he liveth still.
If we had all the world to give,
We'd give it yes, and more—
To hear your voice and see your smile—
And greet you at the door.
Greatly missed by his wife, children and grandchildren.
Mrs. G. A. Abner M28,p

TO THE DEPARTED Royal Neighbor Members from Camp 4069—
"To you-oh, you, who in sadness yearn,
For the old time step and the glad return,
Think of her still as the same, I say,
She is not dead — she is just away."

Kemp & Murphy Sweep Twin Bill in Bloop Loop

Kemp & Murphy swept a double header from Tecumseh Police in the City Slo-Pitch League Sunday afternoon.

Don Ives hurled both wins, 15-9, and 10-5.

Kemp & Murphy batters rattled out the base blows in the two tilts, Charles Raymond getting 3-for-3 in the nightcap, Don Johnson and Marion Chatfield having 3-for-4 in the first game.

Tom Barton of the Police nine went 3-for-4 in the opener, while his team mates, Clyde Locker, Dave Lemerand and Robert Wilkins all had 2-for-3 in the last game.

The Police couldn't turn the tide in the wrapup, despite having three double plays, states Wynne Matteson, league reporter.

In other league action, A & W-Bailey stopped McKeever Logging, 19-4, Sunday evening.

Harry Withrow and John Powell made up the winning battery.

Charles Owens of A & W nailed 4-for-5 at the plate.

THS Wins Huron Loop Track Title

The Tecumseh High School Indians easily won the Huron League track meet Wednesday at Eastern Michigan University and shared first place with Grosse Ile in the final league standings.

With six first place wins, the Indians finished with 60 points, far ahead of Grosse Ile's second place total of 37⅔.

Tecumseh's Steve Derby was the only double winner in the meet. He won both hurdle events with Jay Osburn second in the 120-yard highs.

The mile relay team set a new record time with a mark of 3:33.4, nearly four seconds better than a Blissfield team accomplished in 1961. Mike Sharp, Anders Eden, Dave Lemerand and Jim Brown made up this unit.

Tim Collins won a first in the 100-yard dash and a second in the 220.

Bill Thomas took the shot put with a toss of 46'1½" with teammate John Lindstrom second.

☆

OTHER POINT winners were Mike Sharpe in the mile with a fourth place finish, a 4:42 run which is a THS record. Dave Lemerand second in the 440 and Derby fourth in the broad jump.

The 880-relay unit — Tim Collins, Anders Eden, Steve Derby and Jim Brown — took first with a 1:34.5.

Library Faces Critical Problem

Voters here will decide June 8 whether they want to continue operating a library.

That day they will decide whether to levy a 6/10ths of a mill tax for five years to pay for library services. This will replace the old tax, which also ran for five years and which has been collected for the last time.

Local property taxes pay for more than one-half the cost of operating the library, which serves the same area as the Tecumseh School District.

THE LIBRARY has been running short of cash for several years, ever since state aid funds started dropping. Current operating budget is actually $5,000 less than it was five years ago. All the drop has been because of decreased state aid.

Current budget is $20,800, compared with $25,023 in the 1959-60 fiscal year.

Despite the drop in money — which has meant severe cuts in new materials and services — the library continues to do more and more business.

The number of persons holding library cards has more than doubled in the last decade and circulation of books, magazines and other materials has quadrupled.

THE LIBRARY board went to voters with a request for more operating funds last year, when the old millage still had a year to run. The request was rejected by 32 votes.

Cutting part-time help cancelling all book and magazine purchases and every other service possible, the library still ended the year with a $1,500 deficit.

This year the library is faced with a cut of more than 50% of its income. It could not operate without added funds.

ALWAYS A BUSY PLACE — Since opening its door, Tecumseh's new library has been attracting patrons at a startling rate, many of them students doing assignments and research work. If the library vote fails on June 8 there is a chance that the building might have to be closed. This would be a blow not only to the students, but also the many adults who appreciate the library. Circulation has jumped from 21,000 in 1953 to well over 75,000 in 1963.

Marilou Layton, daughter of Mrs. Joseph E. Layton, 903 Red Mill Dr., and the late Mr. Layton, was graduated from the University of Michigan May 22 with a bachelor's degree in English and a secondary teacher's certificate. Miss Layton plans to attend graduate school in January.

Mrs. Dean Schneirla will enter the University Medical Center May 31 for surgery to her left arm. The arm was broken April 10 when Mrs. Schneirla assisted with decorating a window for the Patterson School Fair.

Era Ends for Brandt Dime Store

Mrs. Ernest Brandt has sold out all the stock and fixtures from her 5c to $1 store last week after 31 years in the business.

She and her husband came to Tecumseh to manage the store then owned by Tribolet Co. in 1924. They were here three years, coming from Coldwater, then returned there to manage another variety store.

In February of 1933, the Brandts once more came to Tecumseh, this time to purchase the store from Tribolet.

Mr. Brandt died four years ago.

"Wright's Drug Store, Gaston's Jewelry and Baldwin Hardware are the only stores still in business, which were on main street at that time," said Mrs. Brandt.

Mrs. Brandt has one son, Max, who, with his wife, two sons and three daughters, lives in Lansing. He is employed with Graybar Electric Wholesale House.

A daughter, Mrs. Ivan Gorr, with her husband and five children, lives in Temperance.

JEAN HALL reflects on your Decorating Problems

DEAR MRS. HALL:

How expensive (actually) are custom-made draperies in comparison to ready-mades? Mrs. WBW

Although select custom mades cost a few dollars more, the work includes:

1. A wide fabric and style selection.

2. Sufficient material without excess. We order enough fabric to obtain a custom look with correct spacing and ample pleats. There is no excess fabric charge to the customer. (In some instances, companies charge for extra fabric to supplement labor costs.)
3. Personal attention in measuring and installation. This is a guarantee of perfect fit at the time of installation. Rod installation is done according to previous arrangements to best answer a particular problem.
4. Hand work with proper hem and headings. We have full four-inch double hems and double headings to insure perfect hanging without the use of weights. (Weights tend to make draperies sag where used and cause excess wear at this point.)

Clinton Has First Eagles in 30 Years

By OLIVE KOONS

CLINTON — For the first time in nearly 30 years, Clinton has an Eagle Scout — in fact, two of them.

Ivan McKenna, 14, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Paul McKenna, and Doug Wight, 15, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Wight, have won the coveted rank.

An Eagle Scout is the highest award offered by the Boy Scouts.

After a boy becomes a First Class Scout he works on his own, under qualified guidance in each field, on a series of merit badges. To become an Eagle, he must earn 21 merit badges.

An Eagle Scout proves himself in three areas — Scoutcraft, Scout teamwork and Scout spirit.

Ivan is a member of the Order of the Arrow and has participated in track, wrestling and basketball.

He is a ninth grader at Clinton, and is an active church member and is now working on his God and Country award.

Flee, Follow and Fight are Keys

BRITTON — Baccalaureate service for the graduating class of 1964 was held Sunday evening in the high school gymnasium.

The address, "The Key Of Life," was delivered by the Rev. Duane McNeil of the Bethel Baptist Church.

Using the 11th and 12th verses of the sixth chapter of Timothy, the Rev. Mr. McNeill selected three words from the text — flee, follow and fight.

"Flee the love of money and other youthful lusts and follow righteousness, Godliness, love and faith.

"Follow the teachings of Jesus and fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternal life," said Mr. McNeil.

In conclusion, the Rev. Mr. McNeil asked the graduates to search the scriptures themselves and see what the Bible really taught.

MRS. DONALD BUSH presided at the organ for the prelude, processional and recessional.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Robert Mitchinson of the Methodist Church.

Edna Bryant sang "The Stranger of Galilee".

A quartet composed of Harold Willett, John Willet, Doug Hall and Bill Bearinger of the Ridgeway Nazarene church, sang "To Be A Friend".

Miss Latham has been their advisor for the past three years and had some of the group in her English and literature classes for the past six years.

Also on the program were two junior girls, Ginger Frazier and Donna Tiede, who sang a duet.

Janice Ivan, Alan Heezen Exchange Vows

Janice Lee Ivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Ivan of Britton, became the bride of Alan Heezen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dirk Heezen of Evanston, Ill., May 23.

Nuptial high mass with a double ring ceremony was used by Fr. Picari for the wedding in St. Irene Catholic Church in Dundee.

Mrs. Theresa Lavoy was the organist, accompanying Joseph Sysel and his son, Frank, cousins of the bride's father, who sang.

The bride, on the arm of her father, approached the altar in a floor-length gown of silk organza trimmed with lace applique and seed pearls.

Her bouffant veil was secured to a crown of lace, pearls and rhinestones and she carried a bouquet of white phaelanopsis orchids outlined with Lilies of the Valley.

MRS. JOHN SPELTZ of Detroit, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor, gowned in white organza over mint green taffeta with an edging of embroidery along the floor-length hem line.

She carried a nosegay of shell-pink queen asters centered with roses and accented with green ribbon streamers.

The bridesmaids were her cousins, Mrs. Richard Whitefoot of Detroit, Mrs. Jerry Benedict of Britton and her sister, Karen Ivan.

MRS. ALAN HEEZEN

Junior bridesmaids were Gail Denhard and Toni Lee LaValley, cousins of the bride, and a sister, Cindy.

All were dressed as the matron of honor and carried similar nosegays. They wore pearl earrings and white muffs, gifts of the bride.

John Speltz served as best man and the guests were seated by Roger Wright, Larry Ivan and Bob Heezen.

Elaborate decorations including bird bath arrangements were used at the Products Workers Union Hall for the reception in the evening.

Mint green taffeta skirted the bride's table with garlands of pink tulle and satin ribbons at corners and the center.

A five-tiered wedding cake was flanked by white China urns centered with tall lighted tapers and arrangements of white snap dragons, daisies and pink roses.

Hurricane lamps centered arrangements of snap dragons, asters and daisies on each guest table. A pyramid wedding memory candle centered the buffet table.

☆

AFTER A HONEYMOON in northern Michigan, the newly-married Mr. and Mrs. Heezen will reside at 301 Nob Hill Place in Ann Arbor.

The bride attended Britton-Macon High School and the University of Michigan for two years. She is a graduate of the Lansing Practical Nurse Center and is employed at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor.

The groom attended Notre Dame University for two years and is presently working toward a doctor of philosophy degree in mathematics at the University of Michigan.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents at the Britton Hotel Friday evening.

If saving $6 per acre of corn doesn't interest you...

how about $8?

If you plant corn on corn, it takes 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen to decay the old stalks and still supply sufficient nitrogen for high yields.

Supply this nitrogen with Anhydrous Ammonia made by The Dow Chemical Company, and you'll save from $6 to $8 per acre over any other form of nitrogen.

Why?

Because Dow Anhydrous Ammonia is 82% nitrogen. The most concentrated and economical form you can buy.

You'll increase profits, too, by applying it with a tillage practice. You get increased quality. Higher protein content of feed grains. And time saved since Dow Anhydrous Ammonia is long-lasting and can be applied when your work load is light.

Stop skimping on nitrogen. Feed your crop what it takes for maximum yields. Dow Anhydrous Ammonia. The price is right. See us today.

Unemployment Claims Drop

Claims for unemployment compensation continue to drop at the Adrian Office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

Unemployment in April registered a healthly low of 2.3% of the total labor force.

This will swing back to approximately 5.6% in June as 1964 graduates enter the labor force.

During the first week of April claims totaled 389 and dropped to 300 during the first week of May 1964.

☆

THE DOLLAR value of benefit payments issued to Lenawee County unemployed individuals amounted to $36,853 during April which is $12,000 less than the March payments of $48,816 dollars.

One year early in April the Adrian office paid $66,720 dollars in unemployment insurance when unemployment was 4.3% of the total labor force.

Ten years ago in April benefit payments amounted to $115,603 when the weekly number of claims averaged 1,178 during the month and the ratio of unemployment was 5.7% with approximately 2,100 persons in Lenawee County unemployed, reports Clifford J. Rice, Adrian branch manager.

$500,000 'Y' Now Planned for Adrian

Adrian YMCA has purchased a tract of land at 706 W. Maumee St., in Adrian as the site of a new $500,000 "Y" building.

A new, modern building will replace the present crowded and out-moded plant erected in 1904, permitting expansion of services.

The new location will provide easy access to all residents of Lenawee County and provide a parking area.

A larger pool and gymnasium, more craft and club rooms, handball courts and rooms for community groups with kitchen service facilities will be provided.

To obtain money for this major project, an Adrian "YMCA Fund for Progress" has been established with headquarters in the Commercial Bank building.

Time Watched as Michigan Grew Great

(Editor's note — A student at Eastern Michigan University, Mary Martin of Ann Arbor, prepared this article to help point up the heritage of residents in Michigan during the week honoring this state.)

By MARY KATHERINE MARTIN
Special to The Herald

Some 10,000 years ago, Time saw whales swimming in prehistoric lakes near what today are Tecumseh, Flint, and Oscoda.

In the upland regions, he saw great hairy mammoths and heard them trumpeting through the ice and snow.

In the lowlands, he watched many mastedons, relatives of the modern day elephant.

Before the mastedons disappearance, Time listened to a tale of an old Indian grandmother. It was a warm October evening when the redskinned grandmother sat around the fire with her many grandchildren.

She explained that the Indian summer lingered on because the fat and lazy Sun-god had fallen asleep.

The mischievous Sun-god had planned to help Phebon, the winter, sting the poor Indians with cold. Weeng, the good Spirit of Sleep, had put the Sun-god to sleep so summer lingered on.

☆

FOR MANY thousands of years, Time watched the red man enjoy his hunting and fishing paradise.

Three great tribes once shared dominion over Michigan territory.

► The Chippewas of the Upper Peninsula

► The Ottawas of the northern half of the lower peninsula

► The Pottawatomies of the south.

They had named the area Michigamew — "Great Water".

The Lake Superior shoreline of northern Michigan was the scene of the immortalized legends of Longfellow's "Hiawatha".

Time saw the early Indian develop skills and inventions. The birch-bark canoe was perfected by Indian craftsmen centuries ago.

They established villages at strategic locations such as Detroit, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Saginaw, Pontiac, Escanaba and Jackson.

They layed out the Grand River Trail, Territorial Road and many others, for they were great travelers. Time saw the Indians cultivate corn, squash and beans.

☆

TIME STOOD by and watched the Indians develop a prosperous fur trade and mine copper.

Wolverine pelts trapped in Canada were relayed through the Soo to the East.

They mined copper and many other minerals in the Keweenaw Peninsula.

Time was loath to see the white man come with the inevitable struggle over this coveted land.

First the French Flag flew proudly over the area. There was struggle before the British flag was flown.

Finally, in 1796, Time watched as the British gave up their military outpost in Detroit and the United States flag was raised over Michigan soil.

Time does not linger, but travels ever on.

Today, he sees a new greatness in Michigan, but he does not forget yesterday's heritage.

Gardeners Are Asked To Watch for Jap Beetles

Mrs. Merle Dixon of Ann Arbor, was the guest speaker at the Tecumseh Garden Club May 15.

She showed colored slides to illustrate her talk on roses.

Mrs. Dixon asked any Lenawee County gardeners, who find Japanese beetles in their yard, immediately to call their county agent, John Comstock.

The beetles, unless checked can become a serious menace.

Mrs. Neil Pearson, the hostess, conducted a tour of her garden where many varieties of flowers were in bloom.

Tea was served by co-hostesses, Clarence Beach.

The June meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Bess Livingstone. At that time the group will tour Hidden Lake Gardens.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

WHAT A MAY

All through the long, dismal and dreary winter we dream of, and long for, marvelous May. Our fifth month abounds in wondrous happenings. Tulips reach their peak, fruit trees explode into blossom, flowering shrubs are breath-takingly beautiful and, of course, the annual bird migration north is at its height. This year I am pleased to report everything went according to plan, or should I say dream?

In fact, so much so that just after the magnolia trees were covered with their exquisite blooms, the rains came. Every year it happens.

Bird-wise, May had a grand and glorious start when, on the first day, we saw the handsome rose-breasted grosbeak and Baltimore oriole.

What a couple of colorful dudes — the grosbeak all black and white with a blood-red cravat and the oriole resplendent in his familiar brilliant orange and jet black.

The first full week of May was record-breakingly warm, temperatures reaching to the low 80's. Our bird sightings were almost record-breaking, too.

Sunday we were outside and Oh, what a stiff neck one can get from watching the darling little goldfinches bug-hunt in the tree tops.

This was not our first goldfinch, but it was perhaps the best.

A goodly number of the little flitters are making this neighborhood their headquarters and so they are now almost regulars. Good!

☆

MONDAY started off with a laugh when we looked out just in time to see one of Gertie's big white ducks fall off the top of Doctor's bridge.

It was a landing miscalculation, as he flew in something went wrong and, with a great flapping of white wings, he actually fell from his intended landing spot. Such a business.

But getting serious, this was the first day for a wren, a pair of cat birds and, one of the big thrills of the season, an indigo bunting.

Thrushes had us searching the bird books but we quickly decided that the reddish brown back, the red head and the heavily-spotted breast belonged to a wood thrush whereas the less distinctively-marked one was an olive-backed thrush.

Tuesday was an equally-lush day but, instead of newcomers, our window pictures were full of well, just everything. Flickers, six blue jays at once, goldfinches, cardinals, titmice, nuthatches, white-throated sparrows, white-crowned sparrows, kingfishers, etc., even yesterday's thrills returned — the cat birds, the thrushes and the oirole.

☆

WEDNESDAY was another bonanza of good looking. Robins and sparrows seem to be working overtime lugging nesting materials to their nest sites.

A veery sent us to the thrush section of the bird book and the many warblers, who darted through the tree tops, had us in a state of utter confusion.

I think we had yellow, blue wing and Prothonatary warblers. The tiny hummimg-bird, so interesting in a small honeysuckle bush on the creek bank, was much easier to name.

A weather front moved in during the weekend and the accompanying cold, rain and strong winds slowed things down.

By the time sunshine and blue sky re-appeared, the leaves on the trees were so big that no longer did we have front seats to all that was going on.

In fact, the green curtain was pulled down so tichtly we can only eavesdrop. But, there is so much to hear — chirps, warbles, cheeps, trills, whistles, coos, squeaks and what-have-you.

The springtime chorus reaches its height this time of year and I truly think a more beautiful serenade would be hard to find.

So it is that the fifth month has turned out to be all we hoped and with deep satisfaction we sigh, "What a May!"

NEXT WEEK: Stumped for a Title.

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

It took Joe LeFevre about 15 minutes to haul a sleek $29,000 Meyers 200C airplane downtown a week ago.

It took seven days to transport a roll of film, depicting the drama of the airship tooling along Evans St., to go by bus from Tecumseh to Detroit.

In the bargain, the community lost a blast of publicity in The Friendly Free Press, which waited patiently all one night that first evening, for the film to arrive.

This was a Michigan Week undertaking that surely would have rated big play in the metropolitan morning daily.

But the bus delivery service gummed the job.

At this end of the line, the folks at Wright's Drug store were on their toes. They dispatched the parcel within minutes after getting it, putting it safely aboard the 3:20 p.m. Short Line bus heading to Detroit.

A good start. This was Thursday, May 18.

On Thursday, May 25 at 10 p.m., the Free Press state desk phoned to report the roll of film had just arrived. And the Detroit bus station said the package had only gotten there that evening!

I wonder how many Short Line passengers get seven-day journeys for the price of a two-hour jaunt?

Well, anyway, having the plane downtown created a tremendous amount of interest. It was parked next to the Michigan Week industrial display at the Adrian Federal Savings & Loan building for an afternoon.

Forest Abner came up with the idea (and when you mention his name, you're always supposed to add, "Don't forget the big Fourth of July Celebration!"

Mr. LeFevre, sales manager at Meyers, got busy and built a special hitch to link the plane to his compact Corvair.

Police Chief Murell Clark was consulted and he organized a posse that would do Marshal Dillon proud, including fellows from Sheriff Bob Stites' office and the auxiliary police.

Seven cars and numerous men were on hand to halt traffic on N. Evans and at all cross streets between the Meyers' plant and the Four Corners.

The journey went smoothly, with biggest concern coming as the ship inched across the Red Mill Pond bridge near A & P — scant eight inches to spare at each wing tip.

People popped out from every direction to see the 200C glide into town.

At Logan St. a policeman stopped a car about to cross Evans, telling the driver, "Watch out, there's a plane coming."

The puzzled man behind the wheel blinked, eyed the gendarme and muttered, "Are you nuts?" Seconds later the driver was doing a real Abbott and Costello double-take.

We wonder how many people around these parts realize Tecumseh is only one of three places in Michigan where airplanes are built? Especially, that Tecumseh has the only plant making a luxury executive plane?

That's why this move-a-plane-downtown idea is so good. It graphically pointed up one of the town's products and I'd say let's do it again sometime.

Maybe the next time, pictures for outside consumption can be hand-carried to the dailies and Tecumseh receive some justified state-wide publicity.

Few Expected To Visit Polls

Two of three issues on Monday's ballot involve the local schools.

One is the election of two candidates to four-year terms on the School Board. Aden Mead, incumbent, and Herbert Simpson are the only candidates.

Anyone wishing to write-in a candidate may do so by using space provided on the voting machines.

Each voting machine has slots over the candidates' names. Voters will have to slide back the lid covering the slot, write in the name as recorded in the registration books.

Exact information may be obtained at the polls from election officials.

The other issue involves a request from the School Board to change Tecumseh from a Fourth Class District to a Third Class.

Third Class Districts were set up by law for large school districts and many such schools are already operating under this classification.

Since there are few controversial issues on Monday's ballot, which also includes a small millage for the public library, a light voting turnout is expected.

Big Party for GM

A committee of civic leaders has begun work on a slam-bang program which will welcome General Motors to Tecumseh. It will start with a ground-breaking ceremony at the site of the city's new Fisher Body plant and conclude with a banquet and program at Tecumseh Country Club. The group has invited Gov. George Romney to participate in the festivities. Tentative dates are either July 7, 8 or 9.

Occidental Sewer Job Given OK

A special assessment for a sanitary sewer on Occidental Rd. was approved for scheduling Monday night by Council.

City Manager Cal Zorn said that city finances would not permit such an installation at this time.

☆

IN OTHER action, Council:

► Somewhat reluctantly approved a transfer of an SDM tavern license from Anthony and Mary Markiewicz to Robert and Ruth Albrecht of Jackson. Several Councilmen praised the present tavern owners for the excellent manner in which they have operated their tavern.

► Reappointed Perry Satterthwaite to the Herrick Hospital Board.

► Authorized a letter of appreciation to the American Legion Auxiliary for donating a new flag to city hall.

Library Faces Critical Vote

Tecumseh Library Board members and friends of the library are making an all-out drive to get voters to the polls Monday.

They realize that people who don't bother, or simply forget, to vote for a proposition they support can force the library to close its doors.

Up for vote is a proposal to levy a 6/10th of a mill tax to operate the library. This would replace a 32/100th of a mill which has expired.

Already running in debt since last year, the board sought a similar levy last year. It lost by 32 ballots.

A defeat this year would mean loss of more than one-half its operating budget and force the library to close.

With two candidates for two openings on the Board of Education and no controversial questions on the ballot, a light turnout is expected.

☆

OFFICIALS familiar with local elections told library supporters that a number of "no" votes can be expected on any millage issue, no matter how small the amount or how important the cause.

"You can count on these. You won't be able to change their minds. Your only answer is to get out enough supporting votes to cancel the "noes," the library board was told.

Adult and student volunteers will be on the phone Monday to remind voters, and rides will be offered to anyone who needs them.

For those who wish to volunteer their help — or who will need a ride to the polls — phone 423-2238.

Car Wash Units Being Constructed

Two car wash units are now under construction in Tecumseh.

One is located just east of the A & P and the other across from Greenwald Cleaners on W. Chicago Blvd.

Jack Osburn, owner, says both should be in operation about July 1.

The "U-Wash-It" units have proved successful in other communities.

Mr. Osburn says the low-cost car wash operates on the same principle as a laundromat. Normal cost will be either 25c or 50c per car.

A fine spray, under 500 pounds pressure, includes cleansing detergent to loosen dirt and grime from the car.

Fluoride Program To Start

Mrs. Robert D. Moore, chairman, has announced that the Topical Fluoride program will begin here Thursday, June 11, and continue through the month.

A clinic will be established at the Tecumseh Acres School and Mrs. Moore is sending appointment cards to registered students.

Further information will be printed in the next issue

A new marching feature this year was the Southeastern Battalion Knight Templars, whose 50 members formed a cross at Tecumseh main intersection and again at the speakers' stand in Brookside Cemetery.

Hearty Souls Open 'Pit' Swim Season

Swimming at the "Pit" officially opened Memorial Day with several hardy souls taking advantage of the newly-purchased city recreation area.

Don Moffatt, superintendent of Parks and Recreation, announced that the old diving board and platform have been torn down, enlarging the beach area.

Plans have been made to bull-doze from the top of the hill to water's edge, which will eliminate the old steps to the beach.

The floating raft has been rebuilt and painted and the department plans to top gravel and oil the road to eliminate dust.

Mr. Moffatt is looking for empty white plastic gallon size Roman Cleanser jugs, which will be used for buoys roping off non-swimmer area. The bottles may be given to any lifeguard at the "Pit."

He is also on the lookout for another rowboat, badly needed to insure increased safety.

Anyone wishing to donate a boat may call him at City Hall.

Advanced-beginner certificate holders may use the "Pit."

Beginners, accompanied by parents, may also swim there.

The "Pit" will be open seven days a week from 1 to 8:45 p.m. No instruction lessons will be offered at that location.

Swimming fee will be 35c per person, but Mr. Moffatt added that season passes are being considered, if the demand for them is great enough.

GM Hits Peak in Production

General Motors produced 511,609 passenger cars and commercial vehicles in the United States and Canada during May, as compared with 485,474 during May, 1963.

Cheerleaders Seek Dirty Cars

Cheerleaders of Tecumseh High School will have a car wash at Easton's Service Station Saturday from 9 a.m. until 8 p.m. New uniforms for the varsity cheerleaders will be purchased for next year with the proceeds.

Peerless Opens

CLINTON — Things are beginning to roll at the Peerless Gear Division of Tecumseh Products Co.

With machinery in place, limited production is starting, reports Bart Christman, plant manager.

The present one-shift operation will gradually build into two shifts about August, estimates Mr. Christman, with the possibility of three by December.

Peerless will concentrate on production of trans-axles for small garden tractors. This is a gear assembly in which the transmission and differential are combined in one housing.

There are 75 different parts needed for a trans-axle with several duplicated to make a total of 143 in each assembly.

With 60,000 square feet of production space and 3,000 square feet for office, the plant is located on Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., just south of Clinton.

Peerless was originally based in Dunkirk, O., and certain operations are still being continued there.

☆

IN ADDITION to Mr. Christman, who had been on special assignment with Tecumseh Products for nine months, other key personnel at the Peerless plant here are:

► Doug Hall, master mechanic, who was transferred from the Products.

► Roland VonKaler, chief engineer.

► Bud Herndon and Ed Koscho, plant superintendents.

Among Peerless customers are some well-known names in the field of tractor manufacture. — Toro, Sears-Roebuck, John Deere.

Peerless is currently accepting applications from potential employees.

Toll-Free System Sought

Tecumseh residents may one day soon be able to call Adrian, Britton and Clinton without toll charges.

General Telephone Co. will apply shortly for extended area service with the Michigan Public Service Commission to get approval for the plan.

In the move, Adrian calls to the other three communities [illegible] Clinton and Britton subscribers would be able to dial just Tecumseh and Adrian toll-free.

☆

R. E. KINSMAN, Gen Tel Division manager, said "Extensive studies of the volume of long distance calls between these various exchanges have established evidence of a strong community of interest between them.

"Also, a direct mail survey of all customers revealed that a majority of those returning the survey cards were in favor of extended area service," Mr. Kinsman added.

The application to the MPSC will seek authority for both initiation of the toll-free service as well as a new schedule of local service rates.

☆

CHARGES WILL be revised upward as a result of the enlarged calling area, offsetting in part the loss of revenue caused by elimination of the long distance charges.

If approval is given, engineering, construction and equipment installation would require approximately 24 months.

Boardman Tells PTA 'Vote Yes'

Dr. Harold Ocamb, member of the Library board, spoke to 62 attending the Herrick Park PTA May 27.

He urged the approval of the library millage vote, saying that the library would probably have to be closed if an approving vote is not forthcoming.

He said that the library serves a much larger area than previously, since the school area has grown extensively.

The library is a public institution, but the administration does try to cover the needs of the school system.

Airman Returns for Diploma

A 2/c George Forgacs will receive his Tecumseh High diploma Sunday afternoon — two years later.

While still a student, Airman Forgacs enlisted in the Air Force March 15, 1962.

Since then he has completed studies at the education center at Kedena, Okinawa to qualify for his diploma.

He was an instrument repairman on the base.

A change of assignment made it possible for Airman Forgacs to be home at commencement time.

Airman Forgacs is the son of Mrs. William Houser, 2303 Occidental Rd. and the late George Forgacs.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Keep the Library Open

To put it bluntly, the Tecumseh Public Library will be authorized 6/10th of a mill by School District voters Monday — if not, the library closes.

That's the situation and it certainly seems ironic at a time when times are booming.

But these are the facts and we'd better get chopping.

The amount sought for library operation is meager and so the issue boils down to the fact that people are going to have to get out and vote.

Unfortunately, the attraction of this vote is outwardly meager and people will be tempted to just forget.

Here's your reminder to keep the library open by voting "YES" Monday.

Free Chest X-Ray

One of the best checks on a person's health is the chest X-ray.

We're certainly lucky to be able to get one each year — free at that — through the Lenawee County Mobile unit.

It will be in Clinton Thursday and Tecumseh Friday and Monday. As the ads say, "nothing to buy, no jingles to write, no sentences to finish with 25 words."

There is no disrobing folks, simply step up to the X-ray unit and zingo that's it. If there's anything wrong, you'll be quickly notified.

Be sure to get that free X-ray.

Everyone Will Be Winner

"Say, that's a wonderful idea, we should have done it long ago."

This could be the reaction to the new Industrial Development Program, which is now training high school youths to become qualified machine operators.

It's an enterprise approved by the Michigan Department of Education and taught by some of the most talented industrial brains in the area.

Attending are young men anxious to go into technical instead of academic fields.

They want to learn, the instructors want to teach and industry needs semi-skilled labor. It's an unbeatable combination.

Speaking of the first 25 enrollees — who neither pay or are paid during their 13-week course — Harold Tooman of ACA in Clinton, said, "They're on the ball every minute."

In the 17 and 18-year-old bracket, these fellows are starting out on a career and they want to learn all they can about machinery. The course will do a beautiful job of this.

As far as we can tell, everyone is going to be a winner in this effort.

"Yes" for Progress

Voters will decide Monday whether Tecumseh schools change from a Fourth Class to a Third Class District.

If the electorate decides in favor of the change, the local schools will realize some savings by being able to hold their elections at the same time as the city and through elimination of keeping the same registration cards as the city.

The local schools are growing rapidly and the Third Class District has been adopted by many large schools such as Adrian.

We feel that the change is warranted and should improve operation and management of the district by the board.

The Fourth Class District is more suitable to small schools — Tecumseh is no longer small and within a couple of years will rank among the larger schools in the state.

Your vote for the change Monday will be another step towards keeping our local schools on a progressive road.

Russell Rd. Will Soon Be Seal-Coated

A pleasant surprise for Russell Rd. residents and Gray Mfg. came Monday night when it was announced at Council meeting that S. Maumee and Russell Rd. to the DT&I railroad would be seal-coated.

The two streets have been torn up for many months and often barely negotiable for traffic.

Work is expected to start within the next few days.

Apartment Plan Waits on Zoning

A request to re-zone part of a lot just south of W. Chicago Blvd., from Highway Business to Multiple Family, was reviewed by Council Monday night.

Lester Handy, owner of the lot which fronts on Cairns St., and William Powell, real estate agent, told Councilmen that a couple from Detroit planned an investment here for a 16-unit apartment dwelling.

A public hearing was scheduled for July 6.

Senior Citizens In Lawn Games

Table games, card games and lawn games — if weather permits — will highlight the second gathering of senior citizens Thursday, June 4, at the Community Center from 2 to 4 p.m.

Arrangements have been made by an all-male committee of Worthy Chandler, Waldo Mohr, Oren Feight and Lester Hunt.

Mayor Harold Easton and Tom Riordan will be special guests, invited by the committee.

Refreshments will be served according to Don Moffatt, superintendent of Parks and Recreation.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Lanning and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McConnell spent last weekend at South Branch. Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Puffer were also at their cottage at South Branch over last weekend.

Isabel Lee McCombs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McCombs, 207 S. Oneida St., will be among the graduates from St. Joseph Mercy School of Nursing from the Ann Arbor Unit Sunday. Exercises will be held at the Mercy College in Detroit. Miss McCombs is a 1961 graduate of Tecumseh High School.

Violations Drop, So Does Cash

The crime rate around here is dropping, so Tecumseh Public Library is losing money.

Tecumseh, along with other public libraries across Michigan, is in the curious position of depending on law-breakers for a large share of its income.

The source is penal fines, the penalties charged for breaking state laws on highways, violations of hunting and fishing laws and others.

This share of the income has dropped from $12,426 to $8,700 in just five years, and further drops are forecast.

These fines are kept in the counties where they are collected, and distributed on a population basis to public libraries.

The greatest share of these fines came from truckers who broke weight restrictions. When the new high-speed non-restricted expressways took trucks off busy US-12 and US-223 in Lenawee County, they also took away the largest source of income for the libraries.

Monday's millage vote is an attempt to replace the declining fines with "honest" tax dollars.

Well Dug, Irrigation Started

Landscaping plans for the Herrick Memorial Hospital and Nursing Home are on display in the lobby of the hospital.

A well was dug Tuesday and an irrigation system installed to provide water for the shrubs and flowers.

The American Home Garden Club of Jackson will hold a picnic Friday in Kiwanis Park.

Members will see the landscaping at the hospital and tour Hidden Lake Gardens.

Shirley Creger Marries Ernest Clemons

The vows of the double ring ceremony were repeated by Shirley May Creger and Ernest Clemons Friday in the Friends Church at Tecumseh. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Paul Brantingham.

Baskets of spring flowers enhanced the altar as the church organist, Mrs. Amos Wilson played a prelude of nuptial music.

Seating the guests were James Creger, brother of the bride, and Jerry Bise.

Mrs. M. M. Halley sang two selections, "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me."

MRS. ERNEST CLEMONSE

The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Creger of 104 Muscody St.

Given in marriage by her grandparents, the bride was attractive in her ballerina length gown of lace with long sleeves and sabrina neck line embroidered sequins.

The full skirt with over skirt in the back was edged with a tulle ruffle.

Her circular veil of tulle was fastened to a dainty crown of crystals. Her jewelry was a tear drop crystal.

Attired in romance blue chiffon, Mrs. Thomas Adams of Deerfield, cousin of the bride, was the only brides attendant.

☆

RONALD CREGER of Clinton served as best man.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors for 150 guests.

The three-tiered wedding cake was made by the bride's cousin, Mrs. Daniel Crawford of Grass Lake. The bridegroom's cake was served by Mrs. Jerry Bise.

Mrs. Claude Creger and Mrs. Raymond Service of Clinton, aunts of the bride, served the wedding cake. Mrs. Blanche Cregg presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Gladys Shellheart ved the coffee.

Marilyn Service registered the guests and Mrs. Vern Sharp was in charge of the gifts.

Mrs. Clemons attended Tecumseh High School. Mr. Clemons graduated from Dansville High School in 1959 and is employed at Tuttles Electric in Tecumseh.

The couple will reside at 503 N. Evans St.

Free X-Rays Can Spot TB

Tecumseh residents, along with all Lenawee County folks, can take advantage of free chest X-rays and tuberculin tests this weekend.

Tuberculosis is not on the way to being eradicated as many people think.

"Now, it is true — thanks to modern methods of diagnosis and treatment — that there has been a marked decline in death from tuberculosis and that the number of TB hospitals has been reduced due to a decreased need for care of patients over a long period of time," said Dr. Alfred Heustis.

"But despite this progress, statistics show that we have not succeeded in preventing the extension of tuberculosis infection nor have we stopped transmission of the disease to new generations," continued the commissioner.

"Statistics show that tuberculosis is a threat that none of us can afford to ignore," said Dr. Heustis.

The mobile unit will be in Clinton Thursday, June 4, from 12 until 2 p.m. and 3 until 7 p.m. at the State Savings Bank.

It will be in Tecumseh two days in the Rosacrans building, Friday, from 2 to 6 p.m. and Monday from 12 until 2 p.m. and 3 until 7 p.m.

Dr. Heustis said, "To ultimately eradicate TB we must attack the reservoir of germs that exist within people in our communities.

"Any person who has a positive reaction to the tuberculin test should have an X-ray at least every year," he added.

(Keeping a roof over your head)

Wind can blow your roof off . . . fire can burn it off . . . a Home-Gard homeowners policy will replace the loss. But there are other ways to lose the roof over your head . . . someone injured on your property can get a large liability judgment against you. In that case you may lose the roof and the rest of the house. Here again, a Michigan Mutual Liability Home-Gard will protect against liability losses as well as other hazards.

POST-EMERGENCE WEED SPRAYS FOR CORN give a second chance for controlling weeds. There are several materials now available for doing the job, including 2,4-D, Lorox and Dalapon. With the exception of 2,4-D, these materials need to be applied as a directed spray, as illustrated, to avoid injury to the corn. Ideally, corn needs to be about twice as tall as the weeds. Best kill is obtained when weeds are 6 inches or less.

PRODUCTION OF FED CATTLE IN CONFINEMENT received support from University of Arkansas test results. Steers in close confinement of 32 square feet per animal gained 3.02 pounds daily compared with 2.08 pounds among steers having 356 square feet. Confined steers ate 2.84 pounds less feed per day and required 1.43 fewer pounds of feed per pound of gain. Results will vary, of course, with feedlot conditions and time of year.

GRAZE PASTURES IN "SHIFTS" to get top milk production. Rotational grazing has long been recognized as one way to boost pasture yields. A new twist is to turn the milking herd in to graze the most nutritious forage first, then finish off with dry cows and heifers. In a Virginia test, "first shift" milking cows produced seven more pounds than milking cows turned in to graze the remaining half of the grazable forage.

OIL CONTAMINATED WELL WATER can result from a leaking fuel oil tank located too close to a well. If you have a fuel oil tank more than 10 years old which is buried near your well, better think about replacing it. Whether replacing an old tank or installing a new one, bury it at least 300 feet from your well.

Two schools new to Tecumseh Indians' football schedule will be on the card next fall.

Tipton School Notes

FIRST GRADE

We are having our semester tests this week.

Our play, "The Warm Coat," was attended by 16 parents, along with second, third and fourth grades. Many thanks to the mothers who helped with the costumes.

Marsha Bale went with her Grandpa and Grandma Bales on a trip to Northern Michigan.

We celebrated Randy Stein's birthday this month. Cup cakes and Fizzies were our special treats.

Russell Stevens and Sharon Stoddard are confined to their homes with mumps. They will not be able to attend school the rest of the year.

SECOND GRADE

We enjoyed the first grade play.

Monday we went to a bakery in Jackson, saw them make Holsum bread. Each one of us was given a hat to wear. Twelve mothers went with us. We were given a loaf of bread to bring home.

We rode on the Indian bus and enjoyed a picnic dinner at the park.

THIRD GRADE

Our room made some pictures of different ways of transportation. They were for the past, present and future. We colored a map of the world and named the continents and oceans.

We also colored a map of North America and named the countries.

We are taking tests this week. We have only four more days of school.

FOURTH GRADE

We took a Reading test and a Science test.

One of our tadpoles now has legs. He is losing his tail. Richy Bacon got a stone and put in the aquarium so he can breathe. (Editor's note — The tadpole, we suppose.)

Richard Mukensturm had a birthday last Wednesday. He treated all of us with candy suckers. We sang "Happy Birthday" to him. Cathy Jean Kreighbaum will be 10 years old this week.

Rick Bacon made a buzzer that worked by a dry cell. We have been studying about electricity in Science Class.

FIFTH GRADE

Fifth graders went to the Henry Ford Museum for our trip. We left at about 8:45 a.m. and arrived at about 10 a.m. We had a good time there. We saw old tractors, cars, trains, stores and airplanes.

We also saw a car that could go 135 mph. We left for school at about 2:10 p.m. and arrived at school safe and sound at about 3:15 p.m.

We were accompanied by eight mothers on the trip. Each mother took charge of a small group.

We appreciated the assistance given by Mrs. Don Daniels, Mrs. Raynor Van Valkenburg, Mrs. Merlin Young, Mrs. Robert Karle, Mrs. Maude Fisher, Mrs. Linwood Wimple, Mrs. Lawrence Church and Mrs. C. R. LaFerriere on our trip.

SIXTH GRADE

On May 26, we went on our trip to Greenfield Village. Famous peoples' homes were there and they were furnished just as they were then.

There were animals standing in different places. If you ever get a chance to go, it's worthwhile.

Friday, May 29, we had a spelldown. Wendy Vollmer and Cindy Vanderpool were winners. We are planning to have a spell down with the fifth grade.

We learned how to make graphs June 1. After you get used to them it's easy.

Thursday there was a ring around the sun. If you saw it, you were fortunate.

For All We Hold Sacred . . . Attend Church

NO Pictures?

Don't be sad, sweetheart.

The book has no pictures, but it's a wonderful story . . . the most wonderful story in the world! You'll hear about it in Sunday School, and when you're older you'll be able to read it for yourself.

Her eager young mind is ready to learn, and she'll find it easy to understand the glorious truths of the Bible if they are presented to her in pictures, stories and songs. The happy hours she spends in Sunday School could be the beginning of an unshakable Christian faith that will sustain her all her life.

You feel that your children deserve the best. Give them an early introduction to the beauty of the Christian religion . . . give them the security of a loving Christian home . . . and know that these are the greatest gifts you could provide.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

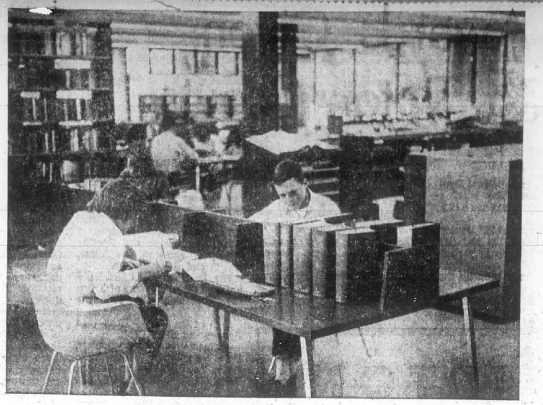
TECUMSEH LIBRARY NEEDS YOUR HELP

Vote Yes

OUR NEW AND BEAUTIFUL PUBLIC LIBRARY, ADMIRED BY THOUSANDS, IS IN DESPERATE NEED OF OPERATING FUNDS. LOCAL MILLAGE, WHICH PROVIDES ABOUT HALF OF THE BUDGET, HAS EXPIRED. THIS MILLAGE AMOUNTED TO .32 MILLS. NEW MILLAGE BEING ASKED IS .6 MILL, AN INCREASE OF ONLY .28 MILLS. WHILE OUR COSTS HAVE INCREASED SLIGHTLY, OUR INCOME HAS DROPPED BY APPROXIMATELY 20%. OUR LIBRARY CAN NOT CONTINUE AND STILL MEET AN INCREASING DEMAND FOR SERVICES FROM STUDENTS AND ADULTS WITHOUT MONDAY'S MILLAGE. FEW REALIZE THAT IN CIRCULATION ALONE, USAGE HAS MULTIPLIED SEVEN OR EIGHT TIMES OVER THE PAST FEW YEARS. A VOTE MONDAY IN FAVOR OF THE .6 MILLS WILL INSURE KEEPING YOUR LIBRARY OPEN.



OUR PAST

As you know, we formerly occupied the old library building on West Chicago Blvd. It is ironical that we had a larger budget then with a smaller building than the present situation, where we have a smaller budget with a larger building. The larger and modern building had to come as the older facility simply was not large enough to accommodate the increasing number of students and adults using our services. Circulation of books, etc., has increased from 10,000 to over 75,000. The inevitable resulted in a larger, new, and more modern library from your contributions to the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation.

OUR PRESENT

We have now occupied one of the finest libraries in this area for about two years, at least, in appearance. Due to lack of funds, we have not kept pace in adding appropriate books and reading materials. The reason is simple – our budget is smaller today than it was five years ago. Major cause resulting in a smaller budget is the fact that new expressways to the interior of Michigan have reduced our income from the county penal funds–fines resulting from traffic arrests. For example, we now realize about $8,700 from this fund, as in previous years it used to be considerably higher . . . and local millage has not increased for many years.

Our Future?

We need your YES vote for six-tenths of a mill on Monday to insure keeping the library open. The .32 mill you've been paying has expired. The new millage that is being asked is so small that most taxpayers will not even notice it on their tax statements. It's increase of .28 mill, far less than the price of a carton of cigarettes for most people. Without the millage, we will lose State Aid, amounting to about $1,000 annually. A small sum for an operation our size, but not so small when you realize the total library budget is now $20,700 – about $5,000 less than it was four years ago. Our staff, open hours and other factors influencing cost have been juggled by your Library Board to make the most of its budget. Many of us consider the Library as one of Tecumseh's finest assets. It is one of our assets that is so vital, yet costs so little – please help with your YES vote.

Vote Yes – Vote For Library's Small .6 Millage

We Approve and Endorse the .6 Mill for Tecumseh Library . . . for Students and Adults Alike

Add Another

Mr. and Mrs. William Fielder, happily added another grandchild to their list of over 35.

Staff Sergeant and Mrs. George Fleshman, nee Patricia Fielder, became the parents of a daughter, Laurie Ann, born May 12 in Lincoln Nebraska. The baby weighed six pounds 15½ ozs.

KING OF CORN GROWERS — Adult farm instructor Paul Burns (left) made an in-the-field trophy presentation last week to Nilwen Bishop, who got the best yield in the 1963 corn contest, 137½ bushels to the acre. He topped Jim Rundell, Charles Bishop, Fred Feight, Ralph Schafer, Otto Miller, Lawrence Young, Roger and Gary Korte and Larry Shea. This was the second time Nilwen took the corn crown, the first being in 1959. Mr. Feight won in 1960 and 1962. Mr. Burns will welcome entrants now for the 1964 competition.

Industrial Training Program Teaches Seniors New Skills

By TOM RIORDAN

Twenty-five seniors from area schools are helping make history.

They're the first students of a newly-created Industrial Training Program, which can eventually be of prime importance to recruitment by plants of semi-skilled labor.

Represented are young men from Tecumseh, Clinton, Britton, Dundee and Manchester.

Called the "pilot" class, the 25 will wrap up their 13-week volunteer course the end of June.

They'll be well acquainted with machine operations, having gotten careful instruction two evenings a week, totaling four hours, at three plants.

☆

SPEARHEADING the program are Harold Tooman, Manager of Manufacturing Engineering at ACA Division of Clinton Engines, and Don Cobb, Engineering Sales of Tecumseh Products Co.

Charles Gross, Tecumseh High School Industrial Arts instructor, is coordinator of the training sessions.

These are being held at ACA, Manchester Tool & Die Co. and The Thomas Co. in Clinton each Tuesday and Thursday night.

☆

THE SECOND set of 25 youths will begin training in July. They'll follow the same carefully-arranged two-hour sessions as the first group:

► Orientation — explain purpose and intent of course, tour plants so boys can see machines and equipment with which they'll work. (two hours)

► Safety — View safety film, be instructed by safety expert, with safety stressed through all sessions. (Two hours.)

► Gages and reading of simple blue prints — Includes use cator and profilometerf gauges of snap, thread, height, dial indi- (Two hours.)

► Machine operation — Drill press and set-up (four hours), tappers, milling machines, grinders, saws, jig bores, radial drills, turret lathe.

The Michigan Department of Public Instruction has approved the training and pays one-half of Mr. Gross' salary. The other half is paid by the companies involved.

☆

CERTIFIED AS instructors are:

From ACA — Mr. Tooman, Denzel Myers, Maurice Hunt and Del Manchester, tool makers.

From Budd Wheel Co. (which has a contract with ACA) — Charles Straight, Chief Process Engineer of Disc Brake Division; Eugene Hudson, Manager Quality Control of Automobile Division.

From Manchester Tool & Die Co. — Clarence Fielder, president; Eugene Bentschneider, vice president; Theodore Stautz, secretary and treasurer; Robert Punches, and Claude Gage, tool and die makers.

From the Thomas Co. — John C. Thomas, president; James Pinkard, Supervisor of Grinding Department; Cris Wheeler, plant manager.

Due to the jammed schedule, Tecumseh Products was unable to provide any machines for the first session, but will be taking part with the second one.

☆

MR. TOOMAN states that program directors hope to have more companies involved as the idea catches on and expands.

"We're real proud of what the first 25 boys accomplished. They haven't missed any sessions, and have been on the ball every minute," he stated.

Young men, mainly those who are seeking a technical career and do not intend to enroll in college, are being invited to participate in the plan.

They can qualify as bench inspectors and machine operators. Mr. Tooman said that from this point the next step would be learning skills of tool and die making.

Tecumseh High School has been designated as the educational unit to process all paper work.

☆

AMONG THE first 25 were Tecumseh's Joseph Lopez, Tom Meyers, Glenn Schmidt, Keith Kruse and Doug Sherman.

Clinton has Cary Kime, Charles Roumell, Richard Brown, Richard Thomas and Eugene McCollum.

Britton is sending Lee Wagner, Santos Flores, Richard Papworth, Allen Rosa, Mike Pilbeam and Roger Bortel.

Magic Words and Prayers Aid Macon Loop Golfers

By CHUCK ALLEN

The Tecumseh - Clinton Macon golf league was finally blessed by decent golfing weather after five straight cold, hurricane-ish type weeks.

It was crisp enough to feel comfortable in one suit of underwear and it didn't rain a drop.

Consequently the scores dropped to more respectable figures and everyone commented on the other fellows' handicap.

Eldon Walker tallied by far the best score with a one over par, 37.

Jakum said a few magic words to his putter and birdied three straight holes.

Bob French and Vern Manwaring used short prayers and took 15 points from their opponents to move into first place.

New Tecumseh Portrait

By CLARA WALDRON

(Editor's note — Clara Waldron, now busy on an authentic and complete history of Tecumseh, offers this interesting short item after having received the accompanying copy of painting from the Chicago Natural History Museum.)

It was the natural nobility of Shawnee Chief Tecumseh which led Musgrove Evans to give that Indian's name to the Michigan town he had founded.

This painting, by an unknown artist, seems to have caught that attribute.

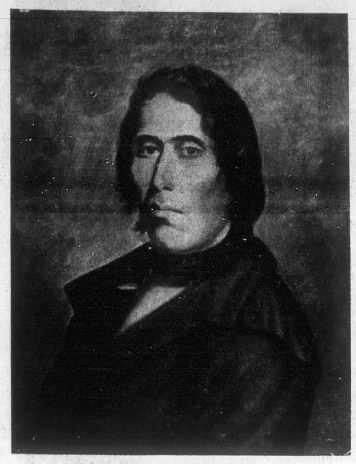
Owned by the Chicago Natural History Museum, it is the only authentic portrait of Tecumseh in existence.

It shows him in white man's clothes, which he wore on occasion and is in startling contrast to common ideas of his appearance.

Even in full Indian regalia, however, Tecumseh bore little resemblance to western Indians like Sitting Bull. Tecumseh's Shawnee head-dress was a modest cap and headband, backed by a few eagle feathers.

When time permits, Tecumseh may have its own portrait of the city's namesake.

Artist Russell Steinke, intrigued by the interesting features of the subject, plans to paint what he hopes will be an authentic study of Chief Tecumseh.



SHAWNEE CHIEF TECUMSEH

Mr. and Mrs. Neri Collingsworth, 402 Brown S.t., will celebrate their silver wedding anniversary Sunday. They will be feted at an open house given at their home by their sons, Arthur and Carl, from 2 to 5 p.m. They invite their relatives, friends and neighbors to attend.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

STUMPED FOR A TITLE

This is ridiculous — in all the years I have been doing these "Through My Window" pieces I have for the first time, come up against a blank wall as far as the title is concerned.

The subject matter, cowbirds, is no problem but an article heading — nothing.

It would seem that dozens of titles should come to mind, but somehow they don't, so we will just continue and hope for a brainstorm before column's end.

Cowbirds are interesting. They have some deplorable habits, but they are interesting.

Appearance-wise, the males look much like small blackbirds. They are about eight inches in length, have rather long tails and small bills. Their bodies are shiny black. Pulled down over their round heads are chocolate brown hoods, which in the proper light, take on an almost coppery look.

The females — and how many times have we said this about the ladies of the bird world? — but anyway, the female cowbirds are a dull drab lot, dressed in nondescript tan.

☆

THESE BIRDS received their somewhat unbirdlike name because of their close association with cattle.

At one time they were probably called buffalo birds, but, of course, as the great herds of bison died out so did this name. Now cattle perform the function of the buffalo — the birds use the animals as meal-tickets.

As the stock moves or grazes, they disturb and flush out great numbers of insects and thus the cowbirds, following closely, "have easy pickings."

Life for these characters is just one long session of fun and games. At this time of year, when most birds are running themselves ragged with nest-building and family raising, the cowbird goes happily on his carefree way, "eating, drinking and making merry."

They are parasitic breeding birds — that is to say, they leave to others the job of bringing up their families.

I dislike quoting too much from books, but there is a passage in "Birds of America" which so marvelously describes the courting procedure that I simply must share it with you.

"In their wooing, the males swell and bristle . . . bowing and spluttering in attempts to make themselves agreeable. The wings and tail are spread and the birds almost go into convulsions in their efforts to sing, but produce nothing more than a rather unmusical chuck-see."

Shades of the over-plentiful grackles.

☆

THERE IS no pairing off or family life for the cowbirds — free love is their theory.

When the female senses that a nest should be found, she sneaks around searching often for a sparrow, warbler or cardinal's home. Depositing the egg she flits away, giving not another thought to the future generation.

As the mother cowbirds continue her loose ways, the foster parents usually accept their unasked for responsibility. Occasionally, the yellow warbler will build a new nest over the unwanted egg and once in a while, a bird will desert, but more often than not the cowbird egg is hatched.

It is hatched and the rightful inhabitants of the nest perish. Being larger, the cowbird's egg receives more warmth and pops quicker and it may be that the incubation period is even shorter.

If the other eggs do hatch, these babies are so much smaller than the cowbird youngster that they cannot compete for food and thus starve right there in the nest.

☆

THIS IS WHY cowbirds are not generally considered beneficial — they eat many insects, but so do the birds whom they victimize.

One responsibility shirking cowbird for a whole family of attractive veeries or flycatchers is not a good exchange.

So it is that we have reached the end of our cowbird discussion and so involved did I become with their bad habits that I am still stumped for a title.

Color Slides Take Women on India Tour

Ruby Yeutter of Clayton was the guest speaker May 11 for a family night in the Youth House of the First Baptist Church.

The session was sponsored by the Women's Society.

The Forget-me-not Troop 137 of Girl Scouts and leaders, Mrs. Maurice Tuckey and Mrs. Richard Dustin, were guests.

About 75 attended as Scouts gave their pledge and Mrs. Robert Gillespie used "Family Devotions" as the inspirational theme.

An offering of $30.75 was received for the Second Decade work of the National Council of American Baptist Women and $13.81 was in the Love Gift.

☆

PROGRAM CHAIRMAN Mrs. Floyd Barrett introduced Miss Yeutter who toured the United States in 1961 with a group of farmers from India.

In 1962, with 14 persons from the U.S. she visited India to promote peace and understanding as a representative of "Farmers in World Affairs."

She spoke first of Diana Green, Peace Corps Volunteer of Tecumseh, who is stationed in Guatemala, and her responsibility in the teaching of a literacy class to young people and adults.

Home economics and community development call for sewing and knitting aids, sports equipment and games. Interested organizations may route these through CARE, Guatemala.

☆

MISS YEUTTER showed saris and scarves of India, demonstrating how the six-yard long saris are worn. Varied gifts of brass, sandalwood, carved ivory, China with inlay of Mother of Pearl and intricately made silver and gold jewelry were displayed.

Through slides and narration the audience was taken on a mythical tour through India, observing varying modes of travel by the elephant, camel, ox cart and bullock.

When India received independence in 1948 — 80% of the people could neither read nor write and life expectancy was but 26 years. It now is but 38 years.

Highlights of the trip was visiting an English Baptist Mission station and Leper hospital south of New Delhi. This was an opportunity to tour in an area where the residents had never before seen people with white skin.

The children would carefully feel faces to see if the white would rub off and then become confused because women's legs were not white too, because of the nylon hose never before seen.

☆

MISS YEUTTER contrasted the old with the modern showing striking differences in the local farmers peddling unrefrigerated and unpasteurized milk from used kerosene cans affixed to the rear of their cycles as against a few new ultra modern dairies. Huge placards explain how fixtures or equipment had been provided through UNICEF, thus showing Halloween funds gathered in American communities put to good use.

Their trip was complete with the visit to fabulous Taj Mahal, magnificent gardens and the huge dam at Hyderabad.

The dam, when completed, will have more than 8,000 miles of irrigation ditches. This will be of invaluable aid, since for nine months of the year there is no rainfall at all in India.

Miss Yeutter found natives to be friendly and gracious. In her few weeks there, she received over 100 malas and floral pieces —the malas being comparable to the Hawaiian leis.

This summer, Miss Yeutter will guide Pakistan farm leaders over the United States.

Hostesses were Mrs. Fred Bryan, Mrs. Floyd Bryan, Mrs. Robert Glascock and Mrs. J. D. Cook.

Everharts Celebrate Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Everhart, 306 E. Kilbuck St., celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary Memorial Day at their cottage on Sand Lake.

Mrs. Everhart's mother, Mrs. Jessie Brown, Mrs. Everhart's sister, Mrs. Ernest Martin, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Fred Everhart were in charge of the arrangements.

A buffet dinner was served from a linen-covered table featuring pink carnations and candles and white wedding bells. The afternoon was spent in social conversation and singing.

Thirty-two guests came from Toledo and Shelby, Eaton Rapids, Hillsdale, Michigan Center, Jackson, Adrian, Blissfield, Onsted and Tecumseh.

Alice Brown and Howard Everhart were married May 29, 1924 at Reading.

They have one son, Donald, and two grandchildren living at Blissfield.

JEAN HALL reflects on your Decorating Problems

DEAR MRS. HALL:
How expensive (actually) are custom-made draperies in comparison to ready-mades? Mrs. WBW

Although select custom mades cost a few dollars more, the work includes:

1. A wide fabric and style selection.
2. Sufficient material without excess.
3. Personal attention in measuring and installation.
4. Hand work with proper hem and headings.
5. Guarantee of a job done to all specifications.

We guarantee that the installed draperies will be an exact fit both in length and width. This is done without worry or concern to the purchaser.

☆

ONE OF THE pitfalls of trying to save a few dollars by purchasing commercial or factory made draperies comes to our attention many times.

We are often called after a purchase elsewhere to adjust or make over draperies.

The cost to the purchaser for this service adds to the original price.

Only partial satisfaction can be achieved since we are limited in what we can accomplish with make-over work.

☆

I CAUTION YOU — great are the number of instances where an attempt to save money has resulted in complete disappointment and resignation to a poor purchase.

I take to heart these unnecessary disappointments, for my greatest pleasure is to see a job well done.

It is impossible for me to give a definite price difference between the two types — so many exceptions to any rule.

I hope this question has been satisfactorily answered. For a definite estimate on any drapery, please call me.

DIGGING FOUNDATION — Amos Anderson, Gov. George Romney and Hans Stauffer were among the 10 men who simultaneously broke ground the afternoon of May 21 for the new Stauffer silicone technical center. Moffatts Attend Reunion of Big Ten Title Team

Mr. and Mrs. Don Moffatt — he's Tecumseh's new recreation director — attended a 10-year reunion of Michigan State University's only Big Ten champion baseball team May 23.

Don was a catcher on that title squad.

Eighteen of the 23 players were in attendance, making glad the heart of their coach, John Kobs.

Coach Kobs retired last summer after 39 years as head Spartan diamond mentor.

Mr. and Mrs. Kobs were presented with numerous gifts, including stadium robes and matching jackets.

☆

THE PLAYERS also gave their coach a plaque, commemorating the 10-year reunion of his only Big Ten champions.

Earl Morral, now quarterback for the Detroit Lions and a squad member, was present. Don said Earl could be a guest in Tecumseh in the near future.

Letters were read from the five who were unable to attend the reunion.

One came from the captain, Jack Ziedler, now in Innsbruck, Austria where the winter Olympics were held. He said that he will be returning to the States in August to take up his work as a priest.

Chris Pence, Linda Easton Will Attend Girls' State

Tecumseh's American Legion Auxiliary has selected Christine Pence and Linda Easton to attend Wolverine Girls' State on the campus of the University of Michigan, June 16 through 25.

Miss Pence and Miss Easton are juniors at Tecumseh High School, both are members of the National Honors Society and both sing in the High School Chorus.

Miss Pence is a member of The Future Teachers Club, and Miss Easton belongs to The Future Nurses Club.

☆

FOR NINE DAYS, the girls will play the role of junior politicians and build a unit of government, electing from their own representatives, city, county and state officials for a model state.

Under the sponsorship of the American Legion Auxiliary, the girls will be assigned to cities, petition for offices, form party platforms and caucus their way into a whirlwind week and one-half of self-government.

At the close of their session, two girls will be selected to represent Michigan Girls Nation, held in Washington, D. C.

A total of 464 high school juniors attend Girls' State from all over Michigan.

News from the Tecumseh Library

New fiction at your public library:

Sir William by David Stacton. Set in Napoleonic Europe, this novel concerns the love affair of Lady Emma Hamilton and Lord Horatio Nelson and the attitude of Sir William, Emma's husband, toward the pair.

When Legends Die by Hal Borland. A story about a Ute Indian boy, child of outlaws, brought up in the Colorado wilderness in the old ways and in friendship with a bear cub. His boyhood and his young manhood are harsh and brutal. He becomes a bronc buster with a reputation for a murderous riding style. The time is from 1910 up into the 1920's.

Strange Wives by Shirley Barker. The Jewish families of Lisbon had to practice their religion in secret, until they heard of Roger Williams' declaration that the people of Rhode Island could believe what they would.

The Bravos and Touros came to the New World, built a synagogue, and almost inevitably young Reuben married a Christian girl, who had to learn a new faith and its ways.

The book offers an honest and wholesome picture of a mixed marriage and of the difficulties that have to be overcome.

Powers Of Attorney by Louis Auchincloss. Short stories about the public and private lives of persons in a large New York City law firm. The author is adept at presenting human beings with all their peculiarities and foibles in a most understanding and sympathetic manner.

Molokai by O. O. Bushnell. A novel of life on the leper colony island of Molokai. Told from three points of view, the novel does not avoid graphic descriptions of the disease, yet is more concerned with its psychological effects.

The compassion preached and practiced by Father Damien is the keynote of this haunting tale peopled with believable characters.

Black Summer by Nancy Hale. This is the story of seven-year-old Robert Kean, who is sent by his parents from his home town of Beaubieu, Virginia, to spend the summer with his aunt and uncle in a rich New York suburb.

Robert, however, finds that he is very unhappy and homesick in "Yankeeland", not only because he finds nothing familiar in the North, but also because he cannot understand, and in turn is not understood by the people around him.

The Tenants of Moonbloom by Edward Wallant. Norman Moonbloom, who has failed in just about any line of human endeavor you could possibly think of, has been reduced to working for his brother who owns a number of down-at-the-heels apartment houses in New York City.

Serving as agent and collector of rents for his unscrupulous brother, Norman constantly violates the agent's code by showing interest in the apartment house tenants. For the adult reader.

Triumph by Philip Wylie. A surprise nuclear attack by Russia, massive retaliation, all of North America was destroyed except the 14 people who had taken shelter in a millionaire's bomb refuge. A skillful, grisly job of portraying the destruction of half the world. Read this and shiver.

Dedicated Service Award Presented to Homer Hanham

Homer Hanham, former Tecumsehite, was presented the 1964 Achievement Award for dedicated service as executive director of the Boys Club of Toledo.

Mr. Hanham, "friend of youth", has held this position since July of 1946.

The presentation was made May 12 in Washington, D. C., by the Professional Association of the Boys Club of America.

Library Millage Passed

Few surprises resulted from Monday's vote, which favored the library millage, change in school classification and the election of two members to four-year terms on the School Board.

A six to one vote — about 84% — approved .6 mills for the Tecumseh Public Library for the next five years. Final tally showed 512 votes in favor, only 94 against.

If the millage had not been approved, the local library would have been left without any funds on which to operate.

A four - to - one majority changed the Tecumseh schools from a Fourth Class District to a Third Class. Results were 451 for, 107 against.

The local schools will realize some savings through the change, and the School Board itself will assume more responsibilities and authority.

Only two candidates were listed on the ballot with Aden Mead and Herbert Simpson winning easily.

Mr. Mead pulled 525 votes, Mr. Simpson 513.

☆

VOTERS WROTE in names of five others, but only one vote cast was legal. Write-in candidates had to be listed as their names appear in the registration books.

Calvin Zorn, city manager, received one vote and the only one legal. His wife, Lois, also received a vote, but it was thrown out since it did not match her registered name.

Others voted for included Lee Prettyman, Ray Jackson and Dick Beasley.

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

Better put a big red circle around Thursday, July 9.

That's the date selected for the gala ground-breaking party at the new Tecumseh Fisher Body plant.

As it turns out, this isn't going to be just a shovel ceremony, but a real blast — literally.

After refreshments, band music, a talk by Gov. George Romney (the committee still is awaiting a final OK from him, but it looks good), remarks by Fisher Body General Manager Robert H. Gathman, the big boom is scheduled.

A cache of dynamite is to be buried several hundred yards from the speakers' platform.

Mr. Gathman will man the switch and, wham, off the blast will go, breaking ground for the plant and rattling a few thousand ear drums to boot.

The dynamite charge will probably be seen and heard all the way to the Four Corners.

But, members of the civic committee, working out the party, figures there won't be anyone downtown to know for sure.

The fellows hope everyone will be right there at the plant site, close by to catch the ceremony at Gady Rd. and Occidental Hwy.

Already, there has been a gathering of merchants and industries to get the plans all tumbling into place. Many minds and hands are going to be needed.

It has been agreed that on that big day, downtown Tecumseh will close up. Folks will be invited to motor or walk to the Four Corners anytime before 4 p.m. — with free off-street parking that afternoon.

Decorated school buses will be lined up the length of business row and free transportation in them, to and from the plant site, will be offered.

They'll be moving out between 3:30 and 4 p.m., in enough time for guests to have pop, coffee, cookies and donuts, served in a huge 40 x 100' circus tent, which is to be erected next to the speakers' platform.

The dynamite charge will officially break the ground and it will also be a signal for the start of construction.

Seconds after it goes off, a giant Euclid earth mover — the kind that can practically accommodate a neighborhood softball game on one load of its scoop — will roar into view off in the distance.

Diesel engine gunned to top speed, the huge machine will head straight for the platform, cutting a wide swath of turf as it rumbles closer and closer.

If Gov. Romney, Mr. Gathman and the other honored guests on the dais seem a little concerned that the giant is going to scatter them in its wake, they needn't worry.

The Euclid will swing away just at the last second as it tears a circle of turf in front of the crowd, then stops.

This should bring a roar of relief from the spectators.

Sounds like quite an affair, these fellows have planned.

That's why you better mark July 9 right now.

Addition to Cabin Is Planned

A 400-square-foot addition to the Tecumseh Scout Cabin is being planned.

Under the guidance of the Scout Cabin Organization, the program will cost approximately $5,000.

The present cabin offers 800-square-feet of space and is overcrowded at many Scout functions.

Contributions are welcome and may be sent to:

Tecumseh Scout Cabin Organization

1210 Shady Lane

For more details, interested persons are invited to contact Wendell Disbrow, president of the organization.

Graduates Advised: 'Get Along with Others'

By TOM RIORDAN

"Learn to get along with others, develop your mind, take care of your body, have the proper mental attitude."

These were some of the ideals expressed to Tecumseh High School graduates Sunday by the Rev. Harold E. Speer, pastor of the Assembly of God Church.

His address capped those given at the 98th annual THS commencement program, during which an all-time record 161 young men and women received diplomas.

"What you're like at 19 and 20, you'll be like at 40," he told the grads. "You must adjust, must learn to get along with others. You must develop the ability to say 'nuts' to disappointments."

"Be of service to yourself, your community and those about you. Be dedicated to God," the local minister stated.

"If you plan to succeed, it's going to take work along the line, hard work," he advised.

☆

IN THE VALEDICTORY, Fawn Choske told her classmates that "often goals are substituted for ideals."

"Are we moral and efficient in going after them?" she asked.

To work and strive for a goal will bring real personal satisfaction, often more than the objective itself, she added.

Miss Choske wanted to know if "we ever see the beauty of the day, or just the sharp jump of the clock?"

She urged her classmates to look for the reward "in" doing, instead "of" doing things.

☆

SALUTATORIAN David Dustin said graduates "must choose a goal. Each may not be obtained. But we must make an effort."

He likened the seniors' future to that of the nation's forefathers'.

"The face of the land has changed, but the challenge is the same."

☆

AWARDING OF $30,000 in scholarships, including four by the Herrick Foundation and four by the C. F. Sage Foundation, was an exciting portion of the two-hour ceremony.

Herrick and Sage Scholarships are each worth $3,600 over a four-year period.

MRS. MARSH WITH REMEMBRANCE FROM PRESIDENT

President LBJ Sends Citation to Mrs. Marsh

By JUDY FIELDER

Tecumseh's only living widow of a Spanish-American War veteran, Mrs. Fred Marsh, was surprised May 25 when her mail contained a citation, which read:

"The United States of America honors the memory of Fred Marsh. This certificate is awarded by a grateful nation in recognition of devoted and selfless consecration to the service of our country in the Armed Forces of the United States."

It was signed by Lyndon B. Johnson, President of the United States.

A foundry blacksmith, Fred Marsh served in the Spanish American War of 1898 with the 31st Regiment of the Michigan Volunteer Infantry, Co. C which was organized in 1873.

☆

AT THE outbreak of the Spanish American War the company offered its services. After training the outfit traveled to Cuba, where they remained from February until April, 1899.

Although the regiment was never engaged in actual battle, they suffered from many of the same conditions of a war, typhoid fever, lack of clothing, food, poor living conditions, intense heat.

Mrs. Marsh brought out a regiment roster, reputed to be the only one in existence in this area. It contained many old Tecumseh names.

She has since donated the historical relic to the city.

Vivacious Iva Marsh celebrated her 84th birthday June 4. She said, "I've had enough of them, time for the younger folks to start adding them up."

☆

BORN IN New York, Iva is the oldest of five Hanna children. Her four younger brothers were William, Hugh, Joe and Charles.

Married in 1900, Fred and Iva Marsh had almost 51 years together. After celebrating their golden anniversary in the spring of 1950, he passed away in January of 1951.

"He was a good man," said Iva, reminiscing.

They were the parents of two daughters, Mrs. James Hartsell and Mrs. Harry Dernberger.

Mrs. Hartsell has been bedridden in the home of Mrs. Marsh, 702 Center Dr., for 18 months with multiple sclerosis. Mrs. Marsh cares for her with the assistance of Mr. Hartsell, who is employed at Tecumseh Products, and Mrs. John Stephens, practical nurse who comes in for a few hours a day.

Mrs. Dernberger lives in Pontiac, where she has worked 28 years as a secretary for General Motors.

☆

THE THREE sons of Mr. and Mrs. Hartsell also live in Pontiac, working for GM. Larry lives with Mrs. Dernberger, while Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hartsell and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hartsell live nearby.

Throughout the years, Mrs. Marsh has been extremely active, being one of 11 to organize the American Legion Auxiliary.

School Services Increased

By JIM LINCOLN

A sweeping approval of administrative recommendations directly affecting education were approved Monday night by the School Board.

The OK was granted, based on additional funds largely thru an increase in state aid, for services of th 1964-65 term.

Physical education was restored for grades three, four and five at an approximate cost of $11,000.

Due to new elementary arithmetic and reading programs, the teaching supplies budget was increased by $1,000.

Increases in enrollment, necessitating extra classes for grades three, four and five, plus three teachers, furniture and teaching supplies, will result in an expenditure of $20,000.

☆

THE BOARD also approved:

► Financing field trips on a limited basis — $4,000.

► Additional furniture and equipment for an extra Junior High classroom, if needed — $600.

► A five-cent-per-hour increase for bus drivers with two or more years' service — $1,000.

► A new roof on the Junior High and repair of school building roofs — to be determined by bids.

► Improvements in the cafeteria for the band — $2,000.

► Some remodeling in the high school — $1,500.

► Removal of old houses on school property on Maumee St. — $200.

► High school furniture, if necessary — $2,500.

► Repairs of the highway bus — $2,500.

Teenage Fighting Considered

Fighting among teenagers off school property received considerable attention at the School Board meeting Monday night.

Although there have been only isolated incidents of fighting, sometimes where two or three beat up one, the board approved appointment of a committee which will seek the assistance of others.

The board's plan includes representatives from the City Council, Police Department, Juvenile Court, and two from the schools, one from the board and one from the administrative staff.

Mrs. June Stone was appointed by board president Aden ed to represent the board.

School Hours Being Changed

New school hours — in some instances — were established for the 1964-65 school year by the School Board Monday night.

The new hours will probably affect St. Elizabeth Catholic School, which will have students bused by the public schools.

The hours are:

Kintergarten—9 a.m. to 11:30 and 12:30 to 2:50 p.m.

Grades one, two, three — 9 a.m. to 12 and 1 p.m. to 2:50 p.m.

Grades four, five, six — 9 a.m. to 12 and 1 to 3:45 p.m.

Junior High — 7:50 to 12 and 1 to 2:50 p.m.

Senior High — 7:50 to 12 and 1 to 2:50 p.m.

All elementary schools and all high school students will now start at the same time.

Grades four, five and six will have a longer elementary day due to the School Board's restoration of physical education in the day's program.

Officials have not been able to determine whether another bus will be needed until they learn how many pupils will be bused to St. Elizabeth. In past years, many St. Elizabeth children have been given transportation when they could be picked up at regular public school stops.

☆

THE BOARD also approved using two classrooms in the new high school addition for elementary pupils and a room in the basement of the Public Library both on a temporary basis.

After the Lenawee Institute is constructed and special education pupils move from Sutton School, those elementary pupils at the high school and library will be moved into Sutton.

Robert Staulter Gets Citation for Car Speeding

Robert Staulter, 43, of 211 Cairns St., was cited by State Police for violation of the basic speed law and traveling too fast.

Monday at 2:45 a.m., he struck the rear of a car driven by Nellie Armstrong, 39, of Manchester.

The accident occurred at the corner of M-52 and Austin Rd., south of Manchester.

The Armstrong vehicle was preparing to turn the corner, when Mr. Staulter hit her auto from the rear.

Fisher Body Plant To Have Tecumseh Phone

General Motor's new Tecumseh Fisher Body plant will have a Tecumseh telephone, an official of the firm stated Monday.

The announcement halted the possibility of Fisher Body being part of Adrian's Colfax exchange.

A total of 381 flash bulbs were fired during graduation ceremonies Sunday. The row of photographers rivaled a presidential news conference. This Class of 1964 could be the most photographed in the history of Tecumseh.

A fellowship versus an assistantship — well, a fellowship is an opportunity to work on an advanced degree, an assistantship is the opportunity to teach for a school and work on an advanced degree, too. Lee Vesecilius and David Van Valkenburg both received fellowships.

"Did those sparks fly!" exclaimed Keith Bailey when telling about lightning striking at his cottage at Sand Lake Sunday. He was in the kitchen with two youngsters when suddenly the stove blew up. He pulled the fuse boxes, discovering that no fuse had been blown. The wire to the stove was unharmed, but, Keith added, "The stove's shot."

When comencement speaker, the Rev. Harold E. Speer, told graduates that they should "be lovable," Neville Hart whispered to the Rev. B. O. Bashore, "That takes in you and me."

Don't always believe those picture captions. Bart Christman is factory manager of Peerless Gear. We called him Mark by mistake under the picture. Sorry, Bart.

MODEL CHURCH BY STITES — LaVern Stites, 16, combined his efforts for Drafting Class II and Art Class, designing and drawing plans for this church. He then constructed the detailed scale model, including landscaping of the plot. LaVern is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Stites, 1954 Russell Rd. The tiny stained glass windows have all been leaded in a professional manner. Nearly 500 people saw this model at a recent Tecumseh High School open house.

City of Raisin?

★ ★ ★

Township May Incorporate

Surveys are under way in Raisin Township for a disposal plant and network of sewers to serve residents and some industry.

Supervisor James Mitchell says the township plans to construct a sewage plant which will handle GM's Fisher Body and homes in the township.

Stauffer Chemical is not included.

Site and construction costs have not been determined.

Stauffer officials say they will need disposal facilities this fall. Raisin officials hope to have their own ready for operation around the first of the year.

Township officials are investigating incorporating into a city.

John Riley, Blissfield attorney, is checking the possibility.

If Raisin did incorporate, a community of over 3,000 population would be formed.

Other problems facing township officials include zoning for a trailer park and road construction.

A public hearing is scheduled for June 25 regarding a trailer area on Gady Rd., just west of Occidental.

Little road construction is planned for this year.

Mr. Mitchell says improvements now would probably be wasted by heavy construction trucks servicing both Stauffer and GM.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Vandals at Work

While the recreation department tries to do something for community youngsters, a few rascals botch the efforts.

Building materials at the Pit were unceremoniously scattered about last week. Walls of new dugouts under construction at Nelson Field were toppled over before the job could be completed.

Since these improvements are being done principally for the younger set, one would reason that they'd be the last to jam up the projects.

Actually, it only takes one or two to pull pranks like these while hundreds of others would never think of getting involved in such antics.

We guess that the vandals will probably never read these words. However, their parents might and also the folks of others who are prank-prone.

To them we suggest, tell the kids to respect the property of others. When they destroy a dugout wall, they destroy a little of themselves.

Fabulous Scholarship Program

One of the most fascinating comments made during Sunday's Tecumseh High School commencement came when Neville Hart told the total worth of scholarships being given to the Class of 1964.

It's a pretty staggering figure — $30,000.

Mr. Hart explained that he knew of no other school, large or small, which even came close to being so fortunate.

Prime among the lineup are the eight gifts, each worth $3,600 over a four-year period. Four of these are given by the Herrick Foundation and four by the C. F. Sage Foundation.

Scholastic achievement and financial need are the main requisites in qualifying.

We can think of few better ways that this money can be invested. The results multiply over and over in hundreds of ways, both known and unknown.

Just last week The Herald reported that two '64 college graduates, David Van Valkenburg and Lee Vescelius, both, having completed their work on Herrick Scholarships, had been granted much-sought national fellowships and are about to embark on new and exciting educational and scientific adventures.

Without aid for their undergraduate years, these stories might never have been written.

But scholarships are but a part of Sunday's picture.

As at previous THS commencements, when the graduates slowly marched out of the gymnasium, the audience had an opportunity to view the youngsters one by one.

It was a wonderful sight, seeing these clean-cut Americans, who suddenly seemed more mature, more determined, more enlightened as they figuratively strolled out into the world.

What's Wrong with Profit?

What's wrong with profits?

Nothing, if you are sharing them!

Did you ever stop to think how many ways we all share in profits? Profits can be referred to as the leaven in the bread. They are the unseen force causing growth and bettering human welfare.

Profits go into research and development from which emerges the new and wonderful products that are ours. Profits combine with individual savings to finance the building of new plants which in turn offer additional employment.

But profits do something else. They are used to pay you for the use of your money. Whether you have provided money directly through the purchase of securities or indirectly through your ownership of a bank account, shares in a savings and loan association, credit union or pension fund or the purchase of insurance, your money is at work and payment must be made for its use.

This is done by the payment of interest and dividends.

Profits are the secret of the American system. What's wrong with profits? Nothing, as long as you are sharing them.

JEAN HALL reflects on your Decorating Problems

Dear Mrs. Hall

Should I line my draperies? — Mrs. LFV.

Dear Mrs. LFV:

First your own needs must be determined.

One of the main reasons for lining draperies is for sun protection — You will add several years' wear to lined draperies and prevent fading — this should be considered in the initial cost.

Snow reflection causes more damage than the direct sun.

The outside appearance will be improved if lining is used with patterned or colored draperies.

Privacy and light control must also be considered.

We have special linings for light control and insulation from heat and cold.

At Kustom Kraft the linings are sewn in by hand (no extra charge for hand-sewn linings) for perfect hanging and pretacked to prevent billowing of the sides.

We will be closed Sat., June 13, to attend the 1964 fall showing of curtain and drapery exhibitors in Chicago so that we may bring to Tecumseh the latest in home decor.

THINK THE FIRST TICKET WILL WIN THE TRIP? — Mayor Harold Easton captured Tecumseh recreation director Don Moffatt at the door of the Community Center shortly after the tickets for the July 4 Celebration World's Fair trip were off the presses. Mr. Easton's tickets, along with all the others sold, will go into the barrel for the drawing on July 4. Some lucky area couple will take a four-day all-expense paid trip in August to New York's World's Fair with spending money to boot. Old Fashioned Fourth will begin with Dawn Patrol, followed by giant parade, barbecued chicken and ribs, square dancing, waterball contest, drum and bugle corps, skydivers and spectacular evening fireworks. Tickets — 25c apiece or five for $1 — are available from members of Exchange, VFW, Kiwanis, Rotary, Chamber of Commerce, Retail Division of Chamber of Commerce, American Legion, Shawnee Squares and Jaycees.

1,000 Free Papers

Over the river
And through the dale,
To the lakes
The Herald will go.
One thousand copies
Free to resorters,
For a full
Ten weeks in a row!

And over the river and thru the dale is truly the way 1,000 complimentary copies of The Herald will be delivered to vacationers in the Irish Hills each week from June 25 to Aug. 27.

Two carloads of 500 papers, with one driver and three delivery boys each, will travel through the lakes region early every Thursday morning until the end of summer.

Like the mail, neither rain, sleet, snow or wind will prevent delivery, although to quote one driver, "The heat, one lane, hilly roads and hard-to-find isolated cottages take a few weeks to get used to."

To draw a map of their route is nearly impossible, although, in general, papers are delivered to all cottages on Sand, Evans, Kelly, Kilarney and Wamplers Lakes.

☆

ONE AREA on north shore of Sand Lake was missed for three weeks last year, until an adventurous driver tackled a nearly-hidden road. Eureka — delivery boys found the Ed Heilman cottage along with several others plus a row with homes.

Delivery boys are let out at various points, then picked up at a pre-arranged spot.

By the time Thursday rolls around, vacationers are becoming weary of "getting away from it all". They look forward to communication with the "outer world".

The Herald communicates — free of charge.

After the first week of free delivery last year, folks were standing on their porches with arms outstretched.

"It's wonderful", said one person, "I wait for The Herald every Thursday."

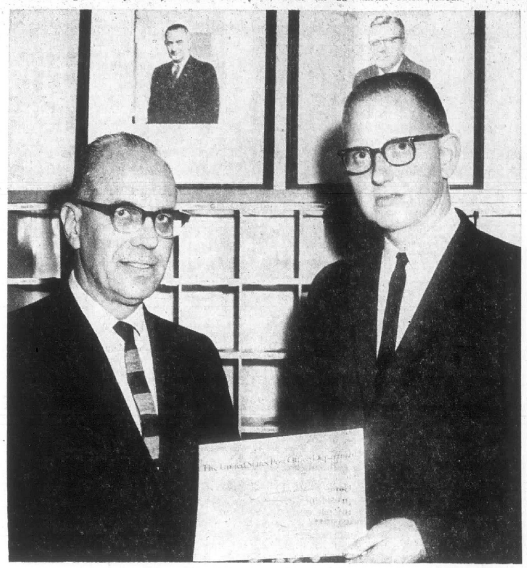
☆

SUMMER RESIDENTS who want to keep up on local sales and news have taken year-around subscriptions.

Response for the Tecumseh merchants was tremendous — with influx from the lakes boosting local sales.

"All in all", said one retailer, "The Herald free delivery shows that this is a friendly area."

It is making Tecumseh the market basket for resorters in addition to inviting vacationers to share in local summer activities.



Jack Metcalf Receives Certificate from Chicago Regional Director Donald L. Swanson

'Postmaster Counselor' New Role for Metcalf

Tecumseh Postmaster Jack G. Metcalf is one of four "postmaster counselors" for post office in Michigan with receipts under $200,000 and second class offices.

Counselor postmasters are chosen because of the efficient operation of their own post office and their ability to teach others.

They are assigned to conduct two phase — visit to new postmaster's office and visit to counselor postmaster's office by the new postmaster — in a five-phase orientation training program for new postmasters.

This training program is a part of Postmaster General John A. Gronouski's effort to help all postal employees gain a better understanding of their positions.

Truman H. Jordan of Macon will receive his Ph.D. degree in physical chemistry from Harvard University June 11. Mr. Jordan was graduated from Clinton High School in 1955 and received his bachelor of science degree from Albion College in 1959. Beginning Sept. 1, he will be doing research work for National Aeronautics and Space Administration at the University of Pittsburgh. Mr. Jordan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Jordan, Sr., of 7900 Hack Rd., Clinton. He is married and has an infant daughter.

Chutist Schroeder Wins JFK Trophy

The John F. Kennedy Trophy was awarded to Lou Schroeder at the Chuting Angels' skydivers Memorial Day meet at Tecumseh Airport.

Ray McCalley won the Jack Wallace memorial award.

Local skydiver Charles Froehlich won the Gold Star Mothers award.

Jumper of the year was Mr. Schroeder for outstanding performance — 100 jumps in 1963.

Pete Myks was Rookie of the Year, with 105 jumps in his first 12 months.

Three skydivers are trying out for the World Championship Parachute Team — Mr. Schroeder, Mr. Myks and Carl Brushaver.

☆

IF THEY win the US Championship, they will go to Leutkirch, Germany to vie for the 1964 World Championship.

It's the seventh year the event has been held.

Charles Froehlich asks anyone wishing to be a booster for the team may send donations to him at 134 W. Brown St.

The Angels ask special mention to girls who sold refreshments and Boy Scouts who parked cars Memorial Day. They were pleased over public enthusiasm for the event.

3 Mishaps Are Minor

Three accidents reported by the local police resulted in little damage to vehicles and no injuries.

Clarence C. Champanois, 21, of 403 Outer Dr., lost control of his car on N. Evans St. at Macon Rd. and slid into the ditch there.

The accident happened during a rainstorm. No citation was issued.

Police charged John A. Seager, 38, of 309 W. Chicago Blvd., with improper backing into a passing car driven by Charles A. Marbach, 26, Onsted.

Jerry W. Waynick, 17, of 415 W. Chicago, was charged with violation of the basic speed law when his motor scooter slid into the rear of a car driven by Marjorie J. Chase, 23, of 205 N. Ottawa.

Damages to the car and scooter were slight.

'Michigan, My Michigan'

"Michigan, My Michigan" was the theme of the program presented recently by Mrs. Naomi Sallows for the Friendly Class of the Friends Church.

She gave each of the 18 present a post card with informative facts about the state, thus making members of the group aware of the many things in which Michigan excells.

Besides leading the other states in the automotive industry, Michigan ranks first in some 20 product areas, judged by the value of the output.

Among these are boat building, mobile homes, truck trailers, gray-iron, foundry production, machine-shop work, conveyors, metal stampings, salt, sporting goods, hardware supplies, cereals, steel springs, public building fixtures, internal-combustion engines, padding and upholstery fillings.

The history of Michigan flags was on display in connection with the program.

Members each remarked about a particular place in the state which has impressed them.

Mrs. Kate Love and Mrs. Sheldon Chase were presented gifts and flowers honoring their birthday anniversaries.

Mrs. Charles Manley assisted the hostess, Mrs. Oscar Meads, in serving Boston coolers

No worries, no responsibilities! A lot of us would gladly trade places with Wendy, just to share that wonderful "joy of living" that children feel so often, and adults experience so rarely.

"But what is there to be happy about?" you may be thinking, "Maybe Wendy has no worries, but I certainly have!"

Perhaps we forget that this world is in God's hands . . . and that, with God, nothing is impossible. We wear ourselves out seeking human solutions to our problems, when Divine help is always available if we will only ask.

Try it. Try bringing your worries and doubts to God this Sunday in your neighborhood Church. Hear God's promise of guidance and comfort for all who will give their lives to him in childlike trust. And let the Holy Spirit fill your troubled heart with lasting joy.

THAT'S A SMV SIGN, SUH — Bill Osburn, right, president of the Raisin Cane 4-H Club points out to Charles Kapnick special features of slow moving vehicle sign assembled and being sold non-profit by county 4-H'ers. Mr. Kapnick of Kapnick Orchards, recently purchased the triangular red-reflector-edged orange sign to use at the rear of all his slow moving farm vehicles. The single sign can be transferred from one vehicle to another with the use of 10c brackets. 4-H Clubs are selling the signs and additional brackets as a public service. People in the area requesting more information can call Bill, 423-4693.

4-H Members Sell Signs

"SMV" stands for Slow Moving Vehicle.

All users of public highways stand to gain by having the SMV sign on every slow vehicle — 25 mph or less — on public roads.

It can protect both the operator of the slow vehicle and the driver who approaches from the rear.

Statistics show that:

► Farm tractors are involved in three or every four slow moving vehicle accidents.

► Nine of every 10 accidents occur during daylight.

► Two out of every three are rear end collisions.

These important factors are part of the reason that several of the 4-H Clubs in Lenawee County are selling SMV signs as a community service.

☆

REPRESENTATIVES of these clubs met recently and assembled the signs to enable selling them at cost.

The clubs make no profit on the signs, which sell for $3 each with one bracket.

The SMV sign consists of a triangular shaped emblem with red reflector tape on the outside edge and orange fluorescent paint on the inside, mounted on an aluminum base.

The red reflector tape can be seen at night, while the orange fluorescent is visible at a distance of at least one-sixth of a mile during the day.

With a 10c bracket on each highway vehicle, one emblem can serve all of them (no wiring necessary).

THE EMBLEM protects the farmer during the day as well as at night and should be used on every trip.

SMV sign is most easily identified when it is centered on the rear of the machine three to five feet above the ground.

In the Tecumseh area, signs are available from the Raisin Cane 4-H Club. Bill Osburn, president, asks anyone wishing information to call him, 423-4693.

Tipton School Notes

SECOND GRADE

We took down the scene of Hidden Lake Gardens and put up pictures of animals. We've been looking up in the Encyclopedia about them and writing reports.

We looked up the shrew, opossum, dolphin, coyote, beaver, armadillo, bats and frog.

√

FIFTH GRADE

On June 3 we had a general assembly. At that time there was a presentation of awards to the retiring sixth grade service squad and safety patrol members.

We all agreed that they had done a wonderful job this year. We wished them success for the next years in school.

√

SIXTH GRADE

A gift of a minute timer was presented to the school by our class in appreciation of the many things done for us.

Martha Osburn and Janice Hendricks made the presentation during the awards assembly. This was the letter enclosed:

"To the teachers of Tipton School, we the sixth grade give our deepest appreciation for all the things that you have done for us and the other children.

"Not just teaching us reading, writing and arithmetic, but by giving us responsibilities.

"We'll never forget Tipton School, Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Tonneburger, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Shaw and of course Mr. Frost."

Mr. and Mrs. Don Hunt attended open house for Donna Wright in Tecumseh on Sunday afternoon. On Monday night they attended open house for Eldon and Beverly Miller. The three Tecumseh graduates are grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Hunt.

Farm Bureau Honors Ladies

The Lenawee County Farm Bureau held its second Mother and Daughter Banquet June 2 at the 4-H project building on the Fair Grounds.

First one of its kind in the state was held in 1958. A father and son event was held in 1959.

A chicken dinner was served by the men of the Farm Bureau to 317 mothers and daughters.

Mrs. Clarence Heimerdinger, Sr. Mrs. M. M. Halley and Mrs. Wilson Sawyer, project committee, made the arrangements.

Mrs. Orpha Titler gave the invocation and Mrs. Sawyer welcomed the guests. Mrs. Lee Spohr of Britton was the toastmistress.

Mrs. Gordon Gove sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. Amos Wilson.

Kay Ruesink gave the toast to the mothers. Her mother, Mrs. Louis Ruesink responded.

Little Cherilyn Spohr gave the tribute to grandmothers.

Mrs. Marge Karker of Lansing, State Farm Bureau coordinator of activities, was the guest speaker.

Her theme was "Build Your Home Upon a Foundation as Strong as Stone."

Herald Goes Back to 1850

(Editor's note — This is another in the series of articles pertaining to a recent report written about The Herald by a University of Michigan journalism student).

The Herald proudly proclaims on its masthead that it is Lenawee County's oldest newspaper, now in its 114th year.

The paper was founded in 1850 by a group of public-spirited local residents who put up the cash for the press and printing facilities, some probably anxious to get their product before the buying public.

William Richard, a prominent businessman, was The Herald's "angel". He lost nearly $2,000 on the paper in its first few years of operation, although he had no hand in editing it.

The paper was not the first to be established in Tecumseh.

The Tecumseh Democrat was founded in 1834 and it lasted until 1845 before breathing its last.

The Madisonian and the Village Record and Agricultural Intelligencer were two other local papers published in the 1840's and 1850's, but at the time that these three pioneer papers were founded, the community was apparently too small to sustain a weekly.

☆

THE FIRST 25 years of The Herald were a period which a local historian has called The Herald's "literary period".

The masthead of the paper read "Devoted to Literature and Science, Progress and Truth, Mortality and Religion."

The first editor was a Dartmouth graduate, a teacher, lawyer, University of Michigan regent, scholar and crusader.

Under this man and his successor, the paper published mainly items of literary interest and items culled from larger papers in the East.

Rarely was a local news item even mentioned, with the exception of the three staples of any rural weekly, births, marriages and deaths.

In 1874, The Herald was sold to Scovel Stacy, a hometown boy.

☆

THE STACYS ran the paper for the next 45 years, and "Scove" and his successors markedly changed the tone of the paper.

The literary-type articles now came from Eastern papers, but local items now became very loose and informal, and comments such as "Too hot to write today, goin' fishin'," began to appear among local social items.

In 1898, while under the Stacys, the paper became a semi-weekly, and it remained one until 1917.

☆

THE BIG CHANGE came in 1918 with the sale of the paper to Emil Ahrens.

Under him and a succession of other editors, the paper changed from a chatty personal journal into a paper which boosted the town and local business.

The paper had finally become news-conscious.

Several owners followed Ahrens, until Earl Wickwire acquired it.

Upon his death, his daughter, Marjorie, took over the paper. Although she hired a man to edit the paper, she acted as manager.

The paper had a rather narrow scope of interest during that time. Jim Lincoln and Tom Riordan took over the paper seven years ago, and the nature of the paper changed once more.

The paper now covers a wider territory and prints more news from outlying districts.

The wider scope of interests presented in the paper has given it a stronger interest in the minds of local residents.

Case-Hardened Lenses Can Help Children at Play

LANSING — Parents who spend the few extra dollars needed for case-hardened lenses for their children's glasses are not only providing eye safety, but are also contributing to the all-around social development of their child.

So states Ed Radke, chief of the vision section of the Michigan Department of Health's Division of Maternal and Child Health.

"If a child needs to wear corrective lenses, he should be able to wear them while engaged in recreation or athletics so that he can perform to the fullest extent of his capability," Mr. Radke said.

Require Social Security Cards

Students planning on working this summer are reminded that they must have Social Security cards in order to get employment.

"Every student who is getting a summer job or graduating from school this year should get a Social Security card now," said Raymond C. Backus, Social Security District Manager in Jackson.

Students can get application blanks at their local post office. It would be a great advantage to everyone concerned if these Social Security applications were filled out immediately since it takes a week or ten days to process the cards.

In Michigan... at a picnic, beer is a natural

When you're relaxing at your favorite outdoor beauty spot with friends or family, and your thirst's whetted by fresh air and exercise—that's the ideal time for a cool, refreshing glass of beer. In fact, you can name your recreation—swimming, hiking, or just watching TV—and chances are nothing in the world fits it quite as well as beer.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

In Michigan...beer goes with fun, with relaxation

Music for dancing was played by Fred F. Dickinson's band.

The bride is a 1962 graduate of Tecumseh High School and prior to her marriage was employed at the F. W. Woolworth store.

The groom is a 1958 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed at the Tecumseh Products Co. and also in farming.

MRS. MELVIN A. SCHEFFLER

Sharlene Seitz, Gary Blatchford Say Vows

Sharlene Sue Seitz and Gary B. Blatchford were united in marriage June 6 by the Rev. Donald Porteous at the Methodist Church.

Vases of white gladioli and Killian daisies were used on the altar. Sprays of Jade foliage and satin bows fronted the seven-branched candelabra and palms formed the background for the kneeling bench.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Seitz, 112 E. Logan St., and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Blatchford, 9054 Matthews Hwy.

Mrs. James Hood presided at the organ.

GIVEN IN MARRIAGE by her father, the bride chose a gown of white organza fashioned with fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves and Sabrina neckline re-embroidered with seed pearls.

The pick-up skirt with overskirt had pert bows draped over three tiers of Chantilly lace.

Her veil of illusion was secured to a crown of orange blossoms.

She carried an arrangement of white glamellia outlined with Carol Ambling roses and cascades of white butterfly roses.

Esther Haft was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Rose Cubberly and Barbara Seitz and Rachele McNichol, cousins of the bride.

Miss Haft wore a ballerina length gown of embossed peau de soie in princess style with matching pink jacket.

Her brushed veil of illusion was secured to a large pink bow and she carried daisies to match her dress with glamellias fronting a white bone fan.

☆

THE BRIDESMAIDS wore ballerina length gowns of peau de soie with controlled skirts in yellow, green and seamist blue.

They carried fan arrangements the same as the maid of honor, only in colors matching their gowns.

Mark Blatchford, brother of the groom, was best man and the guests were seated by Edsel Brooks, Ronald Mukensturm, Tom Simmons, Melbourne Partridge, II, and Gary McKenzie.

A reception for 200 guests was held at the VFW Hall where Mrs. Fred Barnoske and Jan Rasmussen assisted in serving.

A four-tiered cake on the bride's table was encircled with garlands of Baker fern, white glamellias and spring ribbon.

Both young people are graduates of Tecumseh High School. Mr. Blatchford is employed by General Motors at Willow Run.

The rehearsal dinner was held at the home of the groom's parents Friday evening.

LOCAL BUSINESS

National manufacturers realize that proof of worth of a product should be obtained by testing public acceptance.

In this connection the local newspaper is probably the most tested product sold.

Each issue is tested not just by a small sample, but by the entire public. Every subscription renewal is a vote of approval.

Advertising in a local paper is similarly tested week after week by merchants that buy space and by the consumers who act upon the advertising.

In recent years, newspaper publishers themselves are actually amazed by the increasing vote of confidence in their medium. It is not unusual to hear an old-time newspaperman say that his advertising is increasing so fast he scarcely has the time or facilities to handle it.

This, of course, is a reflection of a new attitude on the part of many merchants in small cities, who themselves have found newspaper advertising an investment which brings larger profits and new customers to rapidly changing trading centers. The overall effect for the merchants, the community, and the newspaper is "escalating."

That is, expansion in nearly any community begets expansion.

This is true for individual stores as well as the community as a whole.

Of course, the merchant enjoys the profit and the newspaper appreciates increased business, but neither can come without continuing expression of confidence in the news and advertising content printed in the local newspaper.

'Stardust' Can Even Be Beat

Fifth annual banquet of the Band Boosters was held May 26 at St. Peter's Episcopal Church with members of the varsity band as guests.

School board members, THS Principal and Mrs. Neville Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Norval Bovee and Supt. and Mrs. James McDowell were other guests.

The banquet was given in honor of the band members who are graduating. It was dedicated to Don Johnson and Miles Cowdrey in appreciation for their musical contribution to the school.

A Swiss steak dinner, prepared by the Episcopal churchwomen, was served to 200.

Vases, replicas of a drum, filled with fresh spring flowers, adorned the tables. Programs at each place setting were made to look like drums with sticks of toothpicks and miniature marshmallows.

Charles Sinkey led the group in the Lord's prayer.

☆

WILLIAM VOLLMER, president of the Band Boosters, welcomed those in attendance and introduced the toastmaster of the evening, John Hayden, band member.

David Dustin, president of the band this year, reminisced a bit and introduced his officers.

Doug Hall, incoming band president, introduced the new officers and led the group in a song fest.

A highlight of the program was the introduction of the "Unbeatables."

Don Johnson, with red beard, as Pete Fountain on the clarinet, Miles Cowdrey with candelabra as Liberace at the piano, Bill Vollmer as the "Duke of Paducah" with his musical wash tub and Fred Dickinson as Russ Morgan's mother, sexy and sixty, on the trombone, rendered "Tiger Rag".

☆

JERRY BILIK, guest of the evening, from the music department of the University of Michigan, entertained at the piano.

Using the song "Stardust", he demonstrated the way it could have been written had Bach, Shubert, Sousa or the Beatles written the number.

He also demonstrated the way the style of piano playing has changed through the years from minuet tempo to twist, using the song, "Over There."

Members of the band mentioned songs at random from Tschaikowski's Concerto, Rhapsody in Blue to Alley Cat and Mr. Bilik used them in a composite arrangement.

Awards were presented to the band members by Mr. Johnson and Mr. Cowdrey.

"This convention," said the Rev. Daniel Kierczak "will further the understanding and good will among the various races and nationalities of Jehovah's Witnesses, and will also forcefully demonstrate how the Bible message and Christian living can unite people from all walks of life, regardless of race or other backgrounds that tend to divide the world."

Seventeen ministers will be on the program with the principal speaker J. W. Filson, district director of Witness' activity throughout Michigan.

A color motion picture of the 1963 "Around-the-World" tour of Jehovah's Witnesses during which delegates from this country traveled over 25,000 miles.

Poem Is Written To Honor Memory of Departed Friend

(Editor's Note — Mrs. Fred Anderson wrote an original poem for the family of Mrs. Norman McConnell in memory of her death. Mrs. Anderson, 7003 Hendershot Rd., is a friend and former neighbor.)

Just a line to tell you that for you my heart does ache,
For well I know the sorrows that a mother's passing make;
But let us pause a moment and see with mother's eyes
All that glorious splendor of that wondrous paradise.
Where there is no more pain or sorrow, no worries,
no more care;
Just at Home with Jesus, so happy to be there.

Halloween Comes Early

Halloween came early — at least, to the Pit.

Some of the building material to be used for park improvement has been torn down, according to Don Moffatt, Superintendent of Parks & Recreation.

This has made additional work for the city department.

"Funds are not available to install water plumbing public restrooms, so we must at least keep the present 'old-fashioned' public rest-houses in an upright position," states Mr. Moffatt.

IT HAS BEEN reported that the appeal for empty white plastic gallon size jugs has areally been a success.

"Several people went out of their way to get these jugs to us," says Moffatt, "and believe me, we really appreciate the great interest and cooperation the citizens have shown in this Pit project."

"A special thanks goes to Jan Kachur, 403 Outer Dr., who notified me that he had an 8-foot fibre-glas rowboat he wanted to donate to the department. It will be used at the Pit to insure greater safety," said Mr. Moffatt.

Fishing Is Great!

Fishing proved excellent for five men from Tecumseh last week at Big Manistique in the Upper Peninsula.

Tom and Earl Baldwin, Dick Eggleston, Don Purkey and Jim Lincoln had good luck in landing their share of walleyes and perch.

They stayed at Russell Resort, owned and operated by Floyd and Pat Russell, winter residents of Tecumseh.

Mr. Russell, former Tecumseh businessman, has five excellent cottages near Curtis on the lake, and provided boats, bait and other accommodating services.

TERI ERY TRIES — The tiny California rabbit feeds from a nursing bottle after the death of its mother. Seven-year-old Teri Ery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Ery, 214 E. Monroe Rd., helped her mother with the litter of seven, but to date only one is still living. The Erys breed rabbits for show and for meat. At present they have about 300.

Tried 'Fun Way' Grocery Shopping

Senior Citizens tried grocery shopping the fun way at their second gathering in the Community Center June 4.

Sixty senior citizens gathered and found that Don Moffatt, Superintendent of Parks and Recreation, and his all-male committee of Worthy Chandler, Waldo Mohr, Oren Feight and Lester Hunt, had planned the unique "grocery day" activities.

Winners of all table and card games received a small bag of groceries, provided by the Parks and Recreation Department.

☆

AFTER REFRESHMENTS of coffee and donuts were served, the group held a short meeting and agreed to continue monthly get-togethers during the summer.

An all-female committee of Mrs. Clara Miller, Mrs. Robert Gillespie, Mrs. Lester Hunt and Mrs. Verdi Skinner, volunteered to help Mr. Moffatt plan the activities for the July 9 party.

The committee extends an invitation to any and all area senior citizens to attend these fun times at the Community Center.

The next one is scheduled for Thursday, July 9, from 2 to 4 p.m.

Although you may never have thought of a funeral establishment as being "home-like", the word does describe the Green-Dunn Funeral Home. Its homey, friendly atmosphere is quite similar to that found in many Tecumseh residences.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

THEY DESERVE BETTER

Where does one register a complaint about a bird's name? If there were such a place I have a letter all ready to go. As a lover of dogs from way back, English setters, German Shepherds and French poodles being favorites — but, Marda, that is beside the point; what I started to say was that while we love dogs, cats are a different matter. In fact, they are high on our lists of dislikes.

It is a sad situation, therefore, that one of our favorite birds has to struggle along with the handicap name of catbird. Unfair, I call it!

But, in spite of this burden, the catbirds are a happy lot and their return each spring is a much-looked-forward-to highlight of our bird year.

Describing the birds is simplicity itself. The sexes look alike; they are slate gray with black showing on their long, slender tails and black caps perched on the back of their heads.

A dark russet spot is sometimes visible at the base of the tail. The real fun in describing the Gray Ones is picking adjectives — trim, sleek, neat, streamlined, natty, dapper, slick, smooth, etc. The list could go on and on; these are handsome birds!

It is for more than just being attractive that we welcome the catbirds to our yards, though.

They are first class serenaders; people who know about such things as bird songs, say that mocking birds are the best singers, the brown thrasher is next and third on the list are our catbirds.

They are excellent mimics and it has almost reached the point in our house that when a rather peculiar bird sound is heard, we blame it on the catbirds.

☆

BEFORE GOING any further and while we are still discussing the great variety of catbird voices, I have a confession to make.

Much as I dislike the birds' name, there is a reasonably sound basis for it. They can sound exactly like a squalling cat.

The noise is harsh, loud and grating; it sometimes pops out inappropriately in the middle of a sweet song or it can serve as an alarm or scolding sound.

I suppose it is only natural under these circumstances that the Gray Ones are given their title, catbirds — I still object!

Unlike last week's birds, the responsibility - shirking cowbird who shows absolutely no interest at all in family rearing, today's subject are all for togetherness.

I truly believe that this is one of the reasons we so enjoy having a pair of catbirds in the yard. They are fierce defenders of 'hearth and home'.

The preferred nesting site is in a thick bush or even better, a dense clump of bushes.

The bulky nest is carefully lined with fine rootlets which make a soft cushion for the four to six unmarked blue-green eggs.

☆

UNTIL THIS YEAR the large barberry tangle by our driveway was 'happy home' for Mr. and Mrs. Gray but unfortunately, the bushes became too unmanageable and had to be cut back quite severely.

For several days, after their return from a southern winter vacation, the pair walked the fence and hopped around the bushes which used to be so big but now are so small — we could almost hear them asking what had happened.

Soon, however, they discovered the giant honeysuckle at the other end of the drive and all was forgiven. I am sure that is where their nest is this year.

If I am right, we will soon be getting 'told off'. These nice afternoons when we are able to get outside, the catbirds will do much scolding and screaming as we push by their nest.

At least, that is what always happened when they were in the barberry. It is great fun to be made unwelcome in your own yard sometimes.

So it is that we greatly enjoy our catbirds but oh, that name — such nice birds, they deserve better.

June Babies.

Earn-a-Bike or Transistor Drive Begins

The Herald's annual Earn-a-Bike or Transistor Radio subscription campaign begins Thursday.

It will close July 11.

Anyone wishing to take part may do so.

To earn a full-size deluxe bike, a salesman must turn in 15 new subscriptions.

For a transistor radio, the total is 10.

Renewals do not count towards a bike or radio.

If a youngster does not sign up enough people for either of the prizes, he or she will then be paid straight commissions for the subscriptions — $1 for each new one and 25c for each renewal.

The Earn-A-Bike campaign was introduced by The Herald in 1960 and has been held ever since. One year, 36 bicycles were earned by the hard-working volunteer sales force.

Circulation of The Herald has grown steadily from over 2,000 to 3,400, thanks greatly to this annual effort and also Britton-Macon school selling campaigns.

Youngsters can sign up for the drive at The Herald office, 117 S. Evans St., directly across from the fire station.

$125 Prize Given to Landscape Fund

Two garden clubs from Tecumseh were among those receiving awards at the convention of the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan, Inc., held at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo last week.

The Little Garden Club was among five given the Civic Improvement Program awards by the Federation, in cooperation with the Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

Mrs. C. L. Cook received the presentation for the club. The $125 prize will be placed in the landscaping fund at the Herrick Nursing Home.

The Tecumseh Garden Club was one of six clubs to be awarded certificates for 25-year membership in the Federation.

Mrs. Joe Rice and Mrs. O. L. Feight represented that club.

Delegates from the Little Garden Club were Mrs. Wilbur Andrews and Mrs. Cook. Mrs. Bill Clausen and Mrs. Orrie Gilbert also attended.

Three tours of the Kalamazoo areas were included on the agenda for the three-day sessions.

The Kalamazoo Art Center, a radio station, the Mall, the First National Bank, Crosstown Parkway Branch, the Upjohn Co. offices and Nature Center were spots of interest seen by the women.

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

Usually, banks [illegible] panic over small change.

But times are changing — radically. Now pennies, nickles, dimes, quarters and half-dollars have them real concerned.

The United Savings Bank of Tecumseh, along with other financial institutions all over America, is in a tizzy. No small change.

Folks at our bank are asking for help from area residents. They'd like that all surplus coins to be brought in and exchanged for bills.

Piggy banks with pennies and nickles will be most welcome. Ditto cookie jars with dimes and quarters.

As at other points around the nation, vending machines seem to be the villains. They gulp up all the silver — much faster than U.S. Mints can produce more.

In recent weeks, United Savings has only been able to give change to stores. If volunteers don't respond now, even the merchants may have to be turned away.

☆

Don't forget the Fisher Body ground-breaking — with dynamite blasts and giant earth mover — coming Thursday, July 9.

☆

Up at Manchester Speedway last Friday night, Jack Carr, 3272 Gady Rd., fired his No. 27 stock car under the checkered flag in the semi-cancellation race.

Ray Bracey of Britton in No. 56, was close behind.

Both cars will again be in action this week with time trials at 7 p.m. and racing at 8:30.

The track is south of Manchester and west of Clinton, look for the sign on M-52.

☆

Have you noticed, a flock of parking meters — 51 to be exact — have cards in them, "Free Parking, Two-Hour Limit."

Thanks to the purchase of bonds by local merchants, the city's four off-street lots all have some "free" meters.

Pat Meadows, the genial bank president who has been spearheading the campaign, is not going to slack in the effort until all the bonds have been paid off and every off-street space is meter-less.

"One of these days, a shopping center might decide to build near Tecumseh," muses Pat, "and it could mean the death of the downtown area."

Pat reasons that free parking is one big item needed to keep downtown shops pulling trade and discourage the shopping center lads.

That's why he would love to have merchants, who haven't participated in the bond-buying program, jump on the bandwagon right now.

Conklin Dr. New Name for Munger

Council authorized Attorney James Beardsley to proceed with necessary legal work to change the name of Munger Rd.—within the city limits — to Conklin Dr.

The street is west from Ternes Rd. to, and just across, Occidental Rd.

The Planning Commission recommended the change and suggested the name Conklin in honor of an early settler.

Another proposal by the Commission to name the new area just west of city hall as Adams Park was rejected by Council.

Adams Park is the site for a new postal building, which has been under construction for about nine months and still far from finished.

Boom on Way to Tecumseh

Flurry of New Construction Indicates Bright Future

From every indication, a record boom is on its way to Tecumseh. Employment is running high. Councilmen were kept busy Monday with discussion of two new apartment developments. Plans for a large new motel were unveiled. A near-$131,000 city sewer and curb projects move along. The $400,000 addition to the high school is keeping on schedule with the extra space due to be ready when classes resume in September. Of course, yet to come will be opening of the Stauffer Chemical Co. complex and the General Motors Fisher Body plant, which, between them, will increase school district evaluation over $10 million and employ upwards of 2,000 about a year from now.

Addition Is Under Way at Jewelry

A major remodeling and expansion of the Gaston and Son Jewelry Store is under way.

Nearly 40 feet will be added to the rear of the store.

Mrs. Sally Pope, owner, says the expansion will increase floor space by approximately 50%. It's the first major remodeling on the building in about 40 years.

☆

A NEW brick and glass front will be installed with a slate entrance. The entry now used for the John Zeigler law office, on the second floor, will be recessed and changed to face the jewelry store.

Plans also include extensive remodeling on the interior with many new fixtures, lighting and ceiling changes, plus a new floor.

Leroy Betzoldt is the designer for the work being done by Shadley Construction of Manchester.

Apartment Plans Shown

James Williamson, Detroit investor, and William Powell, local real estate businessman, showed Council Monday night architectural drawings and plans for new apartments in the Cairns St. area.

A public hearing is scheduled July 6 for changing the zoning for the apartments.

WELDERS LABOR AT $400,000 HIGH SCHOOL ADDITION

16-Unit Apartment Plan Moves Ahead

By JIM LINCOLN

A large apartment development, just west of N. Evans St. in the 400 block area, seemed assured Monday night when Council approved a zoning change.

Frank Rickter, developer from Jackson, told Councilmen that he plans 16 units. There will be eight two-and-a-half-story buildings with a swimming pool and recreation area in the middle of the development.

He hopes to have at least one building ready for occupancy by early fall.

The city's new Evans Creek Intereceptor Sewer will run adjacent to the property and will service the apartments. Sewer construction is expected to start in about two weeks.

Two years ago, Paul Clauda, co-owner of Clauda Plumbing and Heating and present owner of the property for the development, was turned down by Council for a change in zoning when most of the adjoining property owners objected.

He also had planned to develop the area for apartments.

New Motel To Be Built

Annexation of the Harvey Carpenter property to the city was given verbal approval by Council Monday night.

Mr. Carpenter, owner of Harvey's Grill, tentatively plans a large motel, just west of his restaurant on M-50 and wants city utilities.

He told Councilmen that he would pay the costs to extend the sewer and water lines to his property. Approximately 15 acres will be included in the annexation.

Some legal procedures must be completed before Council can officially approve the annexation.

Whether other businesses, all closer to the city than Mr. Carpenter's property, join in the annexation at this time was not determined.

Porter's Problem

Monroe Man Seeking Senate Seat

Senator Elmer Porter faces a new threat.

Tossing a hat into the coming primary ring will be Milton J. Knabusch of Monroe, representative of Monroe County.

At 44, he has an extensive political background, served two terms as Monroe mayor and is Republican chairman of Monroe County.

In the House of Representatives' recently-completed session, Mr. Knabusch sponsored or co-sponsored 10 bills which were passed into law—an unusually high percentage.

He currently serves on five House committees and is chairman of one.

☆

PIPE-SMOKING, soft spoken and a navy veteran of World War II, Mr. Knabusch is already getting support from GOP leaders in and around Monroe and Lenawee Counties, which composes the senate district that has long been represented by Mr. Porter of Blissfield.

However, in his current term, things have become progressively difficult for the 74-year-old senator.

He was stripped of his appropriations committee chairmanship, one of the most powerful positions in the Senate.

His hometown newspaper, The Blissfield Advance editorially suggested, "Why Don't You Retire, Elmer?"

The Herald lashed out in an editorial several weeks ago when Senator Porter lined up with a handful of GOPs and Democrats to secretly launch an apportionment plan under the leadership of Lieut.-Gov. John Lesinski.

This action also drew the wrath of other newspaper editorial writers.

☆

MR. KNABUSCH visited Tecumseh Saturday morning for coffee at Pearl's Cafe and an opportunity to meet and chat with area Republicans.

He pointed out that he hoped to help hammer out a "full tax reform with relief to property owners"; also to work on compulsory vehicle safety check inspections, water conservation and air pollution control programs.

With state apportionment still up in the air, no one knows when the primary will be held.

However, it appears certain that Senator Porter will have a real fight on his hands with Milton Knabusch when it does come.

Fireworks 'n Fun Coming July 4th

Trip for two to New York World's Fair will go to the lucky winner of Old-Fashioned July 4 Grand Prize.

The August trip will feature four days and three nights at one of New York's finest hotels, admission tickets to the World's Fair, choice of several tours, plays and sidelines, plus additional pocket money.

Sponsored by local service clubs, the drawing will be held immediately before the gigantic 45-minute fireworks display at the athletic field, scheduled to begin at 9 p.m., depending on darkness.

Three skydivers will jump into the athletic field area. It's rumored that one of them will pick the winning ticket while floating earthward.

Chairman of the event, Don Moffatt, said ticket sales are good — with proceeds being used to alleviate the cost of the fireworks.

☆

TICKETS ARE 25c each, five for $1 — available from all service organizations, Mr. Moffatt, and downtown merchants.

Events of the day include Dawn Patrol, giant parade, barbecued chicken and ribs, youngsters baseball.

Waterball contest between firemen with sides chosen by Harold Easton and John Hamilton, will take place at Elliott Park. Tecumseh firemen will be vieing for the state waterball championship July 2.

Pony pulling contest will also be held at Elliott Park at 5 p.m.

Shawnee Squares will throw a western style square dance at the Community Center.

Plans are being made for roving musicians from one area of activity to another all day.

Skydivers will be at Tecumseh Airport and at the athletic field.

The New York trip drawing and 45-minute fireworks display will climax a busy day.

Sweet Teeth To Lend Aid for Base Hits

Sweet teeth will help keep 400 area boys playing baseball.

Hundreds of boxes of candies will be peddled door-to-door, starting Friday, for a week by boy sandlotters.

Proceeds are used for baseball supplies and equipment, explains Commissioner Jan Kachur.

Youngster from the Major, Minor and Pony Leagues will be doing the selling.

That's right, $1 bought a home in Tecumseh last week. Details and a picture appear on the front page of the next section.

A real scramble between Stan Thayer and George Meader, both of Ann Arbor, over who'll be Republican nominee for the U. S. House of Representatives from this district, is in the works. Mr. Meader currently is Congressman.

We like the way senior citizen parties have been arranged at Community Center.

They are telling stories at the library — happy ones — Every Wednesday at 1:30 p.m.

Dr. Bob Bowers must have seen golf balls dancing across shimmering fairways in his dreams Thursday night. Who wouldn't, after playing 63 holes in one day? Dr. Bowers started at 9 a.m. and rode electric carts until dusk. Gene Burrell of Dundee was Bob's partner most of the way, going 54 holes.

Beans are growing all over the Tecumseh Public Library and Francie Carpenter is adding "fertilizer" to the soil. While recuperating from a broken foot, suffered in gym class, Miss Carpenter rests her heavy cast and cuts out bean leaves and more bean leaves. Children in the reading club receive one leaf for each book they read. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Carpenter.

Tom Morgan has been "batching" it since his wife and children went to visit relatives in Pennsylvania. Decided he better do some cleaning before Karen gets home, so he borrowed a truck to haul his mess to the dump. He added, "I'm either going to have to wash some dishes or buy some new ones."

How could he lose? Fonzo Fritz, 11, of Occidental Hwy., was fishing on Iron Lake Friday and caught a blue gill with two mouths. That's right, we saw it. Two mouths.

It's a $800 mink stole for Mrs. Don Wright, 104 E. Pottawatamie St., won in a recent Richland Furs promotion. Winner was selected in a drawing at Hathaway House. Guess who drew the ticket? Yep, Mrs. Wright. Seems everyone was reluctant to do the chore, she said OK when asked, was blindfolded, heard container shook and shook. See, it pays to be congenial.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

Tecumseh High School has been fortunate to have on its staff some teachers who have given their students an experience that unfortunately is rare these days.

They have caused their students to do some mind-stretching which should be the aim of education.

In addition to that, these teachers have held-to-the-line on requirements for satisfactory completion of the courses. This resulted in the fact that several senior students failed to pass some courses — and were not graduated.

So now, "talk" in the beauty-shops and at the bridge-tables, etc., centers around the teachers who failed the seniors. The "talk" says they were "flunked without warning."

However, it is a fact that several times the seniors had been warned that they would fail the courses if their work was not completed.

The "talk" about the teachers who flunked several seniors, — and therefore are questionable in their conduct as good teachers — reflects on the people who pass judgment and promote gossip without knowing all the facts.

It also reflects on parents who are unwilling to face the fact that their kids have not measured-up and completed their assignments.

Let's not make a whipping-boy of teachers who insist that requirements be met. Whenever a person emerges as a sort of nonconformist to present-day laxity and submissiveness, he is criticized by those who like to find the "easy way out."

Let us not condemn the teachers who are trying to exert influence toward graduating only those high school students who understand that to succeed in this life, they must meet requirements.

The results of the University of Michigan study of the Tecumseh school system showed that the high school has attained a high standard. The recent actions of the "questionable (?)" teachers, and the backing that Mr. Hart gave them is their effort to maintain that high standard.

Incidentally, we are not residents of the Tecumseh School District, but we have admired the high standard of the Tecumseh High School enough that we have paid tuition for three of our children to attend there.

Like pink and white striped upholstery. Fringed surrey tops. Lively colors. A sports roadster. A station wagon — rugged, durable, designed for work and play.

Then came the 'Jeep' Wagoneer. A revolution! The Wagoneer is so revolutionary, it's hard to recognize your old 'Jeep' friend. It's a station wagon. And a looker! You'll be stunned. Slide into that luxurious interior. Beautiful. Comfortable. Visibility unlimited!

Turn the ignition key. You've got an overhead cam engine purring for you. The only one in any American production car. Try that steering. Power.* The brakes. Power again.* The transmission. It's automatic.* Feel that ride. Pure luxury.

And the 'Jeep' heart and spirit are still there. Pull one simple lever and you're in 'Jeep' 4-wheel "Drivepower."† Then there's hardly a hill that can keep you down . . . hardly a mud hole that can bog you down. In fact, there's scarcely any driving situation that can get you down. You're free to go anywhere with the traction to pull you through.

*Optional items at slight extra cost.

†DRIVEPOWER" is Wagoneer station wagon's new, improved and exclusive 4-wheel drive system.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

As Father's Day draws near, we think of some words of William Penn, "He who is taught to live upon little owes more to his father's wisdom than he who has a great deal left him does to his father's care."

Fathers and sons and the rest of the family, too, have been having a "ball" at the Robert King residence.

Bruce went to Toledo Monday to bring his teen-age exchange brother, Anders Edin, home after a week spent with his own brother, Mats, and his host family, in Warren, Pa.

Anders returned to Warren with Mats and Dr. and Mrs. Jack Roop and four children, after a really hilarious weekend spent here at the King residence for commencement activities of Anders and Greg King.

Dr. and Mrs. Roop have four children, which when added to six in the King family and the two Swedish boys, make up 14 under one roof.

Hats off to Mary and Bob King for showing a splendid bit of American hospitality to Anders, Mats and the Roops.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schober and daughter, Peggy, and Mrs. Robert King, Sr., were also commencement day guests at the Tecumseh King home.

Sunday Greg King was in Southfield for a swim party at the home of Mary Johns, a member of the 1964 Michigan Chorale. The singers will leave for South America June 27.

One Person Is Injured in Accident

Although five accidents were investigated by the Tecumseh police during the past week, only one motorist required medical services.

Suffering injuries and taken to Herrick Hospital was Mrs. Lilah Cadmus, 58, of 8248 Milwaukee Rd.

She was cited for operating her car with defective brakes after ramming into the rear of an automobile driven by Harvey C. Owen, 54, rural Clinton.

Both cars were towed away from the accident on W. Chicago Blvd.

Neither Harvey L. Gatt, 23, Adrian, nor Thomas Hamilton, 71, of 501 N. Maumee, were cited when their cars bumped last week on W. Chicago Blvd.

Damages were practically negligible when the Hamilton automobile rolled into the rear of the Gatt car.

Theodore Goodacre, 18, of 405 Herrick Park Dr., was charged with failing to have his car under control when he hit the rear of an automobile driven by Gladys M. Lopshire, 63, Clinton-Macon Rd.

Goodacre's car was hauled away by a wrecker.

Stephen R. Vance, 20, Adrian, was charged with failure to stop within an assured clear distance in another rear-end accident involving Raymond H. Campbell, 27, of 906 Murray Dr.

Both cars sustained damages but were driven away by the owners.

He Picked Wrong Spot, Got Plucked

A Detroit magazine salesman picked the wrong house Monday — and just 15 minutes after he arrived in town.

The home he selected happened to be Murell Clark's, and Police Chief Clark promptly placed him under arrest for soliciting without a license.

Justice Ernie Oliver then fined him $25, less than a half-hour after he came to Tecumseh.

JEAN HALL reflects on your Decorating Problems

Dear Mrs. Hall:
What can I do to make my bay windows attractive?
Mrs. EFR

Dear Mrs. EFR:
Bay windows can be a spot of beauty now with the advances in drapery hardware.

If you want to cover the wood finishings in a three (or more) window area, use a right-hand pull traverse rod at one end and a left-hand pull traverse rod at the other.

In the center window, use a two-way pull traverse rod.

To completely clear the window when draperies are open, use a special order traverse rod which is formed on the job to curve with your window.

Our installation is guaranteed.

☆

To welcome a completely new line of fabrics into our shop, we are running a "20% off" special on materials in this line for custom-made draperies with a delivery date in July and August.

The 20% off also applies to material sold from this line by the yard for your own personal use.

☆

We will be closed Saturdays during July and August, also Tuesdays for home appointments.

Lots of Talk, Not Much Cards As Moms Meet

TIPTON — A group of young mothers met at the home of Mrs. Ron Roe to play cards last Wednesday night.

Only about four games were played as they all found plenty to talk about, since a lot of them hadn't seen one another for some time.

They decided to meet once every month the next time at Mrs. Jerry Munger's home.

Strawberry shortcake was served by the hostess.

There were nine present, including Mrs. Jerry Fox, Mrs. Larry Reichenbaugh, Mrs. Bill Every, Mrs. Munger, Mrs. James Roe, Mrs. Wayne Lembrick, Mrs. Richard Rudd, Mrs. Gary Mack and the hostess.

Jaycees Serve Many Travelers at Rest Stop

Hearty smiles and a patchwork clown greeted weary travelers Sunday evening at the second annual Tecumseh Jaycee Memorial Day rest stop in front of the Community Center.

A bright orange and white parachute and picnic tables offset the coffee, Kool Aid and homemade cookies given to people passing through the community.

Car windows were cleaned while the guests took it easy.

☆

"THE EVENT is staged to promote safety and to extend the hospitality and good will of the community," said chairman Dr. W. C. Elwartowski.

Frank Sandhoff as the baggy-panted clown hailed folks down while Dr. Elwartowski and his Jaycee and Auxiliary committee served refreshments.

Coffee was donated by Kroger and ice by Easton's Friendly Service.

Over 30 out-of-town cars stopped to enjoy the good will.

Employment Trend Halts

Downward trend in Lenawee County unemployment seems to be temporarily halted.

Seasonal lay-offs caused a slight increase in claims for unemployment compensation at the Adrian office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

The dollar value of unemployment insurance payments made by the Adrian office in May of $27,273 is the lowest since December 1955. Payments for that month amounted to $26,727.

An increasing number of job applicants are now contacting the office since scheduled industrial expansion has been announced for Lenawee County.

Many high school graduates seeking permanent employment and college students anxious for summer jobs account for others.

135 Tipton Youths Attend Bible School

Vacation Bible School was held by Tipton Community Church June 8 through 12.

Dr. John Metler, pastor of the church, planned activities, assisted by Mrs. Richard Platt and Mrs. Raymond Platt.

Enrollment Monday was 85, increased to 135 by Friday.

Lessons stressed the life of Jesus portrayed in songs, stories, symbols and craft.

☆

TEACHERS assisting were Mrs. Herbert Munger, Mrs. Jack Allen, Mrs. Wallace Wilkin, Shirley Fritz, Mrs. Dean Cook, Mrs. Ray Stockinger, Mrs. Lee Griffin, Brenda Allen, Mrs. Ray Buell, Mrs. Frank Crosby and Deborah Vollmer.

Mrs. Lyle Whelan and her committee had charge of refreshments, which were served each mid-morning.

Improper Turn Cause for Ticket to Donald Heacock

Donald Heacock, 30, of 122 E. Church St., was issued a summons for improper right turn Friday when he collided with a car driven by Charles Morris, 53, of Manitou Beach.

Mr. Heacock was traveling west on US-12 and started to make a right turn into the Point Drive-In. He failed to put on his right-hand turning signal. Mr. Morris was traveling behind him and was unaware that the Heacock car was turning and collided with him.

Mr. Heacock, his wife, Margaret, 26; and their children, Mark, 4; and Terese Heacock, 5, received minor cuts and bruises.

Church Women Have A Potluck at Final Meeting

The final meeting of the year for Gloria Dei Lutheran Church Women was held June 8 with a potluck supper.

Mrs. Stanley Rentschler led devotions with Mrs. Gabe French, Jr., presenting the program, "The Gracious Invitation".

She noted that with the present-day world of rush and hurry, people have lost the pleasantness of family dining.

Mrs. French added that, now, more than ever, women would welcome back the dining room and a peaceful family meal hour.

Mrs. Tedd Todd and Mrs. James Tonneberger discussed the workshop they attended last month at Grace Lutheran Church in Albion.

New members will be received into the church June 28. A potluck dinner will be held afterward. Those attending are to bring their own table service and a dish to pass.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Fred Weseloh, Mrs. Floyd Lane and Mrs. Curtiss Wright.

Past Chiefs

A meeting of the Past Chiefs Club will be held Friday, June 19, at the Kempf-Whelan home on Vineyard Lake.

Fields of Play

A sparkling double play highlighted the Dodgers' 12-10 victory over the Pirates in Cub Minor League action.

A sharply-hit ball to pitcher Billy Knapp, went to first baseman Esmo Sanchez, who in turn threw to catcher Dean Gittings, who tagged a runner trying to score on the infield out.

Esmo was the leading hitter, going 4-for-4, including three doubles. Mark Myers had 4-for-4, and Dean got a triple and single.

A circus catch by Martin Sackett drew applause.

Randy Bow went 3-for-3 as the Indians took the Giants, 22-4. Bill Mukensturm of the Giants had 2-for-4.

Robert Beevers and John Merz shared pitching chores for the winners, striking out nine.

The Braves scored four runs in the fifth to come from behind and scalp the Dodgers, 8-6, with Chuck Locker the winning pitcher and Bill Humphries the loser.

Both Bob Miller and Jon Smith had 2-for-3.

The big Braves' blast came when Jim Sisson and John Revesz walked, then Jon Smith doubled. Bob Miller singled and when the Dodgers bobbled the play, he went all the way around.

Robert Beevers and John Merz combined to hold the Red Sox hitless as the Indians won, 22-3.

Both hurlers also had three hits each and one of Bob's was a homer. James Crandall got a trio of blows as well.

Fourteen Indians went down via strike-outs.

√

Managers are reminded to include first names on game report forms, also to get them to The Herald as soon as possible after the final out.

√

In Cub Major action, Butch Quinn struck out 12 as the Products Union took the Jaycees, 6-3.

Butch was 3-for-3 at the bat, including two doubles while Mike Cote, his battery mate, stroked a home run.

Police edged [illegible] 8-6, as Bob Reed struck out 11 and got two hits himself.

Ronald Randolph of the Police and Tom Aiuto of Exchange each had a pair of blows.

Guy Manwaring's catch in left field was the outstanding defensive play of the game.

Credit Union pitcher, Frank Flores, stole home, got 3-for-3 and fanned 12 as his club topped Faling Cities Service, 8-1.

His mound opponents, Don Belcher and Jack Greenfield combined for 10 strike-outs.

Mike Matteson rapped out three hits, including a second-inning double which scored Flores and proved to be the winning tally.

Cities Service catcher Lawrence Dermyer injured his right hand in stopping Dave Faling's throw when Flores made his theft of home.

Rotary's Lamar Rufner sent down 14 Kiwanis batters via strikes as his crew won, 4-2.

Lamar had a single and double at the plate as did his team mate, Vern Bennett. Gibson of Kiwanis, got a pair of singles.

A double by Mark Decker of Credit Union scored Mike Tilton from third base with the winning run in a 4-3 win over Union.

Union batters got six hits off winning hurler Rickey Hicks—Paul Randall and Mike Cote each going 2-for-2—while Credit Union had only three. However, they came when it counted.

Hicks struck out 10.

Mike Matteson of Credit Union needed several stitches over his left eye when struck by a thrown ball as he slid into third base. He was hustled to Herrick Memorial Hospital by Manager Bill Damon for repairs moments after the accident happened.

Prior to being hit, Mike rapped out two base knocks, including a home run.

In the Pony League, VFW swamped the Indians, 13-1, with Gerald Slick hurling a one-hitter.

Steve Dalton tagged a triple and single for VFW and John Hamilton had a double and single while second baseman Gus Bishop made the fielding gem, knocking down a hard-hit grounder to his left, then tossing out the runner.

Buddy Work of VFW fanned 14 to shut out Products Workers, 13-0, as Bishop and Steve Cook both got triples.

Hamilton starred when VFW edged Eagles, 6-5, getting a sharp single to right in the seventh that scored Buddy Work and Steve Dalton.

In the field, Hamilton made two running catches.

Although the losing hurler, Gary Rutledge of the Eagles, pitched well, holding VFW scoreless the first four frames, Slick was the winner.

VFW beat Britton, 7-3, with Buddy Work holding the losers hitless until the fourth inning when Gordie Henning singled. Dave Lord of VFW hit a double for the only extra-base blow.

Jim Bobley was on the hill as the Eagles took a 7-3 victory from the Products Workers and he struck out eight and allowed one hit.

The Eagles' Mike Creger, Gary Easton and Jim Mobley all hit home runs when Britton fell, 14-1, while Gary Rutledge whiffed 17 of the 25 batters he faced.

It was an 18-3 slaughter by the Indians over the Products Workers with Chuck Stanley the winning hurler, striking out a dozen.

Steve Ring went 2-for-3 in a losing cause and his team committed 15 errors.

G & J hammered out an 11-3 margin over the Eagles, also took the Indians, 11-2, with Tom Witt getting 10 strike-outs.

Witt was on the hill when G & J defeated Products Workers, 12-5, sharing the hurling duties with Sam Starkey.

Starkey hit a grand-slam home run for the game's big blow.

Eagles took the Indians, 8-7, with Jim Mobley getting credit for the decision as he fanned nine.

The game was iced in the sixth frame with a four-run rally. Gary Fairbanks and Jeff Schwartz singled, John Boldone drove them in and took second on the throw home.

Dan Anderson singled Boldon home, then stole second. He came over with the tie-breaker when Doug Schwartz connected for a hit.

Earlier, the Indians tallied six markers in their half of the fifth frame on two walks, singles by Eric Long and Cecil Stanley, a double by Rich Durkee, balk and a single by Tom Horton.

Mike Creger had a home run and Jim Upell a triple for the winners.

Only One Phase of Construction Nearly Complete

Although curb and gutter construction is nearly completed on Adrian St., from the railroad to Shady Lane, other major work there will probably not be completed until September or October.

City Manager Cal Zorn says the street must be cut down in a stretch of about 300 feet, and one section near the railroad tracks filled.

If compaction of the street is sufficient by fall, new blacktop will be laid from the tracks to Shady Lane.

Hole-in-One May Win $1,000, Trip to Scotland

NEW YORK — A hole-in-one scored by Mrs. Gertrude Miller of 233 Maple St., may earn her $1,000 and a trip to Scotland for two.

By getting an ace at the Tecumseh Country Club Mrs. Miller was entered in the Old Smuggler Hole-In-One Sweepstakes, an annual competition for aces.

The Winner will be announced at the end of the year.

Jerry Creger Cards Eagle

By CHUCK ALLEN

Tecumseh-Clinton-Macon Golf Leaguers settled down to a more gentlemanly type of game this week with the points split fairly even among the teams.

Fairly even, that is, except in the case of Bill Johnson and Dale Garrison. They ran into a hot substitute, Clyde Gunder, who shot 39, and took 15½ points.

Birdies were rare this week, but Jerry Creger followed a tremendous drive with a spectacular putt to score the first eagle of the year.

Blooper Ball Season Opens

Men's blooper ball will begin Wednesday, June 24, at the lighted softball field with Henkel's All-Stars playing Wally's Wonders at 7:30 p.m.

A second game between The Teachers and Britton Stars will begin at 9 p.m.

Family Can Swim at The Pit for $1 during The Week

Family swims for $1 will be offered at The Pit Monday thru Thursday for the remainder of the season, announced Don Moffatt, city parks and recreation superintendent.

The reduced price, which will go into effect immediately, is applicable to one or both parents and their own children.

Regular price per swimmer at The Pit is 35c.

"The family swims are being offered in place of season passes this year," said Mr. Moffatt, "because the year is too advanced to distribute the passes."

He added that passes are being considered for next year.

Last weekend showed a turnout of 368 swimmers at The Pit.

The city has graded and widened the road leading into the area, while the beach is being increased by leveling and distributing sand evenly with bulldozers.

Frosts Attend

MACON — Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Frost and daughters, Susan and Peggy, attended the graduation ceremonies of another daughter, Kendra, at Michigan State University Sunday.

Kendra completed the spring term of practice teaching at Dowagiac.

Recreation Activities

By DON MOFFATT, Superintendent

Playgrounds had the biggest attendance its first week since the program began four years ago. This week's special event was a scavenger hunt to be held Wednesday morning.

Next week's special activity is a circus. All children will be asked to dress accordingly and participate during the circus.

HERRICK PARK

Approximately 30 children have been in attendance during the first week.

Activities have included games, baseball, croquet and assembling model cars, tanks, and airplanes.

Several have been working in crafts — making coin purses, comb cases, beanies and pot holders.

TECUMSEH ACRES

While the attendance for the first few days at the playground was not too large, this was mainly because few children knew of its existence.

Thursday and Friday, the attendance grew.

Sam Whitney made two dog leashes, Kathy Laslo made a turtle purse, and Shawn Dalton is finishing a model car.

PATTERSON SCHOOL

Patterson youngsters began their first week playing games. Some of the games are Squirrels In Trees, Shopping, and Have You Seen My Sheep?

Paul Hamilton made a comb case, Mary Beth and Nancy Jean Lay completed Indian Head coin purses and Tim Prettyman put a model Triumph together.

SHADY LANE

The Shady Lane playground was busy opening week with children making handicraft projects.

Jerry Lake. Martin Harper, Ricky Cole, Rodney Cole, Ino Banda and Larry Hallenbeck purchased and assembled wooden airplanes.

Betty Morris, Mary Lake, Lynne Mead, and Sherry Ferguson assembled leather purses. Steve Flanders made three beanies for himself and his sisters. Model cars were assembled by Steve Flanders, Sue Upell, Bradley Mead, David Southwell, Lynne Mead and Vicki Ferguson.

The children have enjoyed playing checkers, softball, dodgeball and many other games. Friday the children had a picnic.

Moms softball is being held Tuesday evenings 7 to 8:30 p.m. at the softball diamond. All moms interested in playing are invited to attend any Tuesday evening.

√

The Senior girls softball games for the next two weeks are out of Tecumseh. Monday, June 22, the game is in Adrian and June 25, they play in Britton. Both are at 6:30 p.m. Their next home game is Thursday, July 2, at 6:30 p.m. against Hudson.

√

Over 40 boys and girls have registered and begun lessons at the tennis courts by the library. These will continue through Aug. 7. Anyone still wishing to register for lessons, must do so by this week Friday.

√

Four teams of future major leaguers — now playing pee wee — have been formed and are all ready into league play.

These teams of over 25 players per team, are coached by Don Baird, Dave Dziachan, Jerry Hale and Randy Work.

Their games are scheduled each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 1 p.m.

√

The first week swimming lessons have been completed with 211 swimmers.

The second session will start July 6 and nearly a full class has signed up already.

Family Night swim is on Tuesday and Thursday from 7 to 8:30 p.m. The whole family for 50 cents.

Adult lessons start Thursday, June 18 at 8:30 p.m. if enough adults are interested.

√

Senior Citizens are preparing for their next get-to-gether July 9. This being the same day as the GM ground-breaking, bus transportation will probably be arranged so all can attend it, too.

Forty-eight pee wee girls, ages 7 through 10, have registered to play softball Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 1 to 2 p.m.

Any girls interested in playing pee wee softball are urged to register with Carol Kapnick.

The girls have been put on one of the following four teams — Indians, Sluggers, Rolling Stones and Tecumseh Chiefs.

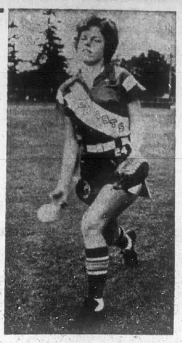
√

Largest number of girls within the past four years have registered to play junior softball.

Forty-five girls began league play Wednesday at 5 p.m. at the softball diamond.

Those teams entered in league play are Killers, Champion Grubbies, Horse-Flies and Jolly Red Giants.

Any girl 11-14 years old, interested in playing softball, may see Carol Kapnick.



Marlene Piper of the Portland, Ore., Florists softball team, which meets the VFW girls of Adrian Wednesday, June 24, on the Island in Adrian, is rated one of the top performers in the nation. A student at the University of British Columbia in Vancouver, she boasted a 21 and 8 record on the mound last summer, also hit .342 to lead her team.

County Sealing Two Area Roads

Lenawee County will shortly be seal coating Maumee St., from Mohawk to Russell Rd., a distance of about one-quarter of a mile.

Russell Rd., from the DT&I tracks to Mill Hwy., a section three-quarters of a mile, is also slated for coating.

The city will install curbs on Maumee, from Mohawk to Cummins Sts.

Top Girls Teams Clash on Diamond

A top-flight girls' softball game is scheduled for Adrian June 24.

Adrian's VFW crew, which plays in the Michigan-Ohio Women's Fastball League, will face the Erv Lind Florist nine from Portland, Ore.

Portland was runner-up in the world's tournament last year, has won two world titles and finished seventh or higher in 17 of its 27 years in national competition.

The Florist squad has amassed 1,053 wins and 308 losses since 1934.

The game will begin at 9 p.m. on the Island diamond.

Adrian's team is currently 6 and 2 in league action. In previous seasons, Manager Marian Rozelle's nine has won eight state titles, a regional crown and was ninth in the Oregon world tournament in 1961.

Marian, who handles pitching chores as well as managing, has been in action for 18 years.

Kay Houchin, with a .526 batting average, currently tops the Adrian VFW batters.

David Green Being Ordained Episcopal Priest

David E. Green of Dearborn, and formerly of Tecumseh, will be ordained to the priesthood of the Episcopal Church Tuesday.

The Rt. Rev. Richard S. M. Emrich, Bishop of Michigan, will officiate at the ceremony, which will take place at 7:30 p.m. at Christ Episcopal Church in Dearborn.

Mr. Green's father, the Rev. Edward R. A. Green, Rector of Christ Church, will present his son for ordination. The new priest will celebrate his first Holy Communion on St. John Baptist Day, Wednesday, June 24, at 7 a.m., at Christ Church.

Mr. Green was born in Tecumseh in 1937, while his father was Rector of St. Peter's Church.

He graduated from Phillips Academy in Andover, Mass., in 1954, having spent a year as an exchange student in Germany.

He attended Harvard College where he held a Harvard National Scholarship. During a leave of absence from Harvard, he taught in Lincoln Park, as a substitute teacher and worked at the Peerless Cement Co. of Detroit.

In 1960 he received the degree of Bachelor of Arts cum laude, majoring in Linguistics and Germanic Languages.

☆

HE GRADUATED with distinction from the Episcopal Seminary, The Church Divinity School of the Pacific in Berkeley, Calif., in June, 1963, with the degree of Bachelor of Divinity.

He specialized in Old Testament studies and also did work in Semitic Languages at the University of California.

He was ordained Deacon in June, 1963, at the Cathedral Church of St. Paul in Detroit. At the present time he is working on his doctorate in Old Testament at the Graduate Theological Union in Berkeley.

He has taught introductory Hebrew at the Church Divinity School of the Pacific for two years and has served as choir director of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Berkeley.

☆

MR. GREEN has translated several books from German for Holt, Rinehart & Winston. He has been awarded one of five Episcopal Church Foundation fellowships for the next year to continue his work on his doctorate and at the present time is looking toward a teaching ministry.

In the summer of 1961, Mr. Green married Sharon Weiner of Brooklyn, N. Y., a graduate of Radcliffe College. She is working for her doctorate in English at the University of California at Berkeley and has been an assistant teacher at the university.

Mr. and Mrs. Green have a daughter, Alexis Ann, born in July, 1963.

BARGAIN-PRICED HOME — How would you like to buy a place like this for $1? Bob Leathers, 212 Shawnee St. did just that, getting it from the Tecumseh Board of Education. Of course, part of the deal was that the home be moved, which Mr. Leathers did, a few hundred feet away to 316 N. Maumee St., across from the high school. So, add to the purchase price about $1,200 for the mover and another $700 for utility companies to assist, then tack on the prices of a lot and construction of a foundation. This presents a truer picture of the investment. Originally, the Board of Education obtained the land and home from the C. B. Wagner estate. The house moving, extremely well-planned, took a day's time, after all preparations had been completed.

Although we haven't shopped too much for clothing, the stores are nice and we have been warmly welcomed and nicely treated. Merchants have been especially nice to our little girl and I know she has enjoyed it."

Let's Pool Resources, Teachers

ALMA — The Rev. Julian Gresham, pastor of Tecumseh's First Presbyterian Church, was in attendance at the 130th meeting of the Synod of Michigan, United Presbyterian Church, held at Alma College June 9-11.

Dr. Kenneth Neigh, General Secretary of the United Presbyterian Board of National Missions, spoke about the problem of education, placing prime urgency upon doing something "now about educating those who are the 'under-achievers' in our schools, those from book-sterile homes where parents are happier when the children abandon 'school days' for 'take-home pay days' especially in the Southeast.

"Let all the leaders," continued Dr. Neigh, "jet us pool our resources, our teachers, our buildings and our skills in the hope that we might disturb the hopeless with the ideal and grant them their right to share in the American dream."

JUNE BABIES

For the past, oh, probably three weeks, our yard has been full of baby birds. They afford such good looking and so many laughs that it is small wonder we call June one of our favorite months. There is always a screaming-and-feeding show going on.

We call the young birds babies but actually I suppose that is incorrect. Newly-hatched birds are ugly naked things and the characters we have been watching are far from this.

In fact, they are so fully feathered out and so ragged looking that most of them appear to be bigger than the poor parent from whom they are begging food.

However, they trot around on spindley legs, screech in little high voices and otherwise act so young that I suppose, right or wrong, we will continue to call them babies.

The robin families are perhaps the most fun — and I am happy to report that there seems to be a bumper crop this year.

It is always rather amazing to me to watch a mother bird teach her youngsters, her discipline and control are to be envied.

Mother, Ida and I, on two different occasions, had marvelous demonstrations of this.

Three spotted babies were scattered about the yard, the older bird was running herself ragged searching for the wiggly worms to satisfy the three almost unsatisfiable appetites.

The youngsters were old enough so that they were trying to find dinner but, from the way they gobbled down her offerings and screamed when she left, I am sure their efforts were not too successful.

☆

ALL WAS GOING well until the "big bad humans" appeared on the scene. We, of course, meant them no harm but Mother Robin knew that birds and people do not mix.

The babies were not the slightest bit afraid but how fast they received Lesson Number One.

Quickly and with a great deal of clucking, she flew to a near-by clump of bushes. She stood on the ground just in the protection of the low-hanging limbs and, when all three 'kids' arrived, she then hopped up to the nearest branch.

Coaxing all the while she soon had the babies up and practically in no time at all they had been led, a branch at a time, up into the bush and completely out of sight.

☆

BABY SPARROWS must receive similar instructions but we have not been eye witnesses. There are many, many little ones about but we mainly see the tagging-along, screaming-loudly, food-being-jabbed-into and tagging-along again bit.

The young sparrows give their over-worked parents not a minute's rest; if birds dream, Mrs. Sparrow must have nightmares about huge wide-open mouths and shrill ear-piercing begging voices.

There will soon be other baby birds showing up, some will not be welcome — the grackles and starlings over-run the yard with their hollering youngsters. Noise, but no fun.

We are looking forward to the debut of the baby cardinal; I am sure there is a nest close by because Papa C. is constantly at the feeder and he is carrying many sunflower seeds away.

He must either be feeding his wife or the youngsters. The blue jays will be bringing their families around, too.

More noise, but, when it comes from baby blue, we don't mind. Ditto the flicker family.

So it is that the looming ... expecting is good from this year's crop of June babies.

(Keeping a roof over your head)

Wind can blow your roof off . . . fire can burn it off . . . a Home-Gard homeowners policy will replace the loss. But there are other ways to lose the roof over your head . . . someone injured on your property can get a large liability judgment against you. In that case you may lose the roof and the rest of the house. Here again, a Michigan Mutual Liability Home-Gard will protect against liability losses as well as other hazards.

Meader Speaks

Representative George Meader addressed a Saturday evening meeting in Plymouth on "Government — the Citizen's Responsibility."

He said, "Indifference on the part of citizens leads to seizure of the power of government by those seeking personal gain or by special interests."

Mary Colgrove, daughter of Mrs. P. G. Colgrove, graduated Sunday from Michigan State University. A 1960 graduate of Tecumseh High School, she received a degree in business secretarial. Those who attended the exercises from here were Mrs. Colgrove and daughter, Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. Jens Touborg, and Mrs. Colgrove's mother, Mrs. A. R. Shigley of Fremont.

√

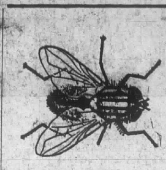
Does It Make Into A Bed? by Lorna Novak. A hilarious novel about a small town deep in the heart of Texas suddenly invaded by a one-woman culture crusade.

First Chapter

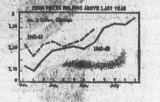
The first chapter of Genesis—coupled with explanatory passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy — will form the nucleus of the Christian Science Bible Lesson this Sunday entitled "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?"



CORN PRICES STRONG. On just about all markets, corn prices continue above last year. They are near last summer's peak prices on many markets. Exports have held strong, farmers have been light holders and CCC sales have trailed well behind last season. It appears prices are about as high as they will go for the rest of the season. It is unlikely any possible price gain during next 30 days will be enough to pay more than storage and shrink. Plan to have all corn sold by mid-July.

BICARBONATE BOOSTS MILK FAT in high concentrate low roughage dairy rations. Low butterfat tests associated with this type of ration can be corrected by adding bicarbonate to the ration at a rate of ½ to 1 pound per day, say University of Illinois dairy scientists. It appears that bicarbonate neutralizes excessive acids in the rumen. High amounts of propionic acid hinder butterfat synthesis.

FLY CONTROL. Some areas such as pit silos, hog pens, loafing sheds and trainingways can be kept clean enough to eliminate fly breeding. Spread larvicides in these areas as granules, or a water emulsion mixture granules or a water emulsion mixture of malathion, diazinon or diptarex to kill the hatching maggots. Use a sprinkler can or sprayer for water emulsion mixtures.



TRUCK TIRE BUYING. For high speeds and heavy loads, nylon cord piles are best. Drive wheels should have cross-lug tires while circular rib treads on front tires work well. Be careful not to overload your tires: a 10% overload cuts tire life by 18%.

Old Fashioned Fourth of July Will Run from Dawn to Dark

Nearly 10,000 people are expected to join the fun at Tecumseh's Old Fashioned Fourth of July celebration, estimates general chairman Forest Abner.

The day is so jammed with activities, guests will need a scorecard to keep track.

Here's the way things are scheduled:

DAWN PATROL — starting at 7 a.m. about 100 planes will touch down at Meyers Airport for breakfast, to be served by 20 Exchange Club members. General public is invited to the "husky" ham and egg meal, with serving to continue until about 11.

The Meyers Aircraft plant assembly line will be open for viewing. About 9 a.m., members of the Chuting Angels sky diving club will start to perform.

PARADE — to step out at 12:30 p.m., the line of march will feature the Tecumseh High School Band, 50-member VFW Lansing Post 701 boy and girl drill teams, several floats, mounted units, decorated bikes.

It will form along S. Union St. at Chicago Blvd., march east on Chicago to the Four Corners, then north to the VFW post.

BARBECUE — Both chicken and ribs at VFW parking lot, serving from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

SQUARE DANCE — Shawnee Squares are sponsoring two sessions, 2 to 5 p.m. and 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Community Center. Callers will be Jack May of Toledo and Deuce Williams of Dearborn.

WATERBALL MATCHES — An exhibition contest by members of the county championship Tecumseh team, pitting the Hamilton Gulf Gophers against the Easton Mobil Maulers, 2 p.m. at Elliott Park, Ottawa and Kilbuck Sts.

Following this will be a run-off tournament among the four service clubs, Exchange vs. Rotary and Jaycees vs. Kiwanis, winners to meet for the city championship.

BASEBALL GAME — Three are slated for Recreation Field diamonds from 2 p.m.

PONY - PULLING CONTEST — This will be at Elliott Park, following the waterball debacles, with Clarence Beach and Mitchell Mobley in charge, about 5 p.m.

SKY DIVING — Three Chuting Angels will drop onto the Pony League baseball diamond, north of the swimming pool, about 8 p.m., with the first to land being the person who will come up with a winning ticket for the $300 trip for two to the World's Fair.

MARCH EXHIBITION — The Lansing VFW junior teams will stage a display about 8:30 p.m. at Recreation Field.

FIREWORKS — Set off at Recreation Field about 9 p.m.

Mr. Abner and his committee have worked long hours to arrange this Old Fashioned Fourth, which should top just about everything ever held in Tecumseh.

VOLUME 113 — ONE HUNDRED FOURTEENTH YEAR — NO. 38 | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, JUNE 25, 1964 | 16 PAGES — TEN CENTS A COPY

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

This is the first of 10 straight weeks that 1,000 cottages through the Irish Hills area will receive complimentary copies of The Herald.

A group of cooperating merchants are paying for delivery of the papers, which is being done by two drivers and six "jumpers" who'll dash up to each vacation home with the gift.

Objective of this effort is simple: invite the vacationers to shop in Tecumseh while enjoying their annual two-weeks-with-pay.

In addition, the resorters will be asked to join the fun of Tecumseh promotions — like the annual moonlight and sidewalk sales, the Old Fashioned Fourth of July celebration.

Yes, there will be plenty of reasons for making them want to visit our town.

With the kickoff of the "lakes distribution," as The Herald crew refers to it, a few comments on our town always seems in order.

Visitors will note that Tecumseh is nicknamed, "The Refrigeration Capitol of the World." That's because our Tecumseh Products Co. builds more refrigeration compressors than anyone else around the globe.

In the States and foreign lands, refrigerators, home freezers, air conditioners, pop coolers, hot coffee dispensers (same unit is used, the cycle is reversed for heating) have as their hearts compressors by Tecumseh.

The main plant employs about 3,000 and there are seven divisions in Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin and a Canadian subsidiary. In addition, 19 foreign licenses from Chile to Scotland and from Australia to Argentina build units to Tecumseh specifications.

Tecumseh also makes gasoline engines. Between these and compressors, 70 million units were manufactured during 1963 as the company hit an all-time sales record of $190 million.

Other major industries in town include:

Gray-Faraday — electric signals and dictaphone systems.

Meyers Aircraft — sleek, $20,000 executive airplanes.

H. W. Tuttle & Co. — heating units for ranges and water heaters.

Tecumseh Corrugated Box — all sorts of cardboard containers.

In not too many months, Fisher Body's upholstery trim plant, with a payroll to contain 1,000 names will be added to the list along with Stauffer Chemical, with a force of 700.

Industrially, Tecumseh is one of the most fortunate communities in Michigan.

We have many other fine assets — fine churches and schools, excellent city government.

At first sight, the thing which most impresses visitors, we'd guess, are the wide, tree-lined streets in the residential area. On warm summer days, they're lovely.

Cutting through the community is the famed River Raisin, which for hundreds of years has coursed along almost unnoticed.

Of course, its strong currents ground grain and make electricity (in fact there still is power generated portions of each day at a small plant on the south end of Globe Pond owned

Time To Pack, Leave Farms on Occidental

Two farm families on Occidental Hwy. are busy making plans to move.

They're the Harold Hassenzahls and the Merrill Grays.

Their farm land has been purchased by General Motors for the new Fisher Body upholstery trim plant.

When did they realize that it was GM which wanted their land?

Mr. Hassenzahl confesses not until he read it in the paper in May.

Contact was made with the two families on Feb. 27 by Consumers Power Co. A General Motors representative was present at the time, although it was thought he also was from Consumers.

The purchase was contingent on the fact that both pieces of land could be had — the 120 acres owned by the Hassenzahls and the Grays' 55 acres.

Reaction to the sale?

"Happy," responded Mr. Hassenzahl.

☆

THE FAMILIES have until Sept. 4 to vacate their land. GM said they can take what buildings they like.

The Hassenzahls, who have farmed this soil for 21 years, will be able to get in about 35 acres of alfalfa this week. Most of it is growing in the area where the July 9 ground-breaking ceremony is to be held.

They may also be able to harvest the 18 acres of wheat.

For the Grays, they'll be leaving after 17 years on Occidental.

Their wheat and oat crops were purchased by GM.

Mr. Hassenzahl, 46, has long been on halves with his son, Charles, 24, who took to farming early, having started to milk the family cows when he was three. They have been working 400 acres together, including rented land.

They'll now split up, with the mother and dad buying the Clinton Faler 100-acre farm near Adrian. Charles has purchased another one on Townline Hwy. He'll be taking about a dozen of the cows with him with the remainder of the family herd, numbering 45, to be sold at auction.

The Hassenzahls have a daughter, Mrs. Duaine Sayler, who lives on Sutton Rd.

☆

FOR THE GRAYS, their new home will be on a 10-acre plot at 9592 Clinton Rd. Mr. Gray works first shift at Tecumseh Products Co., besides farming.

They have four youngsters, Bob, 22, who just graduated from Michigan State University; Larry, 19, who will transfer to MSU from Adrian College next fall; Jim 15, and Sylvia 12, who'll be attending Clinton schools next fall.

GOODBYE OCCIDENTAL HWY. — The Harold Hassenzahls (left), Mrs. Merrill Gray and her son, Bob, won't recognize this corner in another year. This is where the new Fisher Body plant goes, on farm land owned by the two families. GM said the former owners can have the buildings and Mr. Hassenzahl will take three corn cribs, a tool shed, grain bin, milk house and automatic milking equipment to their new farm near Adrian. The July 9 GM ground-breaking will take place in the 20-acre alfalfa field directly behind them, with an impressive ceremony, including a dynamite blast. Free refreshments will be served.

Stauffer Considered 178 Places Before Selecting Sutton Rd.

How many sites were considered before Stauffer Chemical settled on the Sutton Rd. area?

A total of 178.

This information came from Robert Chandler, director of engineering for the Anderson Division of Stauffer, while the speaker at Monday's gathering of Exchange Club.

Besides talking about the new silicone research and production complex, which will be just three miles south of Tecumseh, he also revealed other information about the giant corporation.

► Stauffer Chemicals has 86 plants in the United States and 14 plants overseas with 7,500 employees and gross sales of $760 million in 1963.

► More than one-half of Stauffer employees are graduate chemists and many have advanced degrees in their field.

He stated that the old Sutton place will be restored and used for research offices.

First new buildings will be for research and administration with production facilities soon to follow.

NEW OFFICERS were installed by Clarence Beach. John Saling, new president, appointed Russ Garno as general chairman of the Dawn Patrol set for the Fourth of July.

Wally Whiting, kitchen chairman, announced plans for the breakfast to be served at 7 a.m. until all are served.

Linda Dean Competes for Ohio Beauty Title

Special to The Herald

BRYAN, O. — Linda Dean of Bryan, is one of the 10 fair ladies vying for this year's Miss Top of Ohio title.

The contest will be held Tuesday and the winner will represent a five-county area in the Miss Ohio Pageant to be staged in July at Sandusky.

The local pageant is an official preliminary of the Miss America pageant. The contestants will display their qualifications in the evening gown, talent and swim suit categories.

Michigan's loss was Ohio's gain, as Linda Dean originally called Tecumseh home, but is now a resident of Bryan.

She graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1961, and attended Adrian College for one year. She is currently employed at Gorny-Winzeler's, but would like to continue her formal education.

Linda's dark brown hair accents her fair complexion and blue eyes. She is 21 years old, and is five foot five.

She rates reading, sewing, and listening to all kinds of music at the top of her hobby list.

Linda had four years of voice training while in high school, and continued her voice lessons at college. Her talent contribution will be the vocal selection, "Wonderful Guy" from "South Pacific."

When a THS senior, she was selected to go on a goodwill tour to South America with the Michigan Chorale. High school juniors and seniors comprised the choir which was sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches.

Linda's mother, Mrs. Dale Dean, and three brothers and a sister reside in Ridgeway.

Lenawee Resembles Vegetable

Salad Sliced Like Tomato

Lenawee County has been sliced up like a tomato for a salad in the new Michigan "one man-one vote" apportionment plan.

Woodstock Township has been attached to the Hillsdale and Branch House district.

Cambridge Township goes to Jackson County.

Franklin Township will join a Washtenaw-Livingston district, forcing Rollo Conlin, veteran Lenawee representative, to move from Franklin if he wishes to continue to represent the area.

The senatorial picture is as confusing. Tecumseh and the eastern half of Lenawee becomes a part of Washtenaw. The rest locks onto a section of Hillsdale County and all of Jackson County.

Now are you thoroughly confused?

Raisin Township Residents Protest New Trailer Park

A protest will be made this Thursday evening when Raisin Township officials hold a public hearing regarding construction of a trailer park on Gady Rd.

A petition, with 110 signatures of township residents, objecting to the trailer park, will be presented to the officials.

The meeting will be held in the fire barn at Holloway at 8 p.m.

Services Held Monday for Edward Heilman

Services were held Monday afternoon at the Corkery Funeral Home for Edward C. Heilman, 77, oldest Tecumseh businessman and former long-time city official.

He had been in failing health for several months and was confined to his home since early spring.

In March, he resigned as a member of the Board of Supervisors, due to ill health, after 10 years service.

On April 1, he was honored by the city for his many contributions and long service as a local official.

A resolution was passed by Council to give him permanent recognition on city records.

☆

AT ONE TIME, Mr. Heilman served approximately 25 consecutive years in the local government — either as a councilman, president of Council, mayor or city clerk.

He had been a member of the Presbyterian Church board, a charter member of the Exchange Club, director of the Chamber of Commerce, life member of the Masonic Lodge and a director of Civil Defense here during World War II.

He was born in Tiffin, O., on Dec. 23, 1886, and moved here from Toledo in 1913. Two years later on June 30, he married Edna Gaston.

Since 1916, he either managed or owned Gaston & Son Jewelry Store. For the past two or three years, his daughter Mrs. Sarah J. Pope, has operated the store.

☆

SURVIVORS, besides the widow and Mrs. Pope, are another daughter, Mrs. Roscoe Baldwin of Marquette; brother, Andrew Heilman, Tiffin; and five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

A sister and two brothers preceded him in death.

The Rev. Julian Gresham officiated at the service. Burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

Short-Range Toll Calls Are Given New Rates

Charges for long-distance telephone calls within 20 miles are being reduced by the General Telephone Co.

Permission for the new schedule was granted by the Michigan Public Service Commission.

Approximately $613,000 will be saved annually throughout the system, MPSC Chairman Peter Spivak stated.

Reason for the rate change is the cut in federal income tax, voted by Congress in April, according to the company.

NEW RATE plan will allow customers four minutes for 10c instead of three minutes for 15c on long distance calls of less than 10 miles, plus two-minute overtime periods for another nickel instead of the present one-minute periods.

On calls of 11 to 20 miles distance, rates will remain the same, but customers will be allowed four minutes instead of three. Overtime periods are increased to two minutes instead of one.

General Telephone serves 297,000 customers through an operating area that extends into 55 of the state's 83 counties.

St. Peter's Pastor Attends Conference on Education

A national study conference on religion and public education is being attended this week by the Rev. Frank W. Hawthorne of St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

He is Detroit Diocesan representative and delegate of the Michigan Council of Churches.

The conference will study the problems and opportunities facing schools and church leaders in providing released-time programs.

A new bill recently signed by Governor George Romney opens the door for new programs and cooperation between churches and local school officials in released-time work.

The conference is being held at the Interchurch Center in New York, under the auspices of the National Council of Churches of Christ in America.

Mrs. Bob Murray Starts 3-Part Series on NY World's Fair

(Editor's Note — Mrs. Robert Murray recently attended a reunion of her Cornell University Nursing School class in New York City. While there she attended the World's Fair, prompting her to prepare a detailed report for The Herald. It will be presented in a series of three articles.)

By MRS. ROBERT MURRAY

By now, you are probably thoroughly confused by reports coming from the New York World's Fair. Is it truly the rich man's darling or the poor man's pet?

Let's face it. Like a beautiful and charming woman, it is all things to all people.

It is for the financially fit, or for the guy next door who wants to load his two kids into the station wagon, grab mom and the tent and be off.

It is right for the secretary who has $50 to spend and wants to go for broke with a day at the Fair. (If you're really broke, put your rocking chair out in the back yard, for let's face it, unless you're financially solvent, you'll never make it beyond the George Washington Bridge!)

☆

LET'S SAY you have about $300 tucked away for just such emergencies. You now have 200 or 300 additional ways of spending it. Do you want to take your family?

If so, plan to make a trip to the nearest bank — you'll need twice what you've planned. Try convincing a bunch of hungry kids that the thing they want most in the world for supper is a box of soda crackers and a dab of peanut butter.

If your budget is limited, try to get grandma to watch the kids while you and the wife trip the light fantastic at the World's Fair.

Really, the most pitiful sights at the Fair were the parents of small children lugging their little darlings from exhibit to exhibit, whereas the tot and steaming youngsters would have been happier, indeed, with a picnic at Wamplers Lake.

If you decide to take them all, and they are extremely young, don't plan to spend too much time at the Fair.

☆

WHY NOT make it the family trip of a lifetime, going south through Pennsylvania Dutch Country, touring the Civil War Battlefields, then Williamsburg, the crown jewel of American tourist attractions?

Since the original entry fee entitles you to visit all the beautiful restorations, plan to spend two days, being sure not to miss the free movie at the Motor Court, either before or after touring the restorations.

From there to Washington, where a tourist could quite comfortably spend a lifetime going through exhibits, museums and historic monuments, but a quick tour and a trip to Arlington Cemetery to pay one's respects at President Kennedy's grave will have to suffice.

Take the coastal route to New York City, stopping along the way to let the children play in the surf.

If this is their first trip East, a swim in the ocean is worth all the effort to them. Try to stay at the more informal motels that welcome children, if you are not camping.

They will not raise an eyebrow when you pull out your portable grill and cook up a steak or a frozen TV dinner. Or, after you are unpacked, go to a nearby park for a picnic.

☆

THE EXCITEMENT begins to mount as you approach New York City. If you write ahead to The First Bank of New York, they will send you, with each $2 admission ticket to the Fair, a map of New York City and the Fair, or a book of tickets which will enable you to visit many of the exhibits and restaurants at a reduced rate.

You have also invested in a copy of "New York on $5 a Day", I presume, if you are on a limited budget and are planning to spend several days in the city.

It lists many inexpensive hotels and restaurants, tours of the city and much valuable information of the subway system.

If you have not made advance Bureau of Hotel Reservations, or you may find yourself sleeping in Central Park, which, if not fatal, could prove both interesting and refreshing on a hot summer evening!

☆

ALMOST EVERYONE says the same thing about the Fair: go for a day or a week.

I myself would prefer the "go-for-broke-in-a-day" system. Really do it up brown, and then head out of the city, which is taxing on the budget.

Now say you are alone, or have left the children with a competent sitter (the student nurses of the large hospitals, Cornell Medical Center, for example, find this a lucrative way to earn extra money!) and you and your wife want to spend one perfect day at the Fair. Start off with an Aquafoil excursion boat, seating 22, $3.50 one way, leaving from the East River and 25th St. (If you really want to be exotic, take to the air with an $8 helicopter trip from Wall Street to the Top of the Fair.)

Wins MIT Degree

Ambrose Winston Clay, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose W. W. Clay, of 608 Murray Drive, and a graduate of Marion Catholic High School, Marion, O., received the bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering at the 98th commencement exercises of the Massachusetts Institute of Electrical Engineers and the Institute of Radio Engineers.

He is a member of several research clubs at the institute and also the Catholic Club.

During the summer, Ambrose will be employed at the Automatic Electric Laboratories, Inc., in Chicago.

He will do graduate work at Columbia University this fall.

An outstanding student, Ambrose received top honors in high school for academic achievement and outstanding service to his class as well as a certificate from Westinghouse Educational Foundation for membership in honors groups in the Science Talent Search and a letter of commendation for superior performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying test.

He received a $1000 scholarship from MIT.

A science fair project submitted by Ambrose at the Marion, O., High School aroused the interest of a noted English scientist, Dr. F. R. Paulsen of Sussex.

The project won a superior rating at the fair and was concerned with analytical radiation control.

In a letter to Ambrose, Dr. Paulsen wrote, "Your work on development of nuclear equipment is just as interesting to us as any on actual measurements would be — more so, in fact. Consequently I am sending this letter to your home in the hopes that you will send me more details on circuitry, etc."

Father's Day turned into a surprise birthday party for two Tecumsehites, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spreeman. They went to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Spreeman on Murphy Hwy. to observe the holiday.

During the afternoon, 25 guests arrived from Jasper, Hudson, Adrian, Tecumseh and Clayton.

As they sang "Happy Birthday", pretty little Yoshi Spreeman said, "For Who?", not realizing that her own birth anniversary was June 15 and her husband's was June 29.

Elmer and Frances had a gay time serving cake and other goodies.

Charles and Yoshi were presented with an outdoor grill and many accessories for it.

Mrs. L.R.B.

Dear Mrs. L.R.B.

The new shades and toppers now available in all decorator colors and in stripes will give you light control for late sleeping. They need only to be wiped off with a damp cloth now and then.

Some are vinyl coated, all are color-fast and washable.

They clear the window completely for circulation; when drawn they are ideal for insulation from the heat.

The toppers and shades are matched with your choice of trimming to provide beauty in your home and the white exteriors provide a neat outside appearance.

☆

Also laminated shades and toppers can be made from your choice of fabrics.

Fields of Play

Pony League

Tom Witt rescued Sam Starkey on the hill as G & J beat Britton, 15-6.

G & J's Jim Anderson was the hitting star with a home run and two singles in three times at bat. Mike Hebert went 3-for-4.

For Britton, Jim Skelton had a pair of doubles and a single.

G & J infielder Randy Robinson sparkled in the field.

John Anderson got his third home run in four games as G & J topped the Eagles, 11-5, with Dennis Lewis fanning 11. John also had a single.

Gus Bishop singled in Dave Lord during the ninth inning as VFW topped G&J, 2-1 in one of the year's best-played games.

Dave had walked, then taken second on a passed ball.

VFW scored in the fourth on a triple by John Hamilton to bring over Steve Dalton, who got 2-for-4.

A homer by Don Anderson in the sixth knotted the game.

Buddy Work was the winning pitcher, after relieving Gerald Slick in the seventh frame. Gerald fanned eight and permitted just two blows. Buddie got two on strikes and gave up no hits.

Denny Lewis caught the first seven innings for G&J, then took over the pitching chores from Tom Witt.

Witt went into right field and promptly made a fine catch of a long blast by John Hamilton.

In a rematch two days later, VFW again stopped G&J, this time, 11-3, with Buddy Work on the hill.

Gerald Slick rapped a triple for VFW and teammate John Hamilton had a single and double.

A three-run double down the left field line by Carlos Mobley was the key hit as the Indians beat the Eagles, 6-4.

Rick Durkee drove in two other Eagle tallies with another double.

John Bolder of the Eagles and Dennis Anderson of the Indians each got two base blows.

Winning pitcher Cecil Stanley struck out four while his mound opponent Jim Upell [illegible]

Tom Horton's running catch in left center was the game's fielding gem.

Steve Ring of Products Workers had 12 strike-outs and allowed just two hits as Britton fell, 5-1.

John Kennedy singled home John Bryan, who had walked and stolen second, with the run which iced the decision. Bryan's double was the game's longest blast.

Five days later the same clubs met and the Products Workers really unlimbered the long artillery.

In addition, they had fine one-hit pitching from Chuck Gillies, who worked 6 1/3 innings, with Steve Ring finishing the last two outs.

At the plate, Chuck slapped out 3-for-3 and Jim Mitchell had 2-for-4, both having doubles. Jerry MacGeorge was 2-for-3 and Kennedy 2-for-4.

Cub Minors

Chuck Locker struck out 15 as the Braves shut out the Red Sox, 6-0.

Chuck's battery mate, John Smith, paced the hitters with 2-for-3.

The Braves' Bob Miller grabbed a hot liner at short and picked off a runner at second base for the fielding gem of the game.

The Braves exploded in the first frame for 13 runs and then got eight more in the second while murdering the Twins, 27-4.

Eight of the nine Braves batted twice in that big first inning. Bob Miller, who [illegible] strike-outs, had 3-for-6. Jim Sisson went 2-for-3.

In another high-scoring tilt, it was Braves, 28 and Cubs, 2 with Jim Robideau the winning hurler.

Cub pitchers issued 27 walks, which must be a record of some sort. Chuck Locker nailed three of the winner's nine hits.

Last week's report on the Dodgers' exciting 12-10 win over the Pirates omitted the fact that left fielder Tom Gittings drove in the winning run, which was scored by Esmo Sanchez.

A double by Doug Ely, scoring two runs, helped ice the Dodgers' 6-2 conquest of the Yankees.

In the losers' final frame, the bases were loaded with no outs. A runner was forced at the plate, then Mark Myers struck out the last two men.

All told, Mark fanned 10, while his Yankee opponent, Jim Freshcorn sent down 15 on strikes.

Hurler Myers rapped out two doubles and a single, while Dean Gittings had a double.

In center field, Billy Humphries dragged down two long fly balls, snuffing out Yankee hopes for more tallies.

Cub Majors

Police stopped Rotary, 1-0, in what Manager Fred T. Marsh of Police called the "best ball game that I have seen" in four seasons.

Third baseman Bob Reed got the winner's only hit and scored the lone run when Rotary failed to catch him in a "hot box" between third and home.

The loser's Bill Puffer had 2-for-2 and Vern Bennett got one blow to account for all of Rotary's hits.

Bob Hackett came up with a sensational fielding play to end the game. Bob nabbed a line drive off Vern's bat in the last inning and doubled Pat Murphy off first.

Losing pitcher Lamar Rufner struck out 13 and winner Ronald Randolph had 10.

Credit Union unlimbered the heavy artillery as it sailed past Exchange, 10-1.

Ricky Hicks went 3-for-4, while both Frank Flores and Mike Matteson had 2-for-4. Frank was the winning hurler, fanning five. His mound opponent, Tom Auito, got nine on strikes.

Union blanked Kiwanis, 4-0, as Butch Quinn set down 11 on strikes. A trio of hits, a walk, an error and hit batsman provided all the runs in the fourth inning.

Breaking a 2-2 tie, Union scored twice in the fifth inning to top Rotary, 4-2.

Jim Lister doubled to open the rally, scoring on a crisp single by Oscar Lopez. Lopez tallied moments later on a sacrifice by Paul Randall.

Lister banged out two doubles, Butch Quinn had a single and double. Mike Cote, on the hill for Union, got 15 strike-outs.

When Police swamped Faling's Cities Service, 22-1, there were a raft of outstanding performances.

Hurler Robert Reed allowed but two hits, fanned 16. He also cracked out a pair of doubles and a single.

Batting star of the rout was Ronald Randolph, who had 4-for-5, including a home run with the bases loaded.

Bobby Freshcorn tagged a trio of doubles in his three official appearances at the plate for Police.

Reed had a no-hitter going until the fifth frame when Tim Laskey connected for a sharp single through the infield.

Mike Matteson of Credit Union slammed out his third home run of the year, with Tony Nykodym on base, to lead a 7-4 win over Kiwanis.

Mike also had another hit, giving him 2-for-3. Bruce Costigan and Kenneth Pieh of Kiwanis went 2-for-3.

Credit Union pulled a slick double play with Kiwanis runners on first and second. Mike Tilton grabbed a smash by Tom McVay, touched third base and then fired to Craig Brown on second to complete the twin killing.

Frank Flores was the winning hurler, fanning five and allowing four blows.

This Magnificent Dinosaur Forest is an Outdoor Museum displaying a large collection of authentic life-size Prehistoric Animals that lived on this earth millions of years ago. It is the most interesting and educational exhibit of its kind in the world.

Ride the Scout Train on an Exciting Tour of a Lost World That Existed Millions of Years Ago.

Nearly $100,000 Invested in Attraction

Prehistoric Forest

This season, there's a new Irish Hills attraction — Prehistoric Forest. It's probably the most dramatic and certainly the most expensive to build.

Nearly $100,000 was invested by Tourist Attractions, Inc., in this authentic reproduction of animals which roamed the earth millions of years ago. This is the same company which operates Mystery Hill and other parks in Ohio, Tennessee and Florida.

The firm owns a factory in Murfreesboro, Tenn., where the prehistoric figures are manufactured under the direction of artist-sculptor James Q. Sidwell, who has a staff of four workmen.

About three weeks are needed to build a dinosaur. So life-like when placed among trees, visitors may well get the feeling that a real monster stands before them.

The Tourist Attraction, Inc., plant has been contracted on a two-year basis to construct 115 animals — at a cost of $180,000 — for the "lost world" portion of the Huntsville, Ala., theme park, "Space City, U. S. A." The Alabama setup will cover 860 acres and cost $10 million.

Pre-historic Forest in the Irish Hills is spread over 20 acres, in a thickly-treed area — a perfect setting.

Visitors are loaded into a sleek red and white Scout train and youngsters provided with "genuine dinosaur guns" to protect the safari in case stray monsters might attack it. The kids aren't disappointed.

The train passes through a tunnel as guests catch a glimpse of smouldering volcanos. As the train rolls quickly along, various species are seen.

At a mid-forest station, everyone piles out. With a guide, they stroll around a circuit to see various authentic models of all sorts of beasts. Unique sound apparatus at each station provides tourists with a description of the animal, as spoken by them.

The safari takes about 20 minutes, but guests may remain in the park as long as they wish.

This lost-world exhibit is well worth seeing.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

I see by the paper last week that Mrs. Marsh is the only widow living of the Spanish-American war. I am and get my pension every month and I got one of those papers just as she did and Mrs. Zella Gray is in Detroit. She is still living and my roommate here at the Masonic home is one, too, and there are some in Adrian.

I tell you I have a wonderful home here. I got where I could not be alone so my doctor said this was my place. I have been here eight months and an Eastern star member 52 years and have my life membership and 50-year pin.

I am not too good, but I enjoy my home here. They are very kind and good and the best of people.

There are 350 here. I have had 32 visits from home and would be pleased to have you call and see what a nice place this is.

I enjoy my paper so much every week.

Alice Maude Cummings.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: We meant to slight neither Mrs. Cummings nor Mrs. Gray and feel that they, too, are to be honored for being widows of Tecumseh veterans of the Spanish American War. The article in question was written on the fact that Mrs. Marsh is the only widow living in Tecumseh at the present time. Our apologies for the misunderstanding.)

Whelan Wins First at Drags

Larry Whelan, 302 W. Cummins St., roared to a first place with his six-cylinder Comet-powered modified stock car at the Milan Dragway June 14.

He covered the one-quarter mile, from a standing start, in 18.37 seconds.

Robert Bruce Dick received a bachelor of arts degree in psychology, graduating with honors from Michigan State University. A 1960 graduate of Tecumseh High School, Mr. Dick will do graduate work at the State University of S. Dakota at Vermillion. He has been awarded a research assistantship for the school year, 1964-65. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Dick, 215 S. Democrat St.

Post Office Construction Stepped Up

Construction of Tecumseh's new post office, lagging now for several months with little or no progress, should be stepped up and completed by October, according to Ray Leyman, general contractor from Detroit.

Original completion date was last February but several obstacles, including block and brick which failed to meet specifications, delayed another contractor who is no longer involved in the construction.

Mr. Leyman says his concern is experienced in constructing government buildings and anticipates no further delays.

Much of the work is being subcontracted with Leyman Construction supervising.

LOCAL BUSINESS

Advertising columns in newspapers and magazines indicate that business is finding uses of advertising far removed from the selling of bacon and bread.

Various firms are using printed advertising to better employee relations, to increase confidence in the company among stockholders, to present their viewpoint on public affairs, and to advise or aid their customers.

For example, a machinery manufacturer in Pennsylvania has been using full page ads in the local newspaper to better relations between the plant and the community. They have found that such newspaper advertising is cheaper than printing a company publication for the same purpose. Their advertising representative said:

"Newspaper ads offer an effective means of communicating the many things happening at Penn Tool and make clear that the new Penn Tool would not only continue to be a good neighbor, but would reach for higher goals."

Even retail stores have used editorial type advertising to improve relationships with the community and to establish a certain type of personality. Paradoxically, this kind of advertising has often resulted in an immediate increase in sales because consumers for the first time recognize a store as being warm and friendly. Or, in some cases the store through personality building advertising established a reputation of quality which had not been recognized in the community before.

Although straight item advertising is and will remain, the backbone of retail selling, the other forms make a useful tool and many obtain marginal business or new business which a retailer would otherwise miss.

8 Handicapped Workers 'Graduate' from Program

A personnel committee of Goodwill Industries of Southeastern Michigan will soon begin a county-wide survey to determine the needs of handicapped people.

The committee will compile a list of the number of handicapped, how they are handicapped, what type of service they need and what they can do.

The Goodwill program is based on the principle of helping the handicapped to help themselves. Goodwill provides jobs and job training in a sheltered workshop to prepare them for employment in competitive industry and business.

Paul Diller, executive director of Lenawee County Family Counseling Service, is the personnel committee chairman.

The committee is composed of 12 representatives of education, private and public health and welfare agencies, the employment security service, industry and labor.

☆

AS A RESULT of the survey, Goodwill Industries in Lenawee County hopes to broaden its service.

Anyone 16 years of age or older with a physical or mental impairment, which prevents him from gaining employment in business or industry, qualifies for training and employment at Goodwill.

The handicapped at Goodwill do industrial contract work as well as repair and reconditioning of discarded materials for resale. The contract work includes such operations as assembly, packaging, inspection, buffing and polishing, and outside janitorial work.

Forty handicapped people are currently employed in the main Adrian plant. There are also three working in the Monroe sales store and 12 homebound.

Eight handicapped employees, formerly unable to work, have been graduated from the Goodwill program into competitive employment this year.

Last year 12 were placed in industrial and business jobs in competition with non-handicapped workers.

Busy Governor Will Take Part in July 9 Party

It's official!

Gov. George Romney will be in Tecumseh next week for the Fisher Body plant groundbreaking.

Deeply enmeshed in Republican presidential convention details, the governor will spend about 45 minutes here.

He'll be coming to Tecumseh by car from Detroit, probably on the last leg of his return from an appearance before the GOP platform committee in San Francisco.

From here, the governor goes to an evening engagement and the following day is due at the Cherry Festival in Traverse City.

Some time before July 13, he will be off to the coast once more for the start of the convention that day. Michigan's delegation, headed by the governor, is due to play a key role in the selection of the Republican presidential candidate.

GOV. GEORGE ROMNEY

The Tecumseh Welcomes Fisher Body Committee sought an appearance of Gov. Romney nearly one month ago, but couldn't get a confirmation — trouble in the Legislature and the Hillsdale Essex Wire Co. strike didn't help.

Finally, his office notified the committee that the schedule wouldn't permit a Tecumseh visit. That all changed Monday morning with a telephone call from the Capitol.

"This is the frosting on the cake," one jubilant committee member stated. "We already had an excellent groundbreaking program going, now with the governor, it will be terrific."

Already scheduled for the July 9 ceremony:

- ► 150 giant welcome signs dotting community.
- ► Stores closing for ceremony.
- ► Free bus transportation from downtown area.
- ► Free downtown parking afternoon of groundbreaking.
- ► Free refreshments in circus-type tent at site.
- ► Band music from 4 to 4:30.
- ► Dynamite blast to break ground, followed with giant earth mover cutting huge road to spectators.
- ► VFW color guard conducting flag ceremony.

Plenty To See, Lots To Eat, Giant Fireworks Display in Tecumseh

From the first airplane touching down on the Meyers Aircraft strip at dawn, until the last rocket blasts off about 10 p.m., it will be a jammed agenda.

That's Tecumseh Old Fashioned Fourth of July.

In between will be fascinating fun for everyone — and plenty to eat. Exchange Clubmen will serve a "husky" breakfast at the airport from 7 to 11 a.m. as Dawn Patrol visiting planes arrive and Chuting Angels sky divers perform.

From 11 a.m. to 6 p.m., the VFW is holding a chicken and ribs barbecue at the post parking lot.

A parade takes off from Chicago Blvd. and Union St. at 12:30, heading east to Evans St., then north to the VFW Post. There'll be music by the Tecumseh High band, the Morley S. Oats VFW Post of Lansing, Tecumseh Junior High unit and a special truck-riding musical group.

Floats, color guards, the 701 junior drill teams, the Aowakiyas, show horses and decorated bicycles will also be included.

Two sessions of square dancing at the Community Center are being staged by the Shawnee Squares — from 2 to 5 p.m. and 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

A trio of all-star baseball games will be held beginning at 1 p.m. on the Pony League field, first Cub Minors, then Cub Majors and finally Pony League.

Ten teams of ponies will take over Elliott Park at 5 p.m. to vie in weight pulling competition.

A fun-filled session of waterball is slated for the parking lot behind the fire station, beginning at 2 p.m. Tecumseh's department will host its first Invitational Meet, with volunteer firemen bringing teams from Madison, Palmyra, Onsted, Deerfield, Clinton, Hudson and Blissfield.

A trophy is to be awarded the winner. Madison says its ladies team is coming, too, and looking for some competition.

In addition, a city waterball championship meet between the community's four service clubs—Rotary, Kiwanis, Exchange and Jaycees — will be staged.

The Lansing drill teams are going to appear in a special exhibition on Recreation Field at 8:30 p.m., and a lucky winner revealed for the Trip-for-Two to the World's Fair. The giant fireworks display will follow at 9:30.

A crowd of 10,000 is anticipated.

In case of rain, fireworks will be shot on Sunday night.

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

What mother hasn't exclaimed, "Oh, if the kids could be out of here for just a week!"

A few dads, too.

Believe me, when it actually happens, as it did at our home Sunday, the reaction is a bit funny.

At first, a sublime calm settles over the old homestead. Sitting there, listening uninterrupted to hi-fi, browsing through the Sunday papers without a "Crash, wham, he (she) hit me" in the background, is a brand new experience.

But, like all wonderful experiences, after a few hours this comes slowly to an end.

"Wonder how Bernie is getting along?"

"He looked kind of lost when we left."

"Carol should be a good camper."

"Maybe I'd better get a card in the post office tonight (four hours after the pair were dropped off at their new homes for a few days.)"

"Bernie will be all right if they just give him a big breakfast."

Before nightfall, there was that restless feeling. Imagine a grown lady being "homesick" in her own living room. Sympathy pains, apparently.

Our girl is at Camp O' the Hills on Wamplers Lake and the boy at Camp Kanesatake on Washington Lake — all of a 20-minute drive from town.

But you'd think they were both in the Upper Peninsula at lonely outposts, miles from the nearest bit of civilization, if there is any up that way.

(Can hardly wait until my mail box brings a curt card from Dave Root and Bill Sonneborn, publishers at Manistique.

(One thing this scribbler does know about the U P is that they slap grandmas into jail when they hurl themselves in front of road-side signs shouting, "Don't lay a finger on this beautiful 'Gasoline, Crawlers and Sandwiches' work of art.")

Camping will be good for the junior Riordans, as it is for hundreds of thousands of others.

And here is an opportune place to get in a plug for the Boy and Girl Scout associations which do such excellent jobs in this business of operating camps.

The Irish Hills Council runs a taut ship for the gals, providing a variety of fun and activities. When the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation budget is figured annually, $5,000 goes

Dora Loves Historic Flag

Mrs. Dora Aten loves her flag.

It will be proudly flown from her front porch at 308 Maiden Lane on the Fourth of July.

GRAVE OF DELOSS LOVE

Like many an American, 89-year-old Mrs. Aten always makes sure the colors are out on holidays.

Unlike others, she is one of the few who will use [illegible] old Stripes nearly a century old which once belonged to a Civil War veteran.

The flag was originally owned by Deloss Love of Franklin Township, who fought in the War between the States and is buried in the Tipton Cemetery.

Grover Schwartz of Tipton did some sleuthing for The Herald and dug up the information that Mr. Love was a member of Co. E, 18th Michigan Regiment.

About 30 years ago, his widow presented Mrs. Aten with the historic flag.

Mrs. Aten would like to see more Tecumschites put out their flags.

"It used to be everyone had one. On Flag Day, there wasn't another out on my block.

"People don't pay attention like they used to. Like they ought to," she adds.

In excellent health, Mrs. Aten was widowed four years ago, when her husband, Howard, passed away. He had been a driver for Michigan Motor Freight Lines.

The story on this historic flag was prompted by a suggestion from Mrs. Duncan Oliphant.

Noon Picnic for Harmony Homemakers

The Harmony Homemakers will meet Thursday, July 16, at the home of Mrs. E. J. Aebersold for a noon picnic.

All former members are invited to come. Mrs. William Grigg and Mrs. L. A. Van Gliesson will be the co-hostesses.

Society Sees Pictures Taken En Route to Taiwan

Fifty four members and friends of the Friends Missionary Society were served a co-operative dinner Thursday evening at the church.

Following a business meeting the Rev. Paul Brantingham presented slides which his son, John, and family had taken enroute to Taiwan last fall.

The slides were accompanied by tape recordings explaining each picture.

The John Brantinghams are missionaries to Taiwan and have recently moved from Chiayi to a new location in the capital city of Taipei where they are continuing the language study.

Youth Drowns in Farm Pond

A seven-year-old boy drowned in a Ridgeway farm pond as his mother frantically attempted to locate him beneath the water.

The tragedy happened Tuesday evening about 5:50. Dead was James Dean Bohannon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Bohannon, 5950 Pennington Rd.

Mrs. Bohannon had asked Mrs. Melvin Schroeder, 7218 Ridge Hwy., if her four children could swim in the half-acre Schroeder irrigation pond, which is located 300 feet behind the home.

Permission was granted if Mrs. Bohannon would remain with her four children.

☆

JAMES AND HIS brother, Mark, 10, disappeared under the surface and Mrs. Bohannon jumped to their aid. She pulled out Mark, but couldn't locate James.

Dianna Schroeder, 13, an eighth grader at Tecumseh Junior High, rushed to the pond from the house and dove in, searching unsuccessfully for James about 15 minutes until Britton firemen and police arrived.

The body was recovered by firemen, who administered oxygen, but to no avail. The youth was dead on arrivel at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Services will be conducted Friday at 2 p.m. in Niblack Home for Funerals with burial in the Ridgeway Cemetery.

Survivors include the parents, one brother, Mark; two sisters, Dedit and April.

Please . . . Go Easy on Water

Cal Zorn, city manager, asks Tecumseh residents to refrain from using any excess of water for at least another week.

He has been assured by Dunbar Drilling that well No. 8 will be in operation within another week.

"The water situation in the city is serious until the other well is available," urged Mr. Zorn.

Motorcycle Flips Driver, Rams Auto

Motorcyclist Ronald Jones, 18, of 901 Murray Dr., escaped serious injury when he lost control of his two-wheeler, but a neighbor's car suffered $150 in damages.

Riding west on Murray, he hit a dip in the road just as the street starts to bend north.

Hurled from the machine, Ron did several somersaults before landing in front of the Herb Bagby residence, 1201 Murray Dr.

The cycle ran loose onto the Bagby lawn, ramming the family car. It narrowly missed Denise Bagby and Lorna Hensen, 1112 Murray Dr., who happened to be crossing the driveway.

Ronald was taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital for X-rays and then released.

Mr. Bagby, who was scheduled for surgery the next morning, checked with his insurance agent and discovered the damage is not covered.

Mobile Home Park Gets Township OK

Approval for a 15-acre trailer park at the southwest corner of Gady Rd. and Occidental Hwy., was granted by the Raisin Township board at a public hearing Thursday.

Boardmen voted unanimously on the question.

The board had granted Bob Cissney, a mobile homes dealer on M-52, permission for the project in May.

Some property owners in the area protested that the board had acted without proper procedure, including legal advertising and a public hearing.

These steps were taken and with 35 residents attending the hearing, boardmen once again determined the park conforming to township zoning.

Mr. Cissney points out that his proposed operation will be modern and comply with all zoning regulations and state codes.

His plans have been approved by the Michigan Department of Health and a building permit granted by Raisin Township.

☆

FEATURES OF Bob's Mobile Home Court will include:

- ► 100 lots, each 40 x 75 feet in size.
- ► Park area, 320x360 feet, in center of court.
- ► Complete sewage system.
- ► 40-foot-wide roads.
- ► Utility building with complete laundry.
- ► Underground telephone and electrical system.
- ► 20-foot ring of green completely around park, including rows of trees, shrubs and evergreens.

How hard did it blow around Tecumseh June 19? Up to 91 miles-per-hour, for a 10 to 15 minute period about 9:30 p.m. according to the wind velocity mechanism at Meyers Airport, operated by the Community Health Study folks. No wonder things seemed a little shaky that evening.

to this group and camping is one of the ways folks benefit from the donation.

It's the same for the Wolverine Council, which was awarded $3,122 last year by this city's Foundation—again money wenn spent.

My only quarrel with the Boy Scouts is that they do something about the name of their Washington Lake camp. Kanesatake is a jaw-breaker, difficult enough for adults to pronounce and to spell.

It's a good bet that half of the kids there right now can't tell you what the name of the place is.

Back in the good old days, our troop went to such spots as Camp Brady and Camp Mills, easy-to-recall handles.

But one thing for sure, the pretty poison ivy leaves will be the same, regardless of what the name is.

VOICE OF THE HERALD

It Takes Many Hands

A bevy of dedicated people have worked endless hours to fashion Tecumseh's Old Fashioned Fourth of July celebration.

It's the culmination of a dream Forest Abner has harbored for many years. Don Moffatt, the city's new Parks and Recreation Supervisor, jumped in with both feet and helped steer the project.

Dozens of others pitched happily into the myriad details — Exchange Club members, who'll handle the Dawn Patrol; the Shawnee Squares, who'll conduct two sessions of square dancing; VFW guys and gals, who are staging a barbecue and also lining up portions of the entertainment; Don Johnson, who is parade chairman; firemen, who organized waterball fun; junior baseball managers, who set up a trio of games; local Chuting Angels, who got their club to stage exhibitions.

It's a wonderful showing of civic enthusiasm.

Looking over the agenda, we're tempted to offer a prize to anyone who can start at 7 a.m. and go through the day attending every event. Only trouble is if a fellow attempted this, by the time the fireworks started, he might slip off to sleep without seeing the giant rockets.

As Harry Golden has said, "Enjoy, Enjoy."

Residents-Say: 'We're Delighted'

As the magic date — July 9 — nears, everything seems in readiness.

A committee of civic leaders, working closely with Fisher Body folks, has come up with quite a welcome party for the new Tecumseh upholstery trim plant.

On the afternoon of the festivities, all Tecumseh parking meters will be given a vacation. Stores are closing about 3:30 and employees urged to take in the ceremony at the GM site.

A fleet of buses will be lined up along Chicago Blvd., from the Four Corners, to furnish free transportation to and from the ground-breaking.

Everywhere people look they'll see giant signs, "Tecumseh Welcomes GM Fisher Body."

Guests are going to be served pop, coffee, cookies and donuts from a huge circus-type tent near the speakers' platform. Thirty minutes of band music by Tecumseh High School musicians will begin at 4.

The program gets going at 4:30, to be climaxed by a blast of dynamite and a display of Paul Bunyan earth-moving by a diesel-powered Euclid.

No shovel ceremony this!

Surely, here will be one of the most impressive ground-breakings seen in Michigan for many years — certainly one of the most unusual.

By their presence at the festivities, Tecumsehites will be saying to Fisher Body, "We're delighted you chose our area for your new plant."

'Fun' of Campaigning

"We shall never again permit this country to retreat toward the ravages of economic decline," President Lyndon Johnson told the nation in a Detroit talk last week.

Oh, the joy of the campaigner.

Promise them anything, promise them everything — just make sure you get the votes.

LBJ, one of the real old pros at the game, is off and running for re-election. He is making sweeping claims, some over situations, which he really has little control — only a prayer that these come true before the votes are cast.

Everything points to economic boom.

Yet, mature people realize it can't go on forever. As economists say, "soft spots" are due now and again. LBJ wants to make sure the "40 straight months" of prosperity continue without a dip at least six more. By then he should be safely moored to his White House desk for a four-year stint.

We realize that in the Good Old American Way of Politicking, the office seekers — right up to and including the presidency — have hit the sawdust trail to exhort the faithful.

This means odd dashes, hither and yon, across the nation. For LBJ, it will be at tremendous personal risk. With no vice-president, we wish there was some way the president could confine his appearances to TV.

We know that the in person visits mean much to his political party, but LBJ must remember he is president to all of us.

If he should suffer the same fate — heaven forbid — of President Kennedy, where would we be?

Confirmed Moonlighters

For veteran Tecumsehland shoppers, a buying highlight of the year is the town's annual Moonlight Sale.

This summer it will be Friday, July 10. Stores will close about 5 p.m. that day, owners and clerks hustle to get a good feed, then the doors re-open at 7 p.m.

The fun will continue until 11 p.m.

To customers, we suggest visiting downtown that evening. In short order, we'll bet you'll become confirmed Moonlighters, just like most old timers around here.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

"I'd like to retire to one place or the other," said Peg Walter Wednesday morning when queried about the trip she and her husband, Hugh, have recently enjoyed in Germany, Switzerland and England.

"They don't have any bugs there and since we have been home, I've nearly been eaten alive in the raspberry patch."

According to Peg average temperatures there are not usually hot enough for the insects to breed. Peg and Hugh used heat all the time they were in England.

Hugh had a ball, snapping colored slides and movies and getting autographs of the "local characters." He plans to send his friends their pictures. What a public relations man.

The Walters were impressed with the picturesque beauty of the countryside, the lack of huge roadways and farm machinery. Whole families were doing the haying by hand.

Hugh brought home three flags from Rotary Clubs in Hamburg, Lucerne and Bognor Regis.

JEAN HALL reflects on your Decorating Problems

DEAR MRS. HALL:

Can you remake my newly-purchased draperies to conform to proper standards?
Mrs. JM.

DEAR MRS. JM:

I hear this question so many times and YES we can — to a degree.

It is disturbing to me to know that supposedly custom-made draperies advertised at little or no labor cost have been extremely disappointing to a customer.

Many times they are the wrong size and extra fabric charge is made to alleviate labor cost.

You pay slightly more than department store prices at Kustom Kraft Draperies, but in return you have gained the help of consultation, choice of thousands of fabrics and guaranteed workmanship.

We take measurements for you and guarantee the draperies to fit to your specifications.

We also install them.

To us, this is custom-made draperies.

Our motto — We Strive For Perfection — applies to all purchases from our shop.

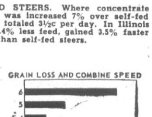
EXPECTED PROFITS from purchasing feeder pigs for sale as fat hogs in October and November appear fairly slim. However, prospects for 70-pound feeders look a little better than for the 40-pound ones, largely because they'll be marketed earlier before prices experience much weakness this fall. Prospects are based on feed costs of about $18.30 for a 40-pound pig and $15.10 for the 70-pounders finished to a market weight of 225 pounds.

AUTOMATIC FEEDING VS. SELF-FED STEERS. Where concentrate was fed six times daily, feed efficiency was increased 7% over self-fed steers in Nebraska studies. Feed saving totaled 31¢ per day. In Illinois studies, steers fed six times daily ate 6.4% less feed, gained 3.5% faster and gained a pound on 9.8% less feed than self-fed steers.

CHECK COMBINE LOSSES. As illustrated, one can easily see that grain losses increase with faster harvest rates. Combine adjustment, therefore, becomes more critical with increased combine speeds. To check small grain losses, mark off 1 square foot of area on the ground and count the kernels of grain. It takes from 18 to 20 to make a bushel of wheat to the acre, 10 to 12 oat kernels, and 13 to 15 barley kernels.



WATCH MOTOR OIL QUALITY. Although most manufacturers recommend an MS (severe service) oil for general use in tractors, trucks, and autos, extensive tests show they don't all stand up in today's high compression engines. For quality assurance, cans should state that the oil has passed engine sequence tests, or some similar statement.

An elderly pedestrian was injured Tuesday night shortly after dark when he was struck by a car driven by the Rev. Father Thomas Collins, 55, of N. Union St.

Robert Lowery, 77, who resides with William Frost at 410 W. Logan St., received internal injuries and severe fractures at 9:45 p.m. when he walked in front of Father Collins' car at the corner of Logan and Union Sts.

No summons was issued to the driver, who stated he was going south on Union St. and didn't see Mr. Lowery until striking him in the center of the street.

Mrs. Every stated she had stopped for stop sign and did not see any vehicle coming from north or south.

The accident occurred at 10:15 a.m. Mr. Sutherland was treated by his family doctor for injuries.

√

LOCAL BUSINESS

The words "value" and "bargain" have an important difference of meaning in the mind of the modern consumer. This difference should be understood by the retailer, especially when he is preparing his advertising.

Long ago, the mass of American consumers passed the stage when he was looking for a "bargain" at any price. The modern consumer, even if he is a millionaire, is very much concerned with value.

The low-price chain stores such as Krogers, A & P, and Sears, recognized this several years ago and de-emphasized price. Their present advertising stresses quality and service at a good price.

Such stores do not even wish to be the cheapest stores in town. . .Their aim is to assure the consumer of maximum quality per dollar spent.

In other words, these stores which were once most feared by independent retailers, now are using sales techniques which are the strength of independent retailers.

The locally-owned store can provide friendly, personalized service, special attention to each customer and carefully selected quality merchandise.

In a prosperous economy these are the things the consumer values most. They are being featured in the advertising of the great national stores.

They certainly should be featured in the advertising of the independent retailers.

Irish Hills Playhouse Begins Third Season

The Irish Hills Playhouse has ushered in its third summer season with an ambitious salute to the 400th anniversary of the birth of William Shakespeare.

Beginning with "Richard III," the largest resident repertory company in the midwest will present successively four other Shakespearean productions.

These include "The Taming of the Shrew," "Twelfth Night," "Macbeth," and the "Comedy of Errors."

Thereafter, the season continues in repertory until Sept. 6, alternating these plays nightly, except Mondays, when the theatre is closed.

Michael de Goetano is director with Mr. and Mrs. Larry Burns the producers.

☆

FOR THIS anniversary season, the producers organized their company from over 600 actor-applicants, holding auditions throughout March and April in several midwestern and eastern metropolitan centers.

The company is further augmented by young actors from schools and universities throughout the United States, including Laura Seager, who will be a Tecumseh High School senior this fall.

The playhouse has enjoyed critical acclaim since it combines exciting theatre concepts in intimate surroundings with the highest regard for excellence and communication through its use of a unique two-sided "transpicuous" stage with the audience seated on rising levels on opposite sides.

Historically, this two-sided stage is similar to the removable stage used in the Hall of Queens College, Cambridge, in 1638, and the theatre constructed in Outer Chapel, King College, Cambridge, for the visit of Queen Elizabeth I, in 1564.

☆

DR. LESLIE HOTSON, noted Shakespearean scholar, in his book, "Shakespeare's Wooden O" demonstrates with powerful argument that this type of staging was used in Elizabethan times.

With a capacity of 200, the playhouse has no "bad seats" and no one in the audience is more than eight rows from the stage.

Jaycee Project VIP Plans Political Class

With the coming presidential election and increased political tempo — the Tecumseh Jaycees have formed a VIP committee.

As their first act, the Volunteer in Politics group has organized a seminar in Political Parties to be held at the Community Center starting Monday, July 20.

The project has been formed to stimulate more interest in politics and to give the voting public an opportunity to become well informed on the workings of the parties.

It will take place each Monday and Wednesday night from 7:30 to 9 p.m. from July 20 until Aug. 5.

A fee will be charged to cover costs for the six-night program, which is open to the public.

Fee will be $4 for one person and $7 per married couple.

☆

TO REGISTER, persons may contact these members of the VIP committee:

Harry Teets, 304 E. Pottawatamie, phone 423-4583.

James R. Rundell, 6905 E. Monroe Rd., phone 423-2973

Bruce H. Corley, 7488 Ridge Rd., Britton, phone 451-3519.

☆

TEACHING the seminar will be Kenneth E. Hoffman, assistant professor of Political Science at Adrian College.

Professor Hoffman has taught political science in Nebraska, Oklahoma, Vermont and Michigan.

He was a field representative and member of board of the Vermont Department of Public Welfare and a member of the Vermont legislature for two terms.

Secretary of the Oklahoma Children's Code Commission, he also served as research consultant of the Oklahoma Legislative Council.

Professor Hoffman has observed at close range a one-party Republican state in Vermont, one-party Democrat state in Oklahoma and a more evenly divided state in Nebraska.

He has continued his close range study of parties in Michigan, where he has taught Political Parties at Adrian College and has cooperated with the Michigan Center for education in Politics in research, workshop, Constitutional Convention, legislative and party activity.

☆

DURING the seminar he will be dealing with:

- The voting and non-voting public.
- The role of the Parties.
- Demands of office.
- Emergence of candidates.
- Campaigns.
- Issues.

A certificate will be awarded upon completion of the course.

Mensings Take Trip to Mexico City to Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mensing and daughter, Mary Jo, have returned, from a two week's trip to Mexico City where they visited the host family of Mary Joe last summer, Arq. Enrique Molinar Prieto and family. (The Arq. means architect.)

They also visited the family of the young lady who was a guest in their home as an exchange student last summer, Rte Manuel Almaguer in Cd Valles in the state of San Luis Potosi.

Though the Mensings were put off a train at San Antonio, Texas, during the strike they didn't mind a bit because this gave them an opportunity to visit Lt. and Mrs. Ray Larned at Lackland Air Force Base there.

This week Barney Mensing is at Michigan State University for orientation.

Games were played during the week but expectations were high for the one-day circus planned by the children.

Everyone dressed as clowns and prizes were given to the following clowns:

Michele and Mark Vanzo — Indian clowns.
Tim Wanzeck — cutest clown.
Mary Beth Lay—nicest clown.
Nancy Lay — happiest clown.
Bruce Costigan — saddest clown.

A picnic was held on Friday.

TECUMSEH ACRES

This week's activities included the reading of circus stories and the children drawing circus pictures.

On Tuesday a flying saucer contest was held.

The saucers were made of paper plates pasted together and decorated. Pete Speerstra and Shawn Dalton were the winners.

Games and handicraft were also popular at the playground this week.

SHADY LANE

This week was busy for the children at the playground. Games such as checkers, pick-up sticks, dodgeball, softball, kickball, and Old Maid were enjoyed every day by the children.

A turtle purse was made by Jerry Lake. Johnny Curth assembled a baseball purse.

The children voted to have a circus Thursday, which was attended by 40 children and was successful.

Those who came dressed in costumes and put on performances were Ricky Gardener as a mouse, Kitty Gardener as an elephant, Mike Twite as a cat, Don Twite as a mouse, Barb J... as an owl, Jerry Lake as a ghost, David Ryan as an Indian and Steve Hallenbeck as a cowboy.

HERRICK PARK

The children have been practicing for the checker tournament scheduled for later in July. Several other children have been playing games, and making handicraft belts.

TEAM	W	L
Indians	5	1
Tigers	3	3
Yankees	3	3
Dodgers	1	5

In last week's action, the Indians moved into first place by slipping past the Tigers 18 to 17 and the Yankees 15 to 14 and by belting the Dodgers 42-23.

The whole Indian team was responsible for three victories as there were no outstanding performers.

The Yankees won two games last week to move into a tie with the Tigers.

They beat the Tigers 13 to 12 and the Dodgers 11 to 6.

The Tigers won the last game of the week by bouncing the Dodgers 32 to 8. In that game Vic Stanifer had two home runs.

Despite losing all three of their games Coach Hale reports that both Joe Burns and Micky Gilpin were hitting the cover off the ball.

For the Indians Glenn Posky was a star for the week and for the Yankees John Burns was again outstanding.

√

The first game was won by Henkle's All-Stars over Wally's Wonders 13 to 8.

The second game was more of a pitcher's battle, with the Teachers coming from behind in the last inning to win over Britton Stars 21 to 20.

The fifth team, the Misfits, opened their season Monday at 9 p.m. against Britton Stars.

Britton won 9 to 3.

In the 7:30 p.m. game Monday, Teachers beat Wally's Wonders 11 to 5.

Don't Miss Pieta at Vatican Building at NY World's Fair

(Editor's note: This is the second in a series of three articles by Mrs. Robert Murray on visiting the New York World's Fair.)

By MRS. ROBERT MURRAY

One thing you don't want to miss is the Pieta at the Vatican Building, so start there. You won't have long to wait and while you treat your eyes, spiritual life is enriched by the sight of one of the world's greatest man-made marvels.

Directly across the street, in the international shopping center, a gentleman is tossing together one of the culinary marvels of the Fair.

Next to the Temple of the Birds, where one can find many marvelous and inexpensive souvenirs, all hand-made in India, at Alley, with a tiny little shop that makes the world's best tacos.

Now I can't think of ANYTHING, except perhaps the Pieta, that would bring me back to the Fair faster than those Tacos. Hmm!

Continue wandering through this intriguing shopping mall, which feature everything from everywhere with the true bazaar flavor, with a small shop of Mexican goods, almost all of which feature the smiling face of our own Princess Grace.

☆

BY NOW YOU have finished your taco, wandered through the Belgian Village, beautifully-constructed of hand-carved stone, and are hungry again.

Naturally you find yourself back at the international bazaar, and this time, for the cost of $1, you purchase a huge Belgian waffle, heaped high with fresh-whipped cream and spread thick with ripe red strawberries. Unforgettable!

And now, to work off all those calories, start walking to see all those things you have marked off on your map. Be systematic, or you won't see half of what you planned to see.

Take the elevator to the top of the New York State Pavilion and recheck the location of the things you wish to see. What a view!

I loved the Japanese exhibit, and the Malayan, both enchanting inside and out.

☆

I WAS disappointed in the American exhibit, which is huge and elaborate, and most impressive from the outside, but inside, not worth the long wait.

Kodak is marvelous, and the seats are so comfortable that after a few hours of walking, you might never get up. The highly-touted Clairol exhibit, as the woman in front of me said, "Is a big nothing" and yet is completely mobbed. Many of the exhibits have an admission charge.

This is unfortunate and bad for the morale of the Fair-goer. Since all the largest and best exhibits are free, you are bound to feel disappointed when the ones you pay for are inferior. I remember going through the ceiling at the 75c charge made for the Nigerian exhibit, but now hope I contributed something to the general welfare of the country.

☆

VIEWING reproductions of the British Crown Jewels at 50c a look will leave you rather cool toward their public relations department and you'll know why there'll always be an England!

Late in the day stop at the Korean pavilion and after viewing it stop and have a cup of tea, or at the Irish pavilion for some steaming Irish coffee. (Now if this is the way they start their day, you'll know right away why they're all so gay!

By the time you leave you'll feel relaxed and refreshed and ready to start a-new.

Plan to finish up about six at the Spanish building, which will give you some idea why Spain is such a popular tourist mecca. The pavilion is exquisitely designed, the architecture, landscaping and decorative schemes letter-perfect.

You cannot take a step without finding some fascinating nook and cranny, yet the place gives one the feeling of utter spaciousness and luxury.

At this moment, after a quick inspection, if you find yourself looking fairly respectable and have a bank account to match, this is the place to stay for supper!

Otherwise, stop for a delicious hot dog at 35c, or a substantial steak dinner at Tad's for $1.25.

Church Camp Registration Deadline July 12

BRITTON — The young people of Britton Bethel Baptist Church will again this summer attend the Lake Ann Baptist Youth Camp located 15 miles west of Traverse City.

Junior camp ages 9-12 will start July 27 and continue thru August 1. Camp fee per child is $12.50.

Senior camp ages are 13 and up and will be held August 3 through August 10.

Camp fee will be $14.

On or before Sunday, July 12, all camp registrations accompanied by a doctor's certificate of examination, must be turned in to the Rev. Duane McNeil, church pastor.

The camp is supported, maintained and supervised by churches associated with the General Association of Regular Baptists, a national fellowship of independent, Fundamental Baptist Churches.

Orient Yourself

Admission to the Fair is $2 for adults and $1 for children. Now is the moment of decision, and weighing your pocketbook will help you decide.

A fine investment before you visit any of the individual exhibits is to take a trip around the whole Fair, to orient yourself, and to get a bird's eye view of the whole thing.

There are large sight-seeing buses for 75c, the "doodle bug," an open-air, trailer-type sight-seeing bus, for 25c or you can rent your own chauffered motor scooter for $5 an hour.

After this, having checked off the things that interested you in your guide book, you are off. (It helps to be in good physical condition.)

☆

FOR A YEAR before my three-day trip to the Fair, I taught a one-day-a-week course in swimming and physical fitness at the "Y," and found that I could walk 12 hours a day without being overtired, and as a result of this unusual endurance was able to speed through all the exhibits at the Fair.

If you have not sent ahead for a map of the Fair by all means invest $1 in the official Fair Guide Book. It is invaluable if you plan to be there several days or several times. Wander around for a short time before settling down to the serious business of sight-seeing. Savor the international atmosphere, an inexpensive and easy way to take a trip around the world!

Listen to the music, perk up your spirits with the gay holiday air that wafts through the Fair, note the beautiful and graceful fountains, the statues, the carefully planned architecture, landscaping, and well-designed buildings.

Regard the Unisphere, the central, unifying figure of the Fair, and the whole new world that was created just for you to enjoy . . . the sight, smells, textures and fascinating people. So enjoy!

MRS. LARRY WAGNER

Ceremony Is Performed

BRITTON — St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Blissfield was the setting for a candlelight ceremony which united Barbara Rodesiler and Larry Wagner in marriage.

The marriage took place Saturday, June 27, at 7:30 p.m. with the Rev. Richard Hofman officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Rodesiler of Riga and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wagner of Britton.

Miss Judy Johnson, cousin of the bride, from Tulsa, Okla., was the organist, accompanying the soloist, Roger Rathbun from Columbus, O.

Potted palms, candelabra, and vases of yellow flowers adorned the altar and yellow bows marked the family pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride approached the altar in a white silk linen gown which she designed and made.

Her semi-sheath featured a floor length skirt and small covered buttons to the midriff and elbow length sleeves.

She wore a circular crown covered with the same material as her gown attached to a bouffant veil.

She wore a single strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom, and she carried a crescent-shaped bridal bouquet of ivy and stephanotis, a gift from a friend.

Jane Rodesiler was her sister's maid of honor.

Her gown of curtain call material of turquoise was a street-length semi-sheath.

She wore a circular crown covered with the same material as her gown and carried a yellow crescent-shaped bouquet.

Marilyn Emmons of Riga, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Ned Doering of Wapakoneta, O., college roommate of the bride, were the bridesmaids.

Their gowns, headdresses and bouquets were identical to those of the maid of honor.

Lee Wagner of Britton, was his brother's best man and Gerald Papworth of Britton, cousin of the groom, and Paul F. Rodesiler of Riga, brother of the bride, served as ushers.

Following the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Wolf and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Fisher were hosts for the reception held at the American Legion Hall in Blissfield.

The bride's table featured a four-tiered wedding cake trimmed in yellow and topped with a bell cluster which was served by Sue Shell and Mrs. Arthur Liewert.

Mrs. Thomas Reusink and Janet Ball also assisted in serving at the reception and Marilyn Bartholomew was in charge of the guest book.

After a week's wedding trip to the New York World's Fair the new Mr. and Mrs. Wagner will be at home at 9463 Centennial Road, Britton, Mich.

The bride is a 1960 graduate of Blissfield High School and the 1964 graduate of Capital University at Columbus, O.

She plans to teach first grade in the Dundee School System this fall.

The groom graduated from Britton-Macon High School in 1958 and attended Michigan State University for the Agricultural Short Course and is engaged in farming.

A rehearsal dinner was held Friday evening at the home of the groom's parents on Centennial Road.

Boy Scouts Report on Trip

BRITTON — This article is written from the diary kept by Carl Studnicka and is published here in appreciation to all who helped make this trip successful.

SUNDAY, JUNE 14

Today we left on our trip, headed for Chicago. There are 28 boys and four leaders.

Our bus is running smoothly and is driven by Gaylon Furgason and Bob Auten.

All our tents, gear and duffel is in Dick Vallie's pick-up and Bud Auten is also helping here.

Our first stopping place, Camp Fort Dearborn, is located at the edge of O'Hare International Airport.

Between the roar of the jets and rain, we set up camp. An interesting visit to O'Hare Airport is next on the schedule and after supper all turn in early.

We will set up our camp, 15 tents every evening and break camp every morning, with seven new camp grounds planned for the week.

MONDAY

After a tangle with Chicago traffic, we arrive at the Museum of Science and Industry.

After seeing the coal mines and U-55 submarine as a group, we broke up in couples to visit the museum.

We also visited the John Shedd Aquarium and the Field Museum.

Our next camp was at Lake Geneva State Park in Wisconsin.

The evening camp fire was lit and scouting experiences and strange and weird stories were told.

TUESDAY

We had an early start and arrived at the Wisconsin Dells in the late morning.

Our camp was made in Rocky Arbor State Park.

Here we spent three hours on a boat trip up the upper Dells.

This is probably one of the most interesting and beautiful boat trips on any river and includes three stops to view the different spots of beauty on the river.

After the boat trip, we toured Fort Dells. Every cent of profit from this attraction is used for medical research.

At night we again enjoyed our camp fire where skits were put on and stories were enjoyed.

WEDNESDAY

We just left camp, headed for Lake Gogebic State Park when the rain started.

It rained nearly all day and stopped long enough for us to stop and eat lunch — turkey, tuna fish, egg salad sandwiches, more commonly known as peanut butter and jam.

In the evening we went to the dump to watch for bears that were coming each evening to eat.

We were only lucky enough to see a big black skunk.

THURSDAY

Our first stop today was at Agate Falls, then at Marquette we stopped at the State Prison and went through the gift shop.

At Munising we saw the Pictured Rocks, Miners Castle and Miners Falls.

Then we started for the Sand Dunes at Grand Marais, but due to a hole in our radiator hose, we were forced to stop.

Most of us hiked four miles to Lake Superior while it was being replaced, then we spent the night at Grand Marais.

FRIDAY

We went back to the Sand Dunes and nearly everyone except a couple older people ran down the Devil's Slide.

This is the steepest and highest sand hill that takes two minutes to run down but half an hour to climb.

Some ran down the hill, some walked down and some just looked down. Next we visited the upper and lower falls on the Tahquamenon River.

Next was the Soo Locks and we watched for an hour as huge ships from different countries were passed through the locks.

Then we started for Kinchelo Army Air Force Base. We enjoyed supper and after eating went to the base movie.

After this, some bowled, played basketball and just enjoyed standing in the shower and steam rooms.

SATURDAY

Breakfast was in the Air Force mess hall and then we headed for St. Ignace, here we boarded a boat for the trip to Mackinac Island.

We took a horse and carriage tour of the island and went thru Fort Mackinac.

We were impressed with the Grand Hotel and would have liked to stay here a couple of days.

We had sack lunches that had been prepared at the AFB.

Many of us had never crossed the Big Mac, so this was a thrill to go over in our bus.

We stopped at Indian River to see the Shrine.

This is the largest crucifix in the world.

We finally arrived at Johes Lake and set up camp for the last time. Here we enjoyed swimming and our night camp fire.

SUNDAY

The day was spent heading for home.

We made several stops looking for souvenirs and finally in Lansing stopped for dinner.

From here to home we were a happy group, we really had a songfest. We were tired, anxious to reach Britton and sorry that this wonderful companionship was about to stop.

Representative Rollo Conlin Blasts Apportionment Plan

Representative Rollo Conlin of Tipton, has blasted the state apportionment plan.

"It is obvious that this plan is designed to oust as many Republicans (particularly incumbents) from the Legislature as possible.

"In this case, they have taken Franklin Township, my residence, and tacked it onto part of Washtenaw and all of Livingston County.

"In this irrational plan, they have ruthlessly cut across county lines some 38 times, even splitting cities and townships into separate legislative districts.

"I expect this decision will be appealed to the Federal Courts and probably a stay would be granted. Since the next session of the Court will not be until fall, it is possible that the present legislative districts will be carried over without change for the next election.

"However, I intend to take whatever steps are necessary to continue my candidacy in the Lenawee District," he concluded.

"I hope to continue to represent my neighbors in Lenawee County as I have in the past despite the State Supreme Court's decision upholding the Democratic 'gerrymandering plan'," he said.

Lenawee Under Quarantine

Discovery of cereal leaf beetles has resulted in 13 more counties — including Lenawee — being put under quarantine.

Purpose of the quarantine is to prevent spread of this tiny destroyer of such growing grains as oats, wheat, rye, barley and other crops.

Indiana has 30 infested counties, and there are nine in Ohio and parts of two others. Three of these infested Ohio counties border on Michigan.

New Michigan county areas placed under quarantine and regulation on June 22 are Clinton, Genesee, Gratiot, Saginaw and Shiawasee.

Also included are the Townships of Bridgewater, Freedom, Lindon, Manchester, Saline, Sharon, Sylvan, and York in Washtenaw County and Lyon Township in Oakland County.

☆

THE BEETLE was first reported in this country in 1962 at Galien in Berrien County. How it arrived there probably never will be known.

It has been a destroyer of growing grain in Europe for more than a half century and has been found in Siberia and as far south as Morocco in Africa. Some years half the grain crops have been destroyed in certain countries.

Seventeen Michigan counties went under quarantine last summer.

Articles that cannot be moved outside of a regulated area in a quarantined county without an inspection certificate include the insect itself in any stage of development, barley, oats, wheat, and other small grains, corn, uncleaned grass and forage, crop seed, hay, straw, fodder, plant litter of any kind, sod, or harvesting machinery.

An exception to this is that small grains may be moved during the period of Dec. 1 to the following June 1 without certification.

Other articles which may require inspection or treatment are any other farm products, equipment, trucks, railway cars or other means of conveyance; used crates, boxes or bags, soil or any other products that may transport this insect.

Information on this is available from county extension directors.

Conservation Committee Offers Help

Individual farmers, or groups of farmers with conservation problems on their land would do well to discuss the matter with the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, Leland Bush, chairman, says.

Many times, the cost-share assistance available under the Agricultural Conservation Program makes it possible to carry out projects that farmers cannot accomplish alone, the chairman pointed out.

Pooling their own resources and the available ACP assistance is the only way a group of farmers can solve a problem that extends beyond the boundaries of a single farm.

ACP is especially effective since it is formulated by local people to deal scientifically with local — as well as national — conservation problems.

Needed conservation measures are recommended by local farm leaders and technicians of several agencies and organizations.

☆

BECAUSE REQUESTS for conservation assistance generally far outstrips the available program funds, priority is given to work that is needed most. In some areas, according to the chairman, the conservation of scarce water is absolutely necessary to the survival of farmers and ranchers as well as non-farm people.

In these cases, such ACP measures as water impoundments and preventing water waste in transit may be the answer to the water-conservation problem. Soil-erosion problems may be solved with some of the same practices.

Where lands should be converted to trees or wildlife habitat, or where existing timber stands need to be improved, ACP may help through cost-sharing for tree-planting practices or stand-improvement on farms and woodland holdings.

In controlling erosion of farmland — the country's most extensive conservation problem — mechanical measures are important. ACP has helped farmers terrace and install other erosion-control structures on millions of acres.

I would sincerely like to thank The Herald for donating ad space to the teenagers of Tecumseh. My ad has produced two jobs so far; one woman called Thursday night, another Friday afternoon.

Few people realize the great amount of public service The Herald performs, but through projects such as this, editorial drives for worthy causes such as the library millage, and free publicity for many projects carried out by both student and adult groups The Herald has become a vital member of our community.

The donation of space for teenage ads has helped, not only to get jobs for us, but also to show us the active role of advertising in our world today. Thank you again and much luck in the future of our growing city.

Ray Shepherd Jams 12 Months Work into 3 at Parkview Market on US 12

During most of the year, Ray Shepherd leads a rather easy-going existence.

But come June, July and August — well, that's a different story.

Ray owns Parkview Market, which is located directly across from the entrance to Hayes State Park in the Irish Hills.

The store is open seven days a week, until at least 9 p.m. Sometimes this stretches to nearly midnight, admits Ray.

Ray's wife, Lois, and their two children, Diann, 18, and Danny, 16, put in plenty of time behind the counters of the market. Diann just graduated from Onsted High School.

The Parkview has just about everything vacationers might need, right through the grocery lineup, meats, charcoal, picnic needs — even surf boards, made from Styrofoam.

There also is a Leonard gasoline station tied in with the market.

During the vacation season, Ray has a total of eight employees.

Daily newspapers are always available at the Parkview.

Showboat Seats Now 22" Wide

LOWELL — THE LOWELL Showboat, to be held July 20-25, will offer a considerable improvement in comfort for its spectators this year.

Acting on the suggestions made by spectators in previous years, the Showboat Board of Directors has approved widening all of the seats to a minimum of 22 inches.

The problem was that the seats were so narrow that people were jammed together and couldn't move.

Total seating capacity of the Showboat stands will be cut from nearly 6,000 to a bit above 5,000 by the change.

Fisher Body Groundbreaking Will Start at 4 p.m.

A blast of dynamite and a talk by Gov. George Romney will highlight Thursday's groundbreaking for the new Tecumseh Fisher Body plant at Gady Rd. and Occidental Hwy.

Stores are closing that afternoon and free transportation provided from the Four Corners to the site, starting about 3:30 p.m. Festivities begin at 4 p.m. with a 30-minute concert by the Tecumseh High School band.

At 4:30, the VFW color guard will raise the flag and Fisher Body's general manager, Robert H. Gathman, will tell about operations here.

Governor Romney, flashing back to Michigan for several days from the west coast before the July 13 opening of the Republican National Convention following an early-week appearance before the Platform Committee, will be feature speaker.

To break ground, Mr. Gathman will set off a charge of dynamite, buried several hundred yards from the speaker's platform. As the dust settles, a giant Euclid earth mover will wheel into view, cutting a wide road right up to the crowd. About 2,000 are expected to be on hand.

A huge tent will be set up at the site. Refreshments of pop, cookies, donuts and coffee will be served from it starting at 3:30 p.m.

Representatives of major daily newspapers, radio and television stations are expected to be on hand.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend the groundbreaking. For those who wish to drive, ample lined parking spaces will be available off Occidental. Tecumseh police will handle traffic.

"WELCOME GM" SIGNS DOT ...

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

In years to come, they'll probably refer to the junket as the Peanut Butter Safari.

Armed with three giant jugs of A&P's finest and a case of Ritz crackers, Mrs. Robert Murray and Mrs. Tom Corkery started an a 7,000-mile trip to California this week.

They're driving the Corkery's station wagon, loaded down with camp gear — and peanut butter.

"I just wish we could have had a picture," chuckled husband Tom, who saw the girls off at 2:30 a.m. — after more than eight hours of packing.

"They were supposed to be on the road by 11, Sunday night, but kept remembering things they should take," Tom added

By the time the Peanut Butter Special rolled west on M-50, it was jammed to the roof.

At takeoff, Mrs. Murray was at the wheel, while Mrs. Corkery was snug in a sleeping bag on the back deck — less than half a day after a session at the chiropractor's to have a kink in her back loosened.

By the time the girls get to the west coast, she should be real relaxed.

The junket's prime objective is the Republican National Con-

The group left early Thursday morning by car and truck with complete camping outfit and seven canoes.

They "put in" just west of Grayling on Rte. 72 and "took out", some 60 river miles later at Route 66, north of Lake City.

Scoutmaster Dr. Bob Laidlaw reported a smooth trip with no problems other than a few blisters and sunburn.

☆

SCOUT PAUL BURNS, JR. caught the largest trout, a 13-inch rainbow. Several bear and some deer were seen.

Scouts making the trip were Paul Burns, Jr., Doyce Bow, John and David Jadwin, David Laidlaw, Donald and Rick McVay, David O'Neill, Terry Packard, Tom Rohrer and Bill Whiting.

They were accompanied by Scoutmaster Laidlaw and the Troop 4 committee, Edward O'Neill, Paul Burns, John McVay and Jim Rohrer.

Neighborhood Dinner Flavored as International

Mrs. William Osburn, 6404 Pocklington Rd., entertained a group of neighbors for an international dinner in her home.

Others attending the dinner also served native dishes from their home countries.

Smash Success

By JUDY FIELDER

Fantastic is the word for Tecumseh's old fashioned July 4th celebration.

City manager Cal Zorn summarized the general reaction to the holiday, "I had a wonderful time. We had a darn good crowd in town."

About 10,000 people took part in activities throughout the day, which started with Exchange Club's Dawn Patrol at Meyers Airport.

Although fewer planes than last year landed, about 70 in all, turnout for husky breakfast from local residents increased egg cooking from three orates last year to four and a half Saturday.

Approximately 900 were served, with money to be used for additional bleachers at the athletic field.

Terry Sisty, 217 N. Pearl St., was the first pilot to land. He flew in from Adrian.

☆

STARTING AT dawn patrol and featured all over the city during the day were the 'Incidentals' orchestra on a flat bed truck.

Skydivers and buzzing planes kept folks busy until the parade started.

IWO JIMA float in the parade composed by the Jaycees drew salutes, cheers, applause and tears.

Clowns Frank Sandhoff and John Hamilton delighted children with their antics. Frank handed out candy and John whizzed in and out on his crazy bicycle.

Silver trappings on Arabian horses were reputed to cost nearly $3000.

The beautifully costumed couple at the head of the parade were also gorgeous.

A huge crowd watched — George McCombs, councilman riding in parade, took a picture of viewers from car. They were crowded three deep along most of the route.

THS bands were snappy, along with Lansing drill team dressed in red and black minutemen costumes and local marching groups.

A BIG crowd watched the pony pulling contest at Elliott Park. Jim Bishoff from Ottawa Lake took first place and horsemanship trophy.

Jim Mobley placed second and Mr. Feldkamp of Saline, third.

Seven teams participated and each went home with trophy.

Clarence Beach, chairman of the contest thanked everyone for cooperation and remarked on the teamwork of all the service organizations, calling it "a great thing."

☆

AT WATERBALL contest, Tecumseh firemen beat Madison Township, but Madison's ladies team topped Tecumseh's women.

In a rip-roaring and sidesplitting fight, the Kiwanis soaked Jaycees, then went on to whip Exchange.

Dave Faling, Kiwanis coach, jumped into action to spray Harold Easton, Jaycee coach, but Harold fixed him — shut Dave's water off.

"Foul" was the cry from Kiwanis end.

Dr. Walter Elwartowski on extra Jaycee hose was busy spraying the opposite team — to heck with the ball.

A meeting of the churches of the area to discuss the 1964 Migrant Ministry program will be held Thursday, July 16, at 8 p.m. at the Ridgeway Methodist Church.

A proposed budget of $1,600 has been set up by the Lenawee County committee, having been raised by the addition of another staff member.

Staff people are available for services in the churches Sunday mornings, Aug. 9, 16, 23, 30 and Sept. 5.

Arrangements may be made by calling the Rev. Earl Davidson, director, 302 Franklin St., Blissfield.

Waterball Tournament

Kiwanis Capture Title

With nearly 1,000 watching, the Fourth of July waterball competition saw Kiwanis crowned champion and Tecumseh firemen capturing their first Invitational Meet.

Kiwanis edged Exchange in the finals, 160-155.

In preliminaries, Exchange Rotary failed to show for the match with Kiwanis.

Making up the Kiwanis title team were Dick Myers, Dick Bosche, Don Partridge, Bob Bagdon and Gene Tuckey. Dave Faling was coach.

☆

IN THE friemen's action, Madison topped Palmyra, but then fell to Tecumseh in the trophy match.

Tecumseh's squad included and Mahlon Sebring.

Following that, the regulars took on other Tecumseh volunteers — Cecil Alderdyce, John Hamilton, Elwood Baugh, Gale Hooten and Ralph Sager.

Madison's feminine team faced a quintet of Tecumseh ladies and showered them to defeat.

On the Tecumseh group were Mrs. Jim Colson, Mrs. Dick Myers, Sharlene Blatchford, Linda Easton and Carolyn Sebring.

Then, the Madison gals challenged the Tecumseh men, using 90-pound nozzle pressure — it's 60 pounds for regular female contests — and won.

We have received inqiries about the word bible being spelled "BIBEL" in an ad running on the classified ad page. To clarify the matter, this is the way it was spelled on the copy from Austria.

"I hope it was really appreciated," said the voice on the phone. She was speaking for the people who worked so hard to make the Fourth of July celebration a bang-up success.

Speaking for folks in general, we'd say, "Yes!"

A recent donation for the Herrick Memorial Hospital landscaping fund was from Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Butler in memory of Ed Heilman.

Who is the mystery gal or guy who makes Eleanor dolls for Buck Lake Ranch at Angola, Ind? Overheard Sunday was the remark that the manager down there would have to get more dolls from Tecumseh as the stock was running out.

The Britton State Championship section rated an honorable mention in the annual National Editorial Association contest for special editions. More than 504 daily and weekly newspapers took part in the over-all NEA competition, which included a variety of categories.

Where's Clinton? asked folks when they saw the map in General Motors Fisher Body Division ad last week. Seems the feller in GM art department muffed the ball and didn't show Clinton. Unfortunately, the same mistake appears in this issue's GM ad.

Celebration Chief Praises Cooperation

I wish to extend my many thanks to all of you who helped so generously to make the Old Fashioned Fourth of July celebration the hugh success that it was.

Over 10,000 people enjoyed the many activities during the day, and not one accident was reported from early morning to late night. This is my idea of a perfect holiday, and all of you are responsible for this accomplishment.

I wish to give a special thanks to our local service clubs and organizations for their outstanding contributions of service and their untiring efforts in helping to plan and direct the days activities.

An extra special thanks to my committee chairmen, who gave up so much of their personal time for personal enjoyment, to make sure that all of the activities were enjoyed by all of us.

As chairman of this celebration, I would like to say, "A job well done, through the efforts of the entire community."

FIRST IN 100 — Bill Brodbeck of Bakersfield, Calif., displays the king-size trophy he won while piloting this Meyers 200B to first place in the "Pendleton 100" last week. He topped a field of single-engine ships of not more than 285 horse power, representing some of the nation's top plane manufacturers.

Taking second was another Meyers, flown by Ken Woerth of Phoenix. Last year, Meyers finished 1, 2, 3 in the same competition, which was staged in Phoenix. On hand to witness the victory were Joe LeFevre, Meyers sales manager, and Al Bagshaw, who acompanied the party.

Michigan Christian Advocate Editor To Be Guest Minister

Dr. John E. Marvin, editor of the Michigan Christian Advocate, will be guest minister Sunday, July 19, at the First Presbyterian Church (worship time 9:30 a.m.) and on the following Sunday, July 26, at the First Methodist Church (worship time 10 a.m.)

Dr. Marvin, who is completing 25 years as editor of the Advocate, the official weekly publication of Michigan Methodists with offices in Adrian, has been a member of the Detroit conference for 36 years.

His father was a member of this same conference for nearly 50 years.

As a representative of the press, since joining the Advocate staff in 1936, he has attended numerous conferences and assemblies.

☆

HE WAS a reporter at the Uniting Conference of the Methodist Church in 1939 and the subsequent General Conferences.

In 1948 he attended the organizational Assembly of the World Council of Churches at Amsterdam, Holland, and six years later the Second Assembly at Evanston, Ill.

Active in religious journalistic circles, Dr. Marvin has been Secretary of the Associated Church Press, and for the current quadrennium is president of the Methodist Press Association, an organization of Methodist journalists.

At the 1960 General Conference at Denver, Dr. Martin was chairman of the State of the Church Committee and subsequently served on a special General Conference Study Committee on Christian Faith and Nuclear War.

☆

HE WAS ELECTED secretary and his report is soon to be printed and circulated throughout the church for study.

Mrs. Marvin is the former Alma O'Connor of Bad Axe. The Marvins have one daughter and two sons. Daughter Lorraine, Mrs. Aaron J. Sharp, is the wife of A. J. Sharp, of Birmingham, employed by Wayne State University in the department of alumni relations.

Charles is head football coach at Adrian College and Lynn is assistant to the Lenawee County Superintendent of Schools in charge of Special Education. There are four grandchildren.

vention in San Francisco. At first, Mrs. Murray was going to drive the family Jeep, but Mr. Corkery allowed as how the station wagon might offer a little more comfort.

Each pioneer carries $150.

The peanut butter and crackers will furnish energy, supplemented by goodies the gals come by en route.

First stop was to be Boulder Col. in mid-week, where they're slated to pop in on a doctor friend of the Murrays, who visited here recently on his way to the World's Fair.

They'll hit Reno, Nev., about Thursday for a short stay with Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron, Jr., — he's the son of the Waldrons here.

By Sunday, the girls expect to pull up to a nice spot on the Pacific Ocean beach near Frisco, then comes the excitement of the convention.

As soon as the nomination is announced (let's hope it's not Goldwater, but what chance is there of this?), the Peanut Butter Kids are off for Los Angeles. That's where James Corkery, a cousin of Tom's, lives.

A swing up the coast to Oregon will find them dropping in to see how Mrs. Tom Baldwin is doing these days. Her husband is the Tecumseh fellow, now overseas with the Special Forces.

She is the former Ann Olsen, who acted and sang with the Clark Lake Players prior to her marriage.

Seattle, Wash. is next on the agenda. They may also get to Walla Walla, where a Corkery aunt resides.

On the swing back home, the PB Twins want to see Mount Rainier, Yellowstone and then hole up in Red Lodge, Montana, where they hope to see Dick Loughney, a former Tecumsehite.

Over the Bad Lands, through Minnesota and Wisconsin, the last leg will be through the Upper Peninsula and across the Big Mac, then a burst for Tecumseh.

Let's get up a welcome home party for the girls. Refreshments could be a platter of peanut butter sandwiches.

4th Fun

AN AWED crowd watched Lou Schroeder skydive directly into the center of the baseball field before the fireworks.

Pete Myks delighted spectators at the pee-wee league field by dropping there.

Mr. Schroeder drew the winning ticket for the four-day all-expense paid trip to the World's Fair.

Charles Studnicka of Blissfield, a Tecumseh Products employee, held the winning ticket.

☆

PUNCTUALITY of people attending events was amazing. Parking space for the parade was filled at noon as was the case at athletic field by 7 p.m.

One out-of-towner said, "You are going to have to provide more parking facilities for an event like this. I had trouble even getting into town."

Chief of Police Murell Clark was exuberant, "Everything went off smooth and lovely — people were very gracious.

"The town was full of people and we had a very safe and sound fourth of July. Expect to have bigger and better one next year."

He added happily that there were no accidents.

☆

VFW chicken and rib barbecue had a big day. Before the event, post commander Joe Laslo remarked, "We're going to shut down at 6:30, no matter how many chickens we have left."

By 4 p.m. they had served 1400 people and were sold out.

SHAWNEE SQUARES reported nearly 250 people dancing, with guests from as far away as Canton, O., Pontiac, Saginaw and Flint, among others.

Deuce Williams of Dearborn was unable ot call. At the last minute Butch Little of Napoleon, O., substituted for him along with Jack May of Toledo.

National colors decorated the Community Center with callers platform set off by red and white streamers centered by a gold eagle draped in patriotic colors.

Refreshments were served outdoors.

☆

A LARGE crew turned out Sunday to clean up Saturday's fun. Don Moffatt said parts of the city were cleaner afterward than before — a real commendation.

Forest Abner, one of the originators of the celebration and a co-chairman, was on cloud nine busily planning this week for organization of next year's fun.

☆

SPECTACULAR fireworks, nearly $500 worth, were ignited by Jim Fielder, Charles O'Neill, Dick Perry and Don Moffatt under the direction of a Toledo fireworks expert.

The huge aerial bombs shook the ground and sprays of beauty filled the sky. (In case you didn't hear, aerial bombs were used throughout the day to signal the start of each event.)

The fire department was above the field watching for small blazes that could have been started by falling embers.

LOOK OUT! HERE I COME — Councilman John Hamilton whizzes in and out of crowd on crazy bicycle during Saturday's celebration parade. He and Jaycee clown Frank Sandhoff, who handed out candy, were a delight to viewers, especially the children.

Annual National Threshers reunion was held in Montpelier, O. last week. We understand that this 20-year-old organization, with several thousand members from coast to coast, was an outgrowth of a historical pageant of threshing staged here by the late Perry Hayden.

The Tecumseh event was held in conjunction with the 1944 harvest of Dynamic Kernals at the corner of M-50 and Rogers Hwy.

LeRoy Blaker of Alvordton, O., organizer and president for the 20 years, said that he first became interested in steam engines when he saw the show in Tecumseh.

Mrs. Blaker has been secretary and treasurer of the national association from the beginning.

√

Joyce and Jill Holden, twins of Mrs. Laine Holden, not only celebrated Independence Day but also their 14th birthday anniversary Saturday. With their mom, David and Debbie, the two spent the day at the Evans Lake cottage of their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Groeschow.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Jones, Julie and Stewart were also present for the celebration.

√

The Maynard Lucas family entertained his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Lucas, of Wayne over the Fourth weekend.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Chester L. Merritt spent an old fahioned Fourth entertaining 10 couples at their Wamplers Lake cottage.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Barry Brock and daughter of New Carlisle O. were home for the Hanna-Nixon wedding.

√

Mr. and Mrs. David Younglove and daughter, Barbara, and Harvey Gatt of Adrian were dinner and supper guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Minch of Morenci.

√

Sue Kotts, now of California formerly of Tecumseh, is a house guest at the Dow Bilby residence this week. Her mother, Mrs. Earl Kotts, and two daughters are guests of Mr. and Mrs. James McKenna in Dearborn.

A house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Don Blesing this week is the Rev. Fr. Ferdinand Koenig of Alsace, France. He is also visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKee and children.

√

M/Sgt. Norman Rarick has been spending a few days with his parents, Mr and Mrs. Bert Rarick, and his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Furgason of W. Kilbuck St. Sgt. Rarick is retiring from the Air Force after 20 years service. A family picnic in his honor was held July 4 at the Furgason home. He left that day to join his wife and son in Los Angeles. They will make their home in California.

√

Donna Cleveland has returned from her European tour. She and her brother, Wendell, of Lansing were weekend guests of their mother, Mrs. Don Cleveland.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Marr and children spent the weekend near Harrison.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon LaLonde and Mr. and Mrs. John McKenzie and family are spending this week near Harrison. While the LaLondes are away, their daughter, Wilma, is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Don Van Camp.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kasno of Palmetto, Fla. were back in the area for the holiday, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Froelich, rural Adrian. Mr. Kasno said, "We're tickled pink to see Tecumseh's progress."

√

Mr. and Mrs. F. Reid Bailey were entertained by their children Thursday evening in observance of their 25th wedding anniversary. A two-tiered cake was a feature of the dinner in Ann Arbor. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. R. Ellis Bailey of Adrian, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Binns, Ann Arbor and Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Disbrow.

Will Live in Memphis, Tennessee

Ray Sluyter and his bride, the former Susan Helen McCord will make their home in Memphis, Tenn., where he is stationed with the navy.

The couple were married June 27 in the First Methodist Church of Camden, Ark., by the pastor, the Rev. Dwight West, assisted by Rev. Henry Grubbs of the Ft. Worth, Texas Presbyterian Church.

An arch of white tapers in candelabrum served as the background with an open Bible placed in the center of the altar to mark the place of the ceremony.

Majestic daisies, gladioli and stock were used to flank the altar and the communion rail was garlanded with plumosos, tied at the center with white satin ribbons.

Parents of the newly married Mr. and Mrs. Sluyter are Mr. and Mrs. Chester B. McCord of Camden and Mrs. Raymond H. Sluyter, 111 N. Oneida and the late Mr. Sluyter.

Mrs. Goodwin White was the organist accompanying Mrs. Robert Wilson, soloist.

The bride's brother, Thomas Arthur McCord, II, served as acolyte.

The bride selected a floor length sheathed gown of ivory peau de soie with bodice of peau de ange lace which featured a scalloped neckline and elbow length sleeves.

A wide border of matching lace ornamented the slim skirt and a self fabric chapel train was secured at the waistline.

Her tiered veil of ivory illusion was attached to a petal crown of lace and peau. She carried phalaenopsis, stephanotis and fleur-d' amour.

Edna Ellen Perry served as maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Katherine Savers and Joan Hiserote.

MRS. RAY SLUYTER

They wore identical floor length sheaths of crystal aqua chiffon.

The long sleeved jackets worn over the fitted bodices featured jeweled necklines and were finished with matching satin.

Each attendant carried a bouquet of pastel tinted daisies.

Robert Preston of Grosse Pointe served as best man and the groomsmen were Chester Miller McCord, brother of the bride, T. M. Clifford, Jr., Peter Kent Smith and Ron Bauman.

Following the wedding reception at the church, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The rehearsal dinner was given by Mrs. Sluyter for 35 guests, Friday evening at the Hotel Camden. A silver tray, a gift of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Helzerman, was autographed by each guest with an electric pen and presented to the couple.

Mrs. Sluyter was accompanied to her son's wedding by his sister, Mrs. Jeanne O'Neil, and daughters, Sheila and Beth Ann, and Mrs. A. L. McDonald.

They were in Camden for the weekend of the wedding.

Sales Meeting Becomes Baby Shower

A surprise baby shower and potluck luncheon for Mrs. Larry Coscarelli was held July 2 at the home of Mrs. Dean Spohr in Clayton.

The shower was given by a grop of fashion stylists who work with Mrs. Coscarelli for Beeline Fashions, Inc.

The date was originally planned for a sales meeting, which followed the shower.

The center of attraction was a large neopolitan cake decorated with a stork and baked by Alice Miller of Waldron.

Stylists and managers from Temperance, Hudson, Adrian, Hillsdale, Waldron, Palmyra and Tecumseh were present including the regional manager, Mrs. Inza Oathout of Dearborn.

Alice Shirley Marries Robert Nixon

An arch of 35 candles garlanded with smilax and clusters of stephanotis formed the background at the altar of the Friends Church July 3 for the wedding of Alice Marie Shirley and Robert Clifton Nixon.

The Rev. Paul Brantingham and the Rev. Clifton Nixon, father of the groom, performed the ceremony uniting the young couple.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Shirley, 412 W. Brown St. and the Rev. and Mrs. Nixon are of the Central Nazarene Church in Miami, Fla.

Mrs. Amos Wilson accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Lee Spohr.

The radiant bride approached the altar on the arm of her father in a gown of white silk organza and peau de soie featuring a scoop neckline, elbow length sleeves and a floor length bell skirt with overskirt, appliqued with rosebuds.

Her veil was held in place by a crown of rhinestones and pearls and she carried white Boston and Majestic daisies in cascade design outlining a nosegay of stephanotis and ivy.

Bonnie MacDonald was the maid of honor and the bridesmaid was Audrey LeFevre.

Nancy MacDonald and Becky Nixon, sister of the groom, were the junior bridesmaids.

All the bride's attendants wore gowns styled like the bride's, only in blue and without the appliqued roses.

They wore white daisies in their hair with blue veils.

The girls carried Majestic daisies accented with Boston Daisies and yellow satin tubing.

Kenneth Clark, cousin of the bride, was the ring bearer.

David Nixon served as best man for his brother and the guests were seated by Jerry Cramer and David MacDonald.

A reception was held following the ceremony when a five-tiered cake decorated with hearts and bells in blue, yellow and white was served.

Bouquets of the bridal party and blue candles flanked the cake.

Mrs. Ashley Chase and Mrs. Paul Brantingham cut the cake.

Following a trip to Niagara Falls, the couple will make their home in Gainesville, Fla., after Sept. 1. They are both students at the University of Florida there.

Guests attending came from Detroit, Brighton, Pontiac, Pickford, Ann Arbor, Barberton, O., and Miami, Fla.

OUR READERS WRITE

TO THE EDITORS:

Greetings from the north.

Here I am, stationed 1,300 miles from Anchorage, Alaska, (the nearest city) and 279 miles from Russia! A bit uncomfortable at first, but one can adjust to anything with time.

My duties here are quite widespread. We have a doctor here —— which is a relief — —who is directing the medical facilities. I work in pharmacy, medical lab, x-ray, surgery and office.

The climate here is much different from Michigan. During the summer we are fogged in about 80% of the time. And during the winter about 95%. In addition we have gentle winds that reach up to 110 miles per hour!

To the north of Shemza is the Bering Sea, and to the south is the Pacific Ocean. The island is two miles by four miles (not too damn big!)

I have gotten only one issue of The Herald, would you again change my address?

► Union came from behind with six runs in the last inning to defeat Exchange, 7-6.

Fine fielding in the bottom of the sixth kept Exchange from tying the game.

Paul Randall grabbed a line smash for the first out, Oscar Lopez pulled in a broken-bat pop-up, right fielder Jack Allen made a brilliant one-handed shoe string catch to end the game.

Winning pitcher was Butch Quinn.

► Union picked up its sixth win against one loss, whipping Jaycees, 8-4.

Jim Lister and Mike Cote both went 2-for-3 for the winners.

Cote struck out 10 and allowed only five hits.

David Ward returned to action for the first time since the initial game of the season. He broke his arm the night after the first game.

► Lamar Rufner gave up only six hits and fanned 12 to pitch Rotary to a 9-5 victory over Kiwanis.

Hitting stars in this game were Bill Puffer of Rotary and Tom McVay of Kiwanis. They both had a double and a single in two times at bat.

The losing pitcher was Alex Gibson, who fanned 10.

► Frank Flores and Ricky Hitter as Credit Union trounced Police, 14-1.

Highlighting the Credit Union attack was the hitting of Mike Matteson, Frank Flores, and Ricky Hicks.

Matteson had a perfect 3-for-3, Flores and Hicks each had two base raps.

One of Ricky's hits was a home run.

Losing pitcher for Police was Bobby Reed, who struck out 10.

► Tom Smith and Don Clark each had three hits when the Giants beat the Tigers, 16-5.

James Sessoms was the winning pitcher. He struck out five while his mound opponent, Mike Seitz, fanned 11.

Kent Blumerick had the fielding gem of the day when he made a shoestring catch in the fourth inning.

► Pushing across four runs in the first inning, the Dodgers never trailed as they defeated the Twins, 13-5.

Kim Beard, Billy Knapp and Robert Sindaire all had a pair of base raps for the winners.

Billy Knapp struck out seven as he picked up the victory. The loser was Ken Harper, who fanned six.

The Braves scored in every inning, getting ten runs in the fourth.

The winning pitcher was Bob Miller. Tom Prichard was the losing hurler.

Bob Brock went 2-for-5 for the winners.

► Scoring all of their runs in the first three innings, the Braves beat the Giants, 9-7.

For the winners John Revesz and Jon Smith each had a pair of hits.

The eventual winning run came across the plate in the third when John Revesz singled and John Smith doubled.

Winning pitched was Bob Miller. On the mound for the Giants was Gary Carpenter.

► A perfect bunt and some great clutch pitching meant the difference in a tight pitchers' battle when G&J nipped Products Workers, 1-0.

Tom Witt pitched for G&J and turned in an excellent job, allowing three hits, striking out 10, and holding possible tying runs on third base four times.

Some superb pitching went to waste for Products. Steve Ring and Chuck Gillies combined to allow G&J only three hits.

The only extra-base hit of the game was contributed by John Anderson of G&J. He doubled in the fourth and scored the only run of the game.

The winning run was scored when Sam Starkey laid down a perfect bunt with one out and runners on second and third.

A fine fielding play was made by Randy Robinson, who snared a line drive off the bat of John Kennedy and turned it into a double play.

► Products Workers saw a 2-1 lead go to waste as Eagles rallied for three runs in the sixth and three more in the seventh innings to win the game, 7-2.

Steve Ring pitched one hit ball for the first five innings for Products. Because of league rules he had to be replaced at this point.

Chuck Gillies pitched the sixth and to six batters in the seventh. With the bases loaded and nobody out John Kennedy relieved him. John got out of the jam without a run being scored against him.

J. Schwartz was the winning pitcher.

Chuck Gillies hit a "home run for Products, but was called out when he missed third base. John Kennedy had two hits in four trips for the losers.

John Kennedy made a fine play in the field, catching a liner hit by Jim Mobley and doubling Terry Bolden off first base.

The Eagles scored three runs in the sixth using only one hit, a single by Jim Mobley.

WAS HE OUT? Jaycee catcher Peter Speerstra had the ball and was waiting for Butch Quinn of the Union team in an exciting bit of action during Cub League play. Umpire John Oberlin (right) called him out—then safe, when Butch rammed Pete and knocked the ball loose. Union won, 8-4.

Missionaries' Home Destroyed by Fire

A fire completely destroyed the New Guinea home of the Rev. and Mrs. Merlyn D. Wagner, missionaries in the Wabag area on June 27.

The couple were visiting friends in the evening when they saw; a red flash, which instantly signaled that someone's home was burning.

The men immediately left to help with the only fire protection, a bucket brigade.

The Rev. Wagner was dismayed to find that it was his own home. Only thing rescued was the cook boy's stove, which he got out himself.

☆

IN 10 MINUTES, everything belonging to the Wagners was gone except what they were wearing.

Since there is no electricity, the couple decided that it must have been the kerosene operated refrigerator that exploded causing the blaze.

The Wagners have been in New Guinea two years and will remain for another three.

Missionary friends are helping with necessities, but the Wagners will miss their battery-operated equipment — such as the pastor's razor.

☆

IT TOOK six months for their bedroom furniture to get to New Guinea from Springfield, Ill. (her home) the first time. It will take a long time for them to accumulate their needs again.

The young missionary concluded his letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wagner of Occidental Hwy., by writing,

"It teaches us not to store up material treasures here on earth because they can be destroyed."

Big Day For Seniors

By DON MOFFATT, SUPERINTENDENT

This is the big week for the senior citizens in the area. Thursday, July 9, they'll hold their third get-to-gether at the Community Center, from 2 to 4 p.m.

Then immediately following their program, a bus will pick them up and take them to the GM Fisher Body groundbreaking ceremonies.

The committee Mrs. Robert Gillespie, Mrs. Lester Hunt, Mrs. Truman Rentschler and Mrs. Verdi Skinner — have promised a wonderful time shall be had by all those in attendance.

Most of the program is pretty much a secret, but, it can be reported that besides the regular table games, a special get-acquainted game is planned. Our own type of "Hootenanny" song-fest is planned by the hard working committee.

Special guests will be the playground directors of our four playgrounds and their supervisor, Carol Kapnick.

√

PLAYGROUND

Last week, the playground directors used the Fourth of July as the theme of the week. The children were told why we Americans celebrate the fourth.

Friday, the children were given materials to decorate their bicycle so that they could ride in the parade.

This week's special event is the Pet Show on Wednesday. Judges are some of our own Senior Citizens who, who have volunteered to help out.

Tuesday was circus day at Herrick Park. A puppet show including a rat fink and a wooden mouse was put on by Nancy Jentry. followed by Barbara Henning dressed as a lion tamer with a helmet and whip.

Barb acted out this skit with her stuffed lion in a cage. Nancy and Kay Kitson were dressed as acrobats.

SHADY LANE

The Shady Lane playground was a beehive of activity this week. Turtle purses were put together by Larry Hallenbeck, Danny Adams, Connie Adams, Laurie Adams, Kitty Gardener and Ricky Gardener. Models were assembled by Steve Drake, and Joe Gittings who also purchased a wooden airplane along with his brother Tom Gittings. A picnic was held on Thursday.

PATTERSON

Games have been played all week. On Wednesday, the children studied about our flag and heard a story about Betsy Ross.

TECUMSEH ACRES

This week's activities centered around the Fourth of July holiday. Many lovely pictures of fireworks were made and Friday the children decorated their bicycles.

A picnic was held Thursday, with games being played afterwards. While eating, the children told about their plans for the Fourth.

Sandy Refnor made a beanie and Laura Downard completed a baseball purse. Debbie Kish and Barbara Radant made turtle purses.

NAMED TO ALL-STAR SQUAD — Nancy Dustin, daughter of Dr and Mrs. Richard E. Dustin, would rather play ball than eat. Maybe that's why she has been selected for the Junior Girls All-Star team. Here she has her eye on the ball as it leaves the bat in recent action.

Man Aces 165-Yard No. 9 Hole

Bill Cross aced the 165 yard ninth hole at the Macon Golf Club over the weekend.

He was playing a practice round before starting the regular league play.

Mr. Cross, whose home is in Bloomfield Hills, was playing with his partner, Floyd Busz of Dundee.

Bill's No. 5 iron shot from the tee landed about three feet from the pin and rolled into the cup.

His score for the nine holes was an even par 36.

The first hole-in-one at Macon was scored last year by Pat Hollar of Tecumseh.

☆

WHEN HE got the ace, Mr. Cross was substituting for Doug Turnball in the Tecumseh-Clinton-Macon Golf League, taking 15 out of a possible 20 points.

On the second trip around he missed another hole-in-one by inches on the same hole he had scored on the first round.

Substitutes like that are mighty tough to find. Especially one that buys beer for the opponents.

Bill Berkley saved some of the prestize of the regular members by also parring the course and Eldon Walker was not far behind with just one over par.

Young Thespians

By PAT KURETH

"Speak the speech, I pray you, trippingly on the tongue . . . ." Hamlet advised his actors, and four young local people heed this advice as they go to the Irish Hills Playhouse to rehearse their roles in two Shakespearean dramas this summer.

Sanford Blake, nine years old, of 209 Adrian Street, Dawn Ton, 11 years old, of Belleville, and Jeffrey and Joann Langham, 11 and 16, respectively, of 706 Outer Drive, have roles in "Richard III" and "Macbeth".

Sanford and Dawn will perform alternately with Jeffrey and Joann in the roles of the young Duke of York and Edward V, Prince of Wales in "Richard III". The two boys will alternate as Macduff's son in "Macbeth".

None of the young actors and actresses had been in a play before this summer, although all have been followers of the playhouse activities.

When Larry Burns, producer-director of the Irish Hills Playhouse, announced tryouts for the above roles, Laura Seager suggested he give the local youngsters a chance for the parts.

Sixteen-year-old Laura, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Seager, of 309 W. Chicago Blvd., is appearing with the players for the third season.

She will be seen as the gentle Bianca in "The Taming of the Shrew"; as Viola in "Twelfth Night"; the first witch in "Macbeth"; as the Duchess of York in "Richard III"; and the Abbess, AEmelia, in "The Comedy of Errors".

The all-Shakespeare bill at the Playhouse this season will be presented in repertory.

It begins with "Richard III", followed by "The Taming of the Shrew", "Twelfth Night", "Macbeth", and "The Comedy of Errors" on consecutive nights throughout the season.

With Mondays designated as days of rest for the players, this 400th anniversary season is scheduled to run to September 6.

The Irish Hills Playhouse, noted by President Lyndon B. Johnson's Shakespeare Anniversary Committee as one of the places to see Shakespeare's works performed this season, is located on US-12, eight miles west of Clinton, Michigan.

Is Re-Appointed

Mel Partridge, Tecumseh businessman and long-time member of the Tecumseh Cemetery Association, was re-appointed to the board Monday night by Council.

'Taming of Shrew' Set Rapid Pace at Hills Playhouse

By PAT KURETH

After an unforeseen delay in curtain time, the Irish Hills Playhouse production of "The Taming of the Shrew" opened Wednesday at a fast pace and kept it throughout the performance of Shakespeare's bawdy, tempestuous, and hilarious play-within-a-play.

Directed by Dr. Robert Cagle of Bradly University resident-director at Irish Hills Playhouse, this production proves again his sure skill and imagination in directing comedy.

Playing to a less-than-capacity audience did not dampen the spirit and verve with which all the players performed their roles.

Phillip Piro, as the drunkard Christopher Sly for whom the inner play is performed as part of a ruse by which he is made to believe he is a nobleman who has been ill for many years, immediately set the pace and the audience's expectations for an entertaining performance to follow the short introductory scene.

Brooke Maddux, as the hostess who accompanied Sly in his revels, aided measurably in making the introduction a success.

☆

Laura Seager, who at 16 is no longer considered an apprentice at the theatre, demonstrated her growth in versatility as an actress in playing the dual role of a bawdy actress and theostensibly sweet-natured Bianca, younger sister to the shrewish Katerine. The transitions were skillful and convincing.

Petruchio was played by George Wright. To anyone who saw him perform at the Irish Hills Playhouse last summer, or at Wayne State University's Bonstelle Theatre last winter, that is all one need say to let you know the role was exceptionally well played.

☆

VICTOR Raider-Wexler, as Petruchio's bumbling, insolent servant Grumio, almost overplayed his role, but he is, withal, too skilled an actor to have gone far beyond the limits necessarily imposed by interaction with other players on stage.

Judith Ann Holmes played the ill-tempered Kate convincingly. She sustained and regulated her energies and enthusiasm to meet the changing character of Kate.

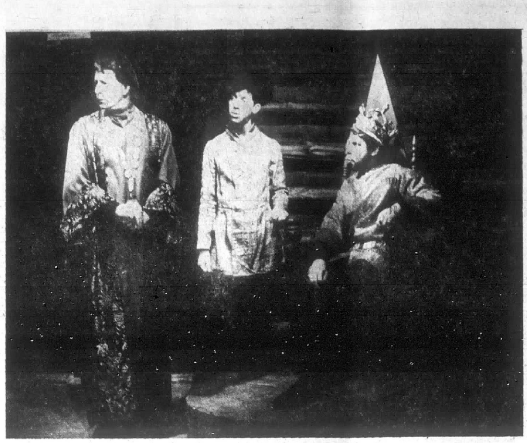
In the final scene, however, the subdued Kate's voice was altogether too subdued, and much of the discourse on the duties of a wife toward her husband was lost to the audience. That may be just as well, however, considering modern woman's views on the subject.

Dorothy Cobb Burns, costumer and co-producer, used Edwardian dress in costuming this production. Many were from a private collection of period costumes.

A notable exception was Kate's fifth act gown created by guest designer Miss Totie Samuelson.

☆

THE OPENING of "Twelfth Night" viewed the following night, should have been delayed a fortnight.



RICHARD III — On June 30 Irish Hills Shakespeare Festival opened ith third season of professional repertory theatre with the production of Shakespeare's Richard III. In the above scene, from left to right are, Dr. Robert Cagle, the Playhouse resident director, Phillip Piro, center, and Victor Raider-Wexler, right, as Richard the Third. The play will run in repertory throughout the summer season. Opening night curtain is at 8:30 p.m.

The 'Big Lineup'

(Editor's note — This is the final article on the World's Fair in a series of three by Mrs. Robert Murray, who left with Mrs. Tom Corkery Monday for a junket to the west coast and more adventure. See this week's Long & Short column.)

By MRS. ROBERT MURRAY

Up and at 'em once more, this time for the other side of the coin, Fair going at its worst — the "big-lineup".

Save these for the end of the day, when the crowds have thinned, the shadows longer, the lines shorter and the temperatures cooler.

Ford and General Motors are among the best exhibits, but if you have only one hour of waiting time on your list, line up in front of the General Motors Building.

It is truly fabulous, worth visiting many times. (Their exhibit at the last World's Fair in New York was considered tops, too). After a half-hour look at the world of the future, during which time you glide along in solid seated comfort.

Now that you are rested, skip over to the DuPont Building. Get in line. It will be 9 p.m., and you are just in time for the fireworks and the exhibit of the Dancing Fountain right in front of the DuPont exhibit.

You will have so much fun watching this dazzling outdoor display that you will actually regret reaching the end of the line with the show outside still going on.

But the show inside is worth seeing, too. All of the exhibits at the Fair close at 10 p.m., so you must be inside by then.

☆

WHEN YOU come out, take one last look at this beguiling, bewitching, many - splendored thing by way of the Swiss Sky Ride — 75c each way.

The New York World's Fair of 1964, softly lit from one end to the other is a sight to dazzle even the most sophisticated eye.

Sometime during the day, if you have your children with you, visit the entertainment section and you will never escape without a ride in the dare-devil, breath-taking log flume ride, which finds you safely deposited in the center of a hollowed-out log, into a watery runway and over a daring precipe — strictly not for those with high blood pressure or heart conditions!

If at the end of your visit to the Fair you are still financially solvent, stay for a day in New York City and see some of the wonders offered by one of the world's greatest cities.

For example, the Guggenheim Museum has the finest collection of Van Gough's paintings and drawings. They will remain in New York for the summer, especially loaned for the World's Fair.

In the Fall they will be placed in a museum being built especially for them, and they will never again leave Europe. This exhibit is so awe-inspiring, it is worth the trip to New York just to see it.

A half-hour away by foot is Columbus Circle, and Huntington Hartford's new museum. The curators have spent two years assembling an exhibit that should prove competition to the Fair for Art lovers.

☆

STILL NOT TIRED? Head north and make a quickie tour of New England, staying close to the shoreline for fine ocean swimming, and views of the quaint fishing villages including Mystic Seaport.

New England has a flavor all its own and it is a most refreshing one. Spend a day retracing the Freedom Trail in Boston, stopping at Sturbridge Village, Boston Mass. and head west the next day, spend the night at Niagara Falls, and back to Tecumseh the next day.

For your children it will be the experience of a lifetime, and for the parents, a post-graduate course in American History, enough to make you rise in the morning with a new sense of pride in being an American.

You are now listing several hundred reasons why you cannot go to the Fair, and beginning to feel sorry for yourself. Don't. Fight, even if its for a weekend.

☆

GO TO THE Fair. If you are a secretary supporting an aged mother or have many small children, leave hubby or wife in charge,, or a friend, depart from the Greyhound Bus terminal in Adrian at 7:45 p.m. Friday after you have tucked the kids in bed, curl up with a favorite book and by the time you wake up it will be 12:25 noon, New York City time.

Go upstairs in the terminal, take a long hot shower—50c—stow all your gear in a locker, and you will be at the Fair in a half hour. Your bus ticket will cost you $40, take $10 to spend (save it out of the grocery money, baby-sit for it, clean your neighbor's basement, paint his house, but save the money somehow!) you will leave New York City at 1:45 Saturday, and be back in Adrian at 4 p.m. Sunday.

Greyhound offers a special five-day excursion for $74 that is worth looking into. Its later than you think. Start planning now. Go. Go. Go. And enjoy!

Apartment Job Starts

A new apartment dwelling would probably start in August seemed assured Monday night with the first unit finished late when Council approved changing this fall.

the zoning of a lot on Cairns St. from Highway Business to Multiple Dwelling.

They told councilmen that the dwelling would be of colonial architecture of quality construction.

James Williamson, who, with his mother, as investors in the building, and an architect, all from Detroit, said construction

Rentals are expected to vary from $125 to $175 per month with some services furnished.

Petition Seeks City Annexation

City Council accepted a petition Monday night from Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Carpenter for annexation to Tecumseh.

Referral will now be made to Tecumseh Township for completion of the transfer of property.

The Carpenters are planning a new motel near their restaurant on W. Chicago Blvd., and have requested annexation to secure city sewer and water.

Rotary Unit Wins Trophy

One of the two Tecumseh Rotary Bowling teams participating in the Michigan Rotary Bowling Convention at Alma came home with a trophy for high series this year.

Those on the winning team were Robert H. Moore, Harry Beland, Ken Conway, Edwin Wight of Clinton and Clayton Greenwald.

Those on the other participating team were Roy Olson, Bob Leathers, Bob French, Andrew Woodward and Vern Manwaring.

Mr. Wight was awarded a trophy for a high series of 600.

'Big D' Is Huge, But Loaded with Small Town Atmosphere

(Editor's note — Among delegates from Tecumseh to the national Junior Chamber of Commerce convention in Dallas were Mr. and Mrs. James Fielder. A Tecumseh Herald staff writer, she tells of Big D and the JC gathering.)

By JUDY FIELDER

DALLAS, Texas — A huge city, sprawling over an area as large as Lenawee County, Big D retains a small town atmosphere even with all its spaciousness.

At the center of the metropolis soar a few skyscrapers, six at the most with modern expressways leading downtown from all directions.

To a newcomer, they emit the sensation of yarn strands straggling in from all directions, knit together at the heart.

Getting lost is like everything else in Texas — big!

The first time we ventured from our motel, it took us nearly three hours to find a location on the main route that would normally take 15 minutes.

That was part of the fun because it gave us an opportunity to see many parts that we may have otherwise missed.

☆

IT WAS A surprise to view lush green lawns and many trees, for being an inexperienced traveler, I had expected a hot dusty barren wasteland, surviving only through irrigation.

Far from it, Dallas in June had a warm dry atmosphere with temperature during our stay seldom topping 95 degrees.

Soft breezes wafted in the evening.

Dallas, as everywhere, is having a building boom.

New homes and apartments are being constructed with interesting architectural designs— Early American and other styles — many with gingerbread trim.

Cedar shingle roofs had us pondering the nature of the Texas wood supply, still thinking of this state as a wasteland.

We later learned that the Lone Star republic has enough forests to cover 12 of the eastern states.

"It also has more inland water than any other state in the nation with the exception of Alaska," said Gov. John Connally during his speech to United States Chamber of Commerce convention delegates.

☆

CLEAR SKIES with bold sun — far different than Michigan's humidity diffused rays — beamed down on rose bushes in full bloom everywhere.

Trees covered with pink blossoms larger than lilacs, and huge red canna blossoms decorated every park and many homes.

The multi-colored gladioli were also a sight to behold.

When we arrived at this southwestern town, which has been dragged through the mud in recent months, we were greeted by warmth and hospitality.

The convention started with a get-acquainted barbecue and rodeo. We filled up chuck-wagon style, then attended bronc bustin' in a huge air conditioned indoor arena on the State Fairgrounds.

The Fairgrounds are immaculate and spectacular, with modern-artistic buildings. The Woman's building where we ate was faced completely with stone insert panels depicting womanhood and her life's work. It overlooked a large pond surrounded by lawn and trees. Gardens were bountiful.

☆

TUESDAY MORNING the business started. Nine thousand young people generate intense enthusiasm — almost too much to comprehend.

The fact that this is a presidential election year, plus a time of civil and states rights controversies, seemed to instill in every person an increased desire to talk to others from distant parts of the nation.

It was not unusual to have a complete stranger from Florida or Louisiana walk up and say "What do you think of President Johnson?" or "What's the true feeling on Civil Rights in the north?"

At one luncheon I sat with Texas women and one asked my opinion of the president and other candidates, which I gave wholeheartedly (Talking up Gov. Romney just a little bit too).

When I had finished telling her my feelings toward the president, which are not bad, but held a few barbs, she softly said, "He's my cousin — but I really appreciate your opinion because I'm so much pro-Johnson that it's hard to comprehend what others are thinking."

And under the table I went.

Yet this example shows the general air of the convention. People didn't want to argue — they just wanted to know how others felt.

We learned a lot in a single week, meeting people from all points of the U. S. and hearing the controversial governor of Alabama, George Wallace, speak, also Texas Governor John Connally.

(Continued Next Week)

Cheryl Aebersold Wins 4-H Honor

Cheryl Aebersold was selected 4-H member of the month for the North Franklin Hustlers.

The parent advisory committee made the choice at the home of Floyd Beatty.

Cheryl will compete for 4-H member of the month for Lenawee.

A game of kick ball was played preceding the meeting.

Mary Ann Woodward and Cheryl told of their trip to Iowa as 4-H county ambassadors.

They were among 30 from the county who went to Iowa with four counselors, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sherman.

☆

DURING THE time they were there, Miss Aebersold said that a tornado did about a million dollars worth of damage.

She and her host family suffered no loss but many others in the area lost buildings.

The residents were prepared for the blow and escaped injury in their storm cellars.

While there the group toured Boystown in Nebraska and the Omaha stockyards, the largest in the world.

Emblems were distributed to those who ordered them.

Mrs. Floyd Jacobs served refreshments. The next meeting will be held at the home of Patti and Cheryl Aebersold.

Debbie Cote won a blue ribbon for her single dramatic novelty number in the district 4-H Share-The-Fun Festival July 3 at Adrian's First Methodist Church.

She did a pantomime of "Blame It On The Bossa Nova."

The Holloway Homemakers also came up with a first in the competition with their comedy-skit, "Cinderella."

The contest included best acts from four counties — Lenawee, Washtenaw, Monroe and Lapeer — with winners going to the state show.

Susan Payne of the Homemakers will also appear at the state show in August, performing in the speech division.

There is no competition at the state show, but the winners perform during the evening programs before some 3,000 people, according to Ray Gillespie, county agent.

Off To South America

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Gregg King, 411 S. Adrian St., was ready and waiting June 27 to depart for South America with the Michigan Youth Chorale of 1964.

After three nine-hour days of intensive rehearsal, climaxing a winter of weekly practice sessions in Ann Arbor, Gregg seemed well prepared for the grueling tour.

With Dick Allison of Ypsilanti, who was Gregg's host last week, he boarded a chorale bus from Ann Arbor for New York, where the group presented two concerts at the World's Fair.

Leaving Kennedy Airport at 7:30 p.m. June 29, stopping at Port of Spain, Trinidad, they expected to arrive in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, at 10:45 a.m. Tuesday.

Gregg's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert King, Jr., wonder if he was allowed aboard the plane with the six pounds of Petoskey rock, given him by Dr. William Hewes of Adrian to be used for swapping.

The 66-member Chorale ensemble of southeastern high school students will live in six different homes in as many different countries during this seventh international summer concert tour.

It is the third chorale visit to Latin America, where a series of programs ranging from performances in schools and community centers to formal concerts in major music houses and on national television will be given.

☆

AN INTERESTING letter came to the King residence Monday after Gregg had left from his host brother in Rio de Janeiro.

It read in part, "My name is Paulo Liberman, 20, and presently I'm having tests in the Law College of the University of Brazil. You are wondering how did I get to be your host?

"When asked if I could host an American student, I promptly accepted and so they gave me applications to choose one.

"When yours came to my hands and I read the name TECUMSEH, I decided that one would be it. Reason? Lately, I have been working for a refrigeration company and the Tecumseh material is our machine's main part.

"So, you will be here as a visitor from Tecumseh, Michigan, and you will be seeing a lot of Tecumsehs, for a change.

"If there are any interesting catalogs or prospectus of Tecumseh products, I would be very glad if you could bring them to me."

(Of course, Gregg was already on his way.)

☆

"I WAS AWARDED an American Field Service scholarship during the school year of 1961-62 and lived one year in Riverside, Calif. My stay was wonderful and since then I have considered those people my own family.

"I would like you, if possible, to bring me two 'penths' (did I spell it write?) One Lee Blue Jeans (zipper) and one Lee (or Levis) white jeans. My measures are, waist(36 inches and length, more than 36 inches. (Wow, what a big boy!)

"Please, Gregg, don't think I am abusive. This is my way to be, I am very sincere all time. How wonderful it is to be naturally friendly with friends all over the world for since my American Field Service year I keep in contact with about 25 different countries, all friends that I met in the states.

"My folks are also anxious to meet you. My regards to your family.

"Sincerely, Paulo."

☆

THROUGH THEIR personal contacts and the performances, Youth Chorale members serve as teenage ambassadors, encouraging understanding and friendship with people of other countries.

The Youth Chorale is one part of the Youth for Understanding Teenage Exchange Program sponsored by the Michigan and Ann Arbor-Washtenaw Council of Churches.

Youth for Understanding — in cooperation with the International Education Division of the United States Department of State — also carries on student exchanges between Michigan and other Midwestern states and countries of Europe, Latin America and Asia.

Housing and programs are arranged in each community by local committees.

Interpreting the United States to people of other countries is one of the basic purposes of the Youth Chorale; its repertoire emphasizes United States composers and United States folk songs and includes selections from Classical and romantic periods, Broadway musicals and "pop" songs.

☆

ROBERT PRATT, present conductor of the Youth Chorale, is chairman of the Music Department and the Department of Humanities of Ann Arbor High School.

He studied at Oberlin Conservatory of Music and at the University of Michigan from which he received a Master's Degree in Music Education.

Mr. Pratt directs choral and theatrical groups and performs as an oratorio soloist throughout Michigan.

Mrs. Pratt is traveling with the Youth Chorale. The Pratts and their three children live in Ann Arbor.

Others traveling with the Chorale include Otto Brown, assistant conductor; Alden Schell, accompanist; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Johnson from the Ann Arbor-Washtenaw Council of Churches, Lois Ulrich, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Thomas, Stephen Young, counselors, and Mrs. Rachel Andresen, executive director of the program.

Landscape Project Will Include 12 Bird Feeders

Bird feeders are on display at the Adrian Federal Savings and Loan building this month by the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

Twelve are to be installed around the nursing home and will be kept filled by the Auxiliary members. They hold two and one-half pounds of seed.

One of these feeders has been donated in memory of Gary Marsh.

The cost for the feeder and installation is $10.

Cement and a watering system is being completed and planting is scheduled for the fall.

☆

AT PRESENT the Memorial Fund has $1,000 to put toward the complete landscape project and the Hospital Auxiliary has $2,000 toward the entire cost of $12,000.

The Auxiliary is planning on more donations to complete the still-needed $9,000.

Conduct pipes and other types of trash containers are being placed by the benches on the lawns to eliminate the possibility of litter.

Spiritual Baptism

Spiritual baptism will be emphasized at all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

"Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God" (Matt. 5) is the Golden Text which will begin the Bible Lesson on "Sacrament".

Golfers Offered Deal: 18 Holes, Use of Cart, Big Dinner for $6

The Professional Archers Association has chosen Irish Hills Sports Park, owned by Gene Sell of Blissfield, as the site of the national professional championship tournament July 10, 11 and 12.

The Irish Hills Sports Park, located in the scenic Irish Hills on US-12 and 15 minutes from Tecumseh, is one of the most complete recreational centers in the country.

Features such as lighted day or night skiing, one of the few lighted regulation golf courses in the country, and the beautiful lodge and clubhouse nestled in 200 acres of picturesque terrain, has made this site most adaptable to all archery activities now being planned on all levels from the beginner to the professional.

Over 100 such notables in the archery world as Bill Bednar, Dave Keaggy, Sr., Bill Partin, Margaret Tillberry, James Palmer, Jack Sauls, Carl Heindrick, Ann Clark and many others will be competing for the $5,000 purse.

These personalities from all over the country are champions in national, state, regional and all other archery activities.

The public is welcome to observe the nation's top archers in action.

☆

MR. SELL, a native of Clinton, bought the property 16 years ago.

A graduate of Clinton High School, he obtained a bachelor degree from the University of Michigan in general science and another bachelor's in accounting from the University of Toledo. He has progressively improved the Sports Park until it is one of the finest in the state.

The golf course is both the oldest and most unique in the county. It is not long but tough to score on because of hills, trees, and small greens.

When the Sells — Gene and his wife, Alice — visited the Park in the winter several years ago they were overwhelmed with the numbers of people who were using the area for winter sports and asking for a ski tow.

☆

NOW THE lighted Park offers year-around pleasures with a most complete club house with cocktail lounge, restaurant, ski rental of 500 sets of equipment, golf pro shop and cafeteria, fireplaces and deck overlooking 90 percent of the area.

Many people like to eat on the deck viewing the No. 1 tee directly below them. The chef specializes in charcoal broiled steaks, sea food, gourmet buffets and smorgasbord.

The building is air conditioned for the comfort of the guests and equipped for banquet and other group meals.

Power carts are the newest installation at the Sports Park. They will be used for golf as well as archery.

☆

MR. SELL has dreamed up a real special package for golfers this year. He is offering nine holes of golf with a two-man cart, dinner — choice of steak or seafood — followed by another nine holes under the lights with a two-man cart, all for $6.

Mr. and Mrs. Sell have four children, Carol, 4; Gary, 11 and twins, Claudia and David, who will be 9 this month.

VIRGIL EISENMANN

Eisenmann Enters House Seat Race

With less than 18% of the population left from the original Monroe-Lenawee County Senate District, Virgil E. Eisenmann of Blissfield has decided to withdraw from the Republican Senate race.

He will enter the Republican race for the House of Representatives from the Lenawee County District.

This includes all of Lenawee County, except the townships of Woodstock, Cambridge, Franklin and the Village of Addison.

Mr. Eisenmann, born on a Monroe County farm in 1917, a Blissfield High School math teacher for nine years and life insurance agent says: "Due to the Democratic "gerrymandering," I feel that in the House of Representatives I will have an opportunity to serve, without moving and leaving my close neighbors, a greater number from the original senatorial district than in my new one."

Living on a farm near Palmyra, which his two sons operate, Mr. Eisenmann says the one-man, one-vote may be alright in one body of the Legislature but not in both.

"When they say you represent people not land, they forget that the land produces the food and fiber on which we live. If we have strictly one-man, one-vote we will be reverting back to the European system of Peasantry."

☆

FOLLOWING UP his bachelor degree from Eastern Michigan University with a master's degree from Michigan State, Mr. Eisenmann has also studied at Spring Arbor College, Adrian College, Toledo University and the University of Michigan.

In 1959 and 1960 he received grants from the National Science Foundation to study math at the University of California at Los Angeles and the University of Nebraska at Lincoln.

Mr. Eisenmann believes that more state support should be given to education, which will require a revision of the tax structure so that less of the load is on real estate.

He feels that laws with regard to handling of juvenile offenders needs revision. Mr. Eisenmann says, "These cases should not be hushed up so that they can come back among their paers and tell it themselves as if they were a big shot."

Married in 1939 to the former Helen Lipp of Blissfield, the Eisenmanns have four children.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Miller of Belleville have moved into 504 Jackson St., for a month then they will be living at 310 S. Franklin St. after that.

12 Elected Boys State Officials

Twelve boys from the Tecumseh area were elected to city and county offices in elections held at the American Legion 27th Wolverine Boys State.

The youths were chosen from the 1161 teenagers from all parts of the State of Michigan, who participated in the annual "51st State", which was designed to instruct and educate the boys in the principles and values of a democratic and constitutional form of government.

The two simulated political parties, Federalist and Nationalists, loudly caucused in direct imitation of national conventions at this "learn by doing" seminar in Democracy.

Youths selected to attend the eight-day American Legion sponsored conclave were chosen for their qualities of leadership and good citizenship.

Wolverine Boys' State goes beyond politics to include glee club performances, organization and operation of a newspaper, softball games, a swimming clinic, variety show and many other activities.

THE BOYS from this area elected to offices were:

John P. Hayden, Supreme Court justice.

Don Baird, City Council of Jackson and Board of Trustees of MSU.

Dan Vollmar, Supreme Court justice.

Jim Lawson, head judge of Court of Appeals.

Tom Elliott, U.of M. Board of Regents.

Steve Derby, Board of Governors of Wayne State U.

Dennis C. McClure, County Judge of Appeals.

Gregg McEnroe, County Sheriff.

Gregg Allen, Street Commissioner and State delegate to convention.

Bob Glenn, City Councilman.

David Porteous, City Recreation director.

Frank Choske, County Board of Supervisors of Begole County.

Information on price-support rates for wheat stored in terminals is available at the ASCS county office.

The chairman explained that this support will be available to all growers who stay within their farm's 1964 wheat allotment.

A grower who, in addition, signed up before the May 22 deadline and who carries out all other provisions of the 1964 wheat program, will be able to qualify also for marketing certificates on a large part of his crop which could bring as much as one-third more income for his wheat.

Ann Arbor Man Runs for Senate in New District

State Representative Gilbert E. Bursley (R. Ann Arbor), who in March announced his candidacy for the State Senate, indicated that the new redistricting action of the Supreme Court will have no bearing on his intention to run.

The new 18th Senatorial District now comprises all of Washtenaw County (172,000) population) and the eastern tier of townships in Lenawee County including Tecumseh, Clinton and Blissfield (33,000 population).

"I am delighted to have the opportunity to represent almost half of the citizens of Lenawee County. I hope to be able to meet many of them in coming weeks by campaigning actively throughout the 18th district portion of Lenawee County.

FINE CORN CROP — This year has been perfect for corn, way beyond the knee-high-by-Fourth-of-July ditty. This corn belongs to Ray Winzeler, 605 S. Occidental Hwy. Posing among the husky stocks is Mrs. Harry Naugle of Comfort Rd., who was at the home of her folks to take care of her two horses. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Mobley, 304 Southwestern Dr., which adjoins a portion of the Winzeler's 70 acres of corn.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

THE LITTLE FOXIES

I hardly know where to begin — there has been so much squirrel activity lately that actually there is no logical starting point. We are hosting four young fox squirrels and they are regular little clowns. There are at least two adult squirrels around, too, possibly more. The way the corn disappears we seem to be feeding a whole army; six ears at a time are put out and they never last over half a day.

Mind now, we are not complaining about this 'being eaten out of house and home' — their wonderful antics are more than full payment.

One of our first observations is that juvenile squirrels, just as young boys and girls, seem to have hollow legs. There is no filling them up.

The ear of corn on the fence is, of course, the easiest to manage, then comes the corn tree and finally, hardest of all, is the feeding station.

When, as about half-grown, skinny youngsters with absurdly long bushy tails, they discovered the joys of our yard, the post and rail fence was fun but not challenging.

At this stage they were still a rather closely-knit family group and often two would play together much as small puppies do.

Scampering along the rails, jumping up and down, they usually wound up rolling on the ground. Even a big leaf would turn into a plaything.

☆

THE DAY that the most adventuresome one discovered the corn-tree started a new era of squirrel watching.

The four ears of corn were prizes worth struggling for and believe me, struggle is the proper word. Even today it takes much climbing and twisting and turning and stretching.

They go through all sorts of acrobatics, splits, somersaults, even standing on their heads.

A big thrill was the time when two foxies decided they could share the corn-tree — there they sat, close together with backs to us and long tails hanging right straight down, each lunching on his own ear of corn.

Although we have heard and read much about Mother Squirrel teaching her youngsters, there were, unfortunately, no such lessons in our view.

In fact the adult squirrels seemed to ignore the little ones with one exception.

The big female, whom we thought was the mother of at least some of the quartet, spent a little time with the smallest of group. They dined together and then came — we thought junior was in trouble. His mother knocked him out of the tree and we expected to see a fight.

She jumped on the still flat youngster but instead of biting scratching, she licked and fondled him. How nice — a bath after lunch.

☆

NOW, OF COURSE, the feeder is no problem but, when they first started trying to come up, it was a formidable climb.

Some of them couldn't even make it but would get half-way up the post and have to scramble back down.

Once the climb was mastered, we were treated to wonderful teenage-type antics on the feeding tray itself. The long legged, gangly 'kids' are so awkward and clumsy.

The positions they can twist themselves into must be seen to be believed.

They drape themselves over the ears of corn — it is either the casual approach or they are just too, too tired to sit up; if the sunflower head has been pushed to the edge of the feeder, one of the little guys has become an expert at hanging upside down, hanging on with only his two big hind feet.

So it is that the laughter heard coming from this, the west end of Logan Street at Evans Creek is caused by the actions of the little foxies.

Miller - Papp Vows Spoken

White gladioli, chrysanthemums, palms and beauty vases filled with more white blossoms and lavender delphiniums were used to enhance the Emmanuel Lutheran Church for the wedding of Janet L. Papp and Larry E. Miller July 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Papp, 11644 Ridge Rd., are the parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miller, 9228 Hoagland Rd., Britton, are parents of the groom.

The Rev. Thomas Drobena performed the ceremony before 500 guests seated by Kenneth Perry, Jerry Benedict and Gerald Papsworth.

William Hetrick was the soloist with Mrs. William Raeburn at the organ.

The bride wore a floor-length sheath gown of white silk organza with full chapel train, scoop neckline and three quarter sleeves.

Her fingertip veil was secured to a crown of crystals and pearls.

She carried pink sweetheart roses with snowdrift pompons and ivy.

Mrs. Dale Monagin, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Clifford Haas, Norma Cottrell and Annette Miller, sister of the groom.

All wore floor-length dresses with bell skirts of blue peau de soie and the bodices were white with blue embroidering. They wore pill box hats with small veils.

The bride's attendants carried butterflies formed with lavender satin wings, purple and blue aster bodies and pink roses and blue pompons.

Lori Monagin, niece of the bride, was the flower girl in similar attire and carrying a basket of white flowers.

Dale Monagin served as best man.

Johnny Vershum, cousin of the groom, was the ring bearer.

A reception was held at the Tecumseh Products Workers Union Hall where the bride's table was covered with blue net over white linen.

The couple are both graduates of the Britton-Macon High School and the bride is a junior at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti. They will make their home at K-11 Pine Grove Apartments there.

Guests attended from Detroit, Ann Arbor, Midland, Rochester, Adrian, Tecumseh, Britton and Norwalk, O., and Milwaukee, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miller were hosts for the rehearsanl dinner Friday evening at Don's Beef Buffet.

Oral Polio Vaccine Mass Immunization Here in Oct., Dec.

Tecumseh will be the scene of two of 14 feeding stations in Lenawee County for the mass immunization with oral polio vaccine scheduled this fall in Lenawee County.

The dates of the two feedings of sugar cubes are Sundays, Oct. 4 and Dec. 6.

The goal is to immunize all of the approximately 80,000 people who live in Lenawee County, Milton Porter, county school superintendent and general chairman of the program, said.

The project is sponsored by the Lenawee County Medical Society.

Dr. Robert Greiner of Adrian is representing the physicians on the planning committee.

Also taking part will be nearly 500 others, including nurses, pharmacists, doctors, Boy Scouts, labor unions, short wave radio operators, Gray Ladies and volunteers. The Lenawee Health Department also will assist.

☆

A DONATION of 50c per person will be asked from all receiving the vaccine.

Medical society officials said, however, that no one will be refused the vaccine because of inability to pay.

Two drops of trivalent vaccine, manufactured by Lederle Laboratories of Pearl River, N. Y., will be put on the sugar cube given each person to eat.

The frozen vaccine will be flown to the county directly from the manufacturer, packed in dry ice. It will be transported to a central headquarters for storage until the mornings of the two clinics.

☆

DOCTORS stressed that for total immunization a person must have both of the doses, about eight weeks apart.

Age is no barrier and even children under six months are to be included.

A child less than six months, however, needs a booster in about a year.

The hours of the clinics will be from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days.

☆

THE CLINICS were scheduled on Sundays, doctors said, with full realization that some people might object on religious grounds.

However, it was pointed out, other clinics in nearby counties have determined that Sundays are by far the best days for the majority of people.

It was pointed out the 50c cost per person is far less through mass immunization than if given by a private physician in his office.

Assisting Mr. Porter and Dr. Greiner on the general committee are Ted Delzeith of Blissfield and Dr. Eleanor Skufis.

Other feeding stations will be at Addison, Onsted, Hudson, Morenci, Deerfield, Blissfield, Tecumseh, Clinton and Adrian. Each will be staffed by about 30 persons.

Rifle Club Has Shooting Match

The Tecumseh Junior Rifle Club, under the supervision of George Racey, held a shooting match Saturday, June 27.

Eighteen members were present, divided into three groups according to their ability.

Each shooter shot 10 rounds of ammunition at each of four targets.

In class A the contenders shot in three positions, prone, sitting and kneeling.

In class B they shot in two positions, prone and sitting, and in class C, all four targets were shot in prone position.

Dick Brown took first place in Class A, Lee Hannibal came in second and Bob Brown edged Wayne Ruhl out of third place by one point.

In class B, Pam Chumney took first, Walter Zarnoch, second, and David Wegner, took third.

In class C, Ken Wright was first, Gary Fairbanks, second, and Flip Hardesty, third.

Medals were given for second and third places and trophies were given for first place in each class.

During the match, Dick Brown, the president of the club, shot 98 out of possible 100 in the prone position.

Pop was donated to the members and guests by Melvin Wegner, owner of Wegner's Market, and George Racey.

They Raise Scotties

Twenty-five years ago the Ronald Johnston got their first Scotch terrier.

From that day they were hooked.

"A Scotty has dignity, poise and is easy to train," Mrs. Johnston says. "It's a privilege to own one."

The Johnstons have never been without one since that first Scotty, having owned five adults during that span.

The breed is rare. Coming from Scotland, the short-legged, jet black terriers were originally hunters.

In the United States, the Scotty is mainly a house pet, or show dog. Mrs. Johnston notes, they're clean and well-mannered, not high strung.

In 1961, the Johnstons decided to breed Scotties and have found this a fascinating experience.

Their "Tam O' Shanter Hall-mark" recently presented the Johnstons with a litter of four. Although one died at three weeks, the others are healthy, happy pups.

Two have already been sold.

Bred from championship stock at the Anstamm Kennels in Kalamazoo, the pups go for about $100 each.

Previous litters have been pups sold to people in Toledo, Temperance, Blissfield, Clinton and Tecumseh. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hinkleman, 207 N. Maiden Lane, own a Scottie which was born to a Johnston-owned dog.

☆

MRS JOHNSTON points out that a Scottie owner should be well-versed in their care. Among other things, he should know how to trim them. There are two styles, pet and show.

The silky coat must be brushed each day. It doesn't take long for a pup to realize the daily brushing is part of his care and he soon comes to enjoy it.

With puppies in the house, Mrs. Johnston explains that should she and her husband be gone for more than a few hours, she calls on a Scotty-sitter to keep an eye on them, just as mothers with young children have baby sitters.

A new show breed of Scotties is emerging. Called a Wheaton, this Scotty has blonde coloring.

Some distant day, the Johnstons may go in for Wheatons.

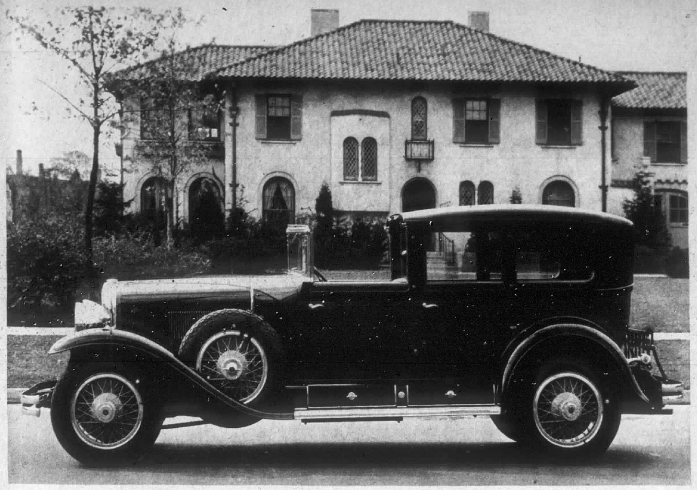
SINCE 1908

Body by Fisher Has Played Major Role in Auto Industry

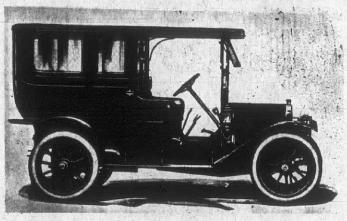


What a beauty! 1928 Cadillac Fleetwood Town Car with Body by Fisher.

Through the years, since its founding in 1908, Body by Fisher has been distinguished by its engineering excellence, manufacturing craftsmanship and painstaking attention to detail.

In the early days machine tools were comparatively crude. The steel industry was in its infancy and thin gauge sheets were unknown. Carriage and blacksmith shops were the scenes of the first body-building activities. Wagons and carriage bolts were the foundations on which were built the first runabouts and touring cars. Hence the famous nickname, "Horseless Carriage".

From the beginning, the story of Fisher Body became a story of technical progress. The founding Fisher brothers dreamed and planned and built the foundations of what is now the world's largest automobile-body engineering organization.



Mass production of closed bodies was pioneered with this 1910 model, built for Cadillac. It was Fisher Body's first "big" order---150 units.

They pioneered and developed the mass production of the closed body and delivered the first volume order of 150 such bodies to Cadillac in 1910. This order was supplied by a small Detroit plant containing about 167,000 square feet of floor space.

Since then Body by Fisher has developed many "firsts" designed for comfort and convenience. These include no-draft ventilation, the turret top, unisteel construction, hardtop engineering and the safety interlock for doors.

Many other refinements received an assist from Body by Fisher engineers. These include defrosting, cowl ventilation, safety-cushioned instrument panels, increased window dimensions, the use of plate safety glass, six-way adjustable seats, integrated body and fenders, keyless locking, push-button door releases, counter-balanced trunk lids, key release trunk locks, sound and weather insulation, Unisteel body construction, acrylic lacquer, and many others.

Today, to meet the body demands of Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick and Cadillac, the Fisher Body Division of General Motors operates ten stamping plants, seventeen assembly plants and six plants engaged in tooling, engineering and research work. Two plants are devoted to the fabrication of upholstery trim sets and some of the assembly plants include this in their operations. Fisher Body also supplies seven additional General Motors assembly plants in this country and 14 foreign plants. These Fisher Body plants contain more than 30,000,000 square feet of floor space.

Fisher Body's central administration, engineering and research activities are located in a 1,300,000 square foot facility at the General Motors Technical Center in Detroit.

At the end of 1963, Fisher Body had built bodies for approximately 63,120,000 automobiles — and as many as 4,000,000 bodies in a single year.

Fisher Body was founded in the belief that new engineering knowledge backed by scientific testing and analysis was needed in the development of bodies for power-driven vehicles.

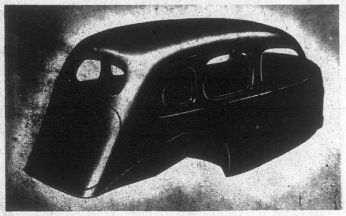
In addition to design and product engineering staffs, Fisher Body maintains large engineering groups devoted to experimental and development work, textiles, plastics, process development, dies and tools, plant engineering and layout, manufacturing, material handling and advance research.

LOCATION

Fisher Body's general offices are located in two ultra-modern buildings at the new General Motors Technical Center northeast of Detroit, housing all Fisher Body central engineering and administrative functions and facilities together on a 192-acre site occupying 1,301,000 square feet of floor space.

The ten stamping plants, fabricating body parts are scattered throughout the northern industrial states. These are located in Pontiac, Grand Rapids, Grand Blanc and Flint in Michigan; Cleveland, Mansfield and Hamilton in Ohio; Pittsburgh, Pa.; Marion, Ind., and Chicago, Ill. A new metal fabricating plant is being constructed at Kalamazoo. The upholstery trim fabricating operations are located in Cleveland, Livonia, Grand Rapids and Detroit, with a new upholstery operation being built at Tecumseh.

Purchase of raw materials and the production of these fabricating plants must be correlated with the needs of the 36 domestic and foreign assembly plants.



A sensational Fisher development, the one-piece Turret Top, came in 1935. Fisher was the first to introduce such a top drawn and formed from sheet of seamless steel. "Unisteel" body came in 1936.

The domestic assembly plants are located in 15 cities and in nine states. These are Atlanta, Ga.; Baltimore, Md.; Framingham, Mass.; Tarrytown, N. Y.; Janesville, Wis.; St. Louis and Kansas City, Mo.; Los Angeles, Calif.; Detroit, Pontiac, Ypsilanti, Lansing and Flint (two plants), Mich.; and Norwood and Euclid, O., the last being devoted to station wagons and sedan delivery body assembly. A new assembly plant is under construction at Lordstown, O.

Fisher Body also supplies stampings for finished assembly to seven Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac Assembly Division plants located in Arlington, Tex.; Atlanta, Ga.; Linden, N. J.; Kansas City, Kan.; Fremont and South Gate, Calif.; and Wilmington, Del.

Foreign plants served by the Fisher Body Division of General Motors are located in Canada, Belgium, Denmark, Switzerland, South Africa, Mexico, Philippines, Venezuela and Australia.

OPERATIONS

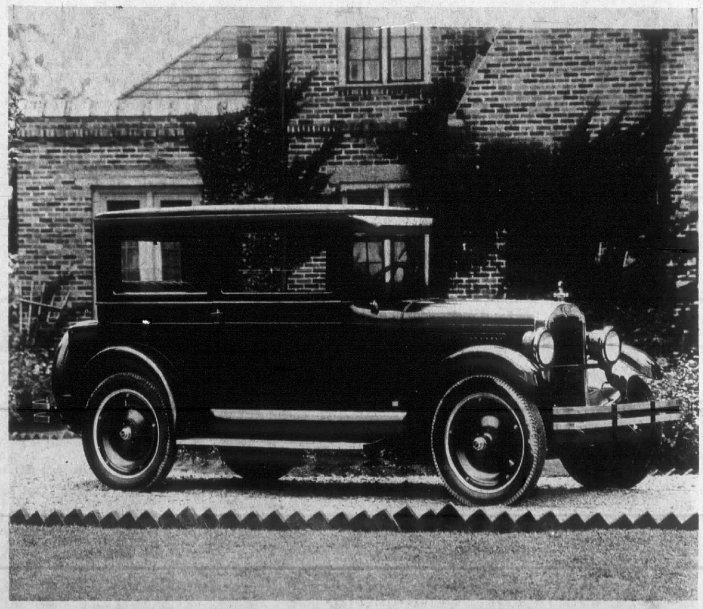
Designing, fabricating and assemblying are the three stages a Fisher Body goes through in becoming part of a General Motors car.

First comes the stylist's conception. Then, a reduced model is developed into a full size model. Finally, basis outline drawings are given to the body engineers. Tools and dies are designed and made. Manufacturing operations are planned. Jigs and fixtures are constructed. A new body program is underway.

The many metal fabricating plants stamp out the component parts. The fabricating plants are essentially metal stamping and sub-assembly manufacturing operations which take in sheet steel and ship out the die-formed pieces of metal which becomes an automobile body.

Assembly plants take in these metal stampings, fabricated trim and hardware parts and assemble them into completed bodies.

These are the Bodies by Fisher featured on Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick and Cadillac automobiles.



This 1927 Olds Coach was made one year after Fisher became division of General Motors.

He's the Boss

Robert H. Gathman, vice president of General Motors and general manager of Fisher Body Division, was born October 4, 1910, in Beloit, Wis.

He began his General Motors career as a part-time payroll clerk at Fisher Body Plant No. 21, while attending Northwestern High School in Detroit.

Mr. Gathman entered General Motors Institute in Flint, Michigan, in 1928 and graduated in 1933. During his time at GMI, he did his cooperative training at the Fisher Body No. 1 plant in Flint, and at the Fleetwood plant and Works Engineering Department in Detroit. After graduation, he joined Fisher Body as a die engineer.

Experience in a wide range of responsibilities began a few months later when Mr. Gathman was made a plant layout engineer. In 1939 he joined the Fabricating Plants Staff as an engineer, and with the advent of World War II was transferred to defense production.

☆

DURING THE WAR, Mr. Gathman helped build aircraft at converted Fisher Body plants at Memphis, Tenn., and Cleveland, O., and was a supervisor in the aircraft section of the engineering department at Detroit.

When General Motors returned to peacetime production, Mr. Gathman temporarily served as a senior production engineer at Fisher General Offices until his appointment as master mechanic of the stamping plant at Hamilton, O., early in 1946. Following a series of transfers and promotions, he was appointed executive assistant to the general factory manager of all Fisher Body stamping plants in 1954.

Robert H. Gathman

This appointment coincided with the beginning of General Motors' postwar expansion and modernization program in which Mr. Gathman played an important role. Having been responsible for much of the planning for the building of two identical stamping plants at Marion Ind., and Mansfield, O., he was named manager of the new Mansfield plant and moved there in 1955 when construction got underway.

☆

HE WAS manager at Mansfield until September, 1958, when he was named general manufacturing manager of Fisher. He was appointed general manager of the Division and vice president of General Motors on May 1, 1963.

In addition to being a Trustee of Omega Epsilon fraternity at General Motors Institute, Mr. Gathman also has an active interest in GMI alumni activities.

Mr. Gathman was married to Virginia Thorpe in Detroit in 1935. They have four grown children and reside at 30 Harbor Hill in Grosse Pointe Farms.

Mr. Gathman is a second generation Fisher executive. His father, Monte, who now resides in Florida, was master mechanic at the time of his retirement in 1951.

Squirmin' Irma Will Be Working at Tecumseh Plant

Durability is the prime factor in the selection of hundreds of types of materials that are used in the interiors of today's automobiles. Because the seats in the car take the most abuse, engineers at Fisher Body Division of General Motors use a seat cycle test machine which they developed as a weapon to provide the utmost in punishment.

The seat cycle test machine, otherwise known as "Squirmin' Irma", tests the wearing qualities of car seat fabrics and paddings. Two 150-pound saddles, each of which represent Mr. Average Man, rest on the seat and are "squirmed" 25,000 times. Engineers have found that if the seat fabric survives this torture recipe, then it will survive rough use in the field. The saddles actually represent a 175-pound man because of the fact that much of human leg weight is supported by the floor of the car.

Here's Squirmin' Irma, otherwise known as seat cycle machine, which tests wearing qualities of seat fabrics and paddings.

In still another test, the saddles are bounced up and down on the front seat 65,000 times to test the durability of the springs and padding. The "bounce" test is run with 280 inch-pounds of energy in addition to the weight of the saddles.

To provide maximum frictional wear, the saddles are covered with a material that is much more abrasive than clothing worn by passengers.

But in addition to being durable, the interior of the automobile body must be a colorful, fashionable and comfortable dwelling place for its passengers.

☆

CLEARLY IN THE MINDS of Fisher Body's textile engineers are the countless women drivers who, accompanied by their children, do most of the nation's errands. The interior materials must be able to withstand the abuse of wet, muddy feet and the constant friction of passengers sliding in and out. Seat backs and door panels must be covered with a material from which soft ice cream and melted chocolate fingerprints can be rapidly and thoroughly removed. And there must also be a profusion of colors and patterns to suit milady's taste.

Fisher Body engineers and laboratory technicians, men and women designers from the GM Styling Staff, and sales executives spend many months selecting and testing the fabrics and other materials before they are introduced in a Body by Fisher.

Cloth, leather, carpet, vinyl and other interior material samples are sent to the engineering laboratory for exhaustive analysis by trained technicians. Here "Squirmin' Irma", along with her sister machines, subjects the materials to wear, tear, stretch, friction and fade tests to see if they meet rigid Fisher Body requirements.

With electric knives, workers in typical Fisher Body upholstery trim operation, slice cloth and fabrics. The materials have to be tough, able to withstand rugged use. In the new GM plant at Tecumseh, about half of the 1,000 employees will be women.

Since the materials used for automobile upholstery receive a great deal of concentrated use, they must measure up to standards that are set much higher than those for fabrics ordinarily used in the home. An automobile carpet, for example, receives much more hard use than a similar size piece of carpeting in the home.

☆

BEFORE PRODUCTION IS STARTED on a new order for fabrics, rigid specifications as to fibre content, weight, thread crossings, color fastness, strength and finish are given to the manufacturer. When the materials are received at the Fisher Body plants for installation in the car body, cuts of them are taken for additional tests to see if each individual roll of material meets the order specifications.

And so, many months after careful consideration is given to new model fabrics, sets of interior trim begin to come off the production line. By this time, the engineer, the stylist, the technician and the sales executive have all played an important role in providing the car owner with an interior of excellent quality and good looks — to suit his lady's fancy.
